President Names Stassen For New Cabinet Position

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower assigned Harold Stassen today to seek practical ways of cutting down world armaments in order to avert atomic disaster.

He created the new position of special presidential assistant, with full Cabinet rank, and named Stassen to it.

Stassen was charged with drafting recommendations which, if given top-level and congressional approval, "will become basic policy" on the question of disarmament, a White House announcement said.

The broad study will deal with all major weapons, including hydrogen and atomic bombs. All efforts to arrive at an atomic control system have failed so far. Russia balked at international inspection of the kind insisted upon by the United States.

The President, in announcing the recent U.N. conference at London on disarmament problems, brought "no progress."

The Stassen appointment is believed to be the first attempt by any nation to make disarmament the full responsibility of a top official.

Stassen, now director of the Foreign Operations Administration, told newsmen he will begin immediately to make "a more thorough and penetrating study of the entire question of disarmament than has ever been made before."

He said he will continue concurrently as head of FOA until the administration's foreign aid program has been passed by Congress, perhaps in June, then will resign. FOA itself is scheduled to go out of existence June 30, when its functions are to go to other agencies.

Stassen said the President made

British Advise Against Release Of Potsdam Talks

LONDON, March 19—UP—Britain has told the United States that the publication of the Potsdam conference papers would be inadvisable, the Foreign Office said Saturday night.

A spokesman said the United States consulted the British government on the proposed release of the secret account of the Potsdam conference even before publication of the documents on the Yalta conference.

The latter were released by Washington over Britain's objections.

"Our attitude is the same as in the case of the Yalta conference records," the spokesman said.

"The British view is that disclosure of the secret proceedings of these 1945 meetings is inadvisable so long as some of its participants are alive.

Britain also has expressed concern that passages taken out of their context might tend to distort the over-all picture, the spokesman said.

Churchill was replaced at the conference before its end by Clement Attlee, who became prime minister after the Labor party victory in the 1945 elections.

The United States has intimated to Britain that she intends to publish the entire record of the Potsdam talks. The Yalta papers publication was limited to a selection of documents and passages.

Boat Trailers Providing Target For Grevemberg

BATON ROUGE —UP— State Police Supt. Francis C. Grevemberg says his troopers plan to seize all unlicensed boat trailers being toted around on Louisiana highways.

Grevemberg said the trailers constitute a traffic hazard because many of them do not bear red rear reflectors, which are required on all vehicles.

"And most of them are not licensed," Grevemberg said. "Many of the five-day warning tickets we've given out have been ignored. Starting April 1, unlicensed trailers will be taken into custody until liscensed."

Bell Strike

New Vandalism Outbreaks Bring On Word Battle

ATLANTA, March 19 (AP)—Management and strikers sparred with statements today as new outbreaks of vandalism were reported in the sixth day of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike.

Negotiations were in recess for the weekend subject to call of the federal conciliator who is continuing talks with both sides.

In a weekend exchange of statements, the CIO Communications Workers of America said the company's refusal to submit grievances to arbitration is the principal issue in the strike, but there are others.

The company repeated its charge that the only issue blocking agreement is the union's demand for the right to call quickie strikes at any time.

New incidents of cable damage were reported in Alabama and Tennessee today and Atlanta detectives investigated an attempt to blast underground cables with a gasoline fire bomb.

The strike of CWA employes in nine states over a general wage increase began last Monday.

The company claimed it is maintaining good local service which is 85 per cent dial operated, and that "four-fifths of normal long distance business is being handled."

Denying responsibility for any property damage, CWA District Director W. A. Smallwood called on union members to help prevent vandalism.

Slashing of 23 circuits isolated the Hope Hull community near Montgomery, Ala., today. Earlier, service to Fort Deposit was cut off when a cable was severed south of Montgomery.

At Nashville, a shot fired into a cable put from 150 to 200 residential phones out of service.

Democrats Give Up Hope Of Cuts In Taxes For '55

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Key House Democrats conceded today that they probably have lost their big fight for an income tax cut at this session of Congress.

They said they will accept, perhaps by Friday, a Senate bill merely extending present corporation income and excise tax rates for one more year.

That would give President Eisenhower a major congressional triumph. But the Democrats already are planning to renew the battle next year, when there will be a presidential election campaign.

House Democrats originally drove through a bill over strong Republican opposition that would have given every taxpayer and dependent a $20 income tax reduction starting next Jan. 1. They tied this into Eisenhower's bill postponing for one year almost three billion dollars in corporation and excise tax cuts now set to take effect April 1, just 12 days away.

The Senate defeated the $20 a person tax cut and also a milder Democratic compromise proposal. It passed the straight extension of corporation and excise taxes, as requested by the President.

A Senate-House Conference committee is scheduled to meet Wednesday to adjust differences.

All Republicans and two senior Democratic senators on the Conference Committee—Sens. Byrd (Va) and George (Ga)—are opposed to any tax cut now in the face of an estimated $2,300,000,000 federal deficit next year.

Highly placed House Democrats said privately this would force their members to yield on the $20 tax cut issue or accept responsibility for letting the corporate and excise tax rates drop April 1.

They said their conferees probably would make a last-ditch effort for some sort of compromise, but they were not optimistic. And if that fails, they conceded, the House members of the Conference Committee eventually would accept the Senate bill.

Then they expect the committee recommendations to be approved quickly by both the House and Senate, probably with support from a majority of Democrats now that most of the steam has been taken out of the fight.

Democrats said they will hammer on the point that they fought

Sen. George Raps GOP; Sees Danger To Peace In Release Of Yalta Papers

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today publication of the Yalta record may make it difficult to arrange conferences to establish world peace.

George is a Democratic spokesman on foreign policy as head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He said in an interview he believes "real harm" has been done efforts to reach some peaceful settlement with Russia and its Communist allies.

"I regard the publication of these papers at this time as unfortunate," George said. "This action will make it difficult to have conferences with those nations with whom conferences must be had if we are to make progress toward world peace and stability.

"We have to have conferences with Russia. The only final alternative is war if diplomacy doesn't work."

On the other hand, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said he foresees highly beneficial results from making public the record of the World War II meeting in the Crimea between Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, has been in the forefront of those charging that Roosevelt made concessions to the Russians which helped put Eastern Europe and China behind the Iron Curtain.

"If the disclosures discourage two or three nations from thinking they can sit down behind closed doors—with no responsibility to their elected representatives and to the people—and proceed to parcel out nations and peoples without their consent, they will have served their purpose," he declared.

"Whether it be at Yalta, Potsdam or Geneva, a useful purpose will be served if every official who participates in negotiations realizes that he has an ultimate accounting to the people and that his decisions will have to stand the light of history."

George, whose views serve as something of a barometer on Democratic support of administration foreign policies, said that publication of the Yalta record "tends to promote disunity at home at a time when unity is most needed."

He said political speeches are almost certain to keep the issue alive. He indicated he felt even

According to the forecast of goverment weather observers Louisiana will be partly cloudy today with widely scattered thundershowers. Higher temperatures are expected in the north portion. Scattered showers and local thunderstorms with accompanying temperature drops are predicted for Monday.

Arkansas is expected to be mostly cloudy and warmer today with accompanying scattered thundershowers. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are predicted for Monday with lower temperatures in the west portion.

CAA officials at the Selman Field station last night reported that the high for the day was 59 degrees. The low was 48 degrees.

20-Minute-Old Infant Kidnaped From Hospital

The mother was still in the delivery room. G. H. Dalrymple, administrator, said no one saw the woman enter or leave the hospital.

The baby's father is a refinery employe, George Wharton. Dalrymple quoted Wharton as saying he could think of no reason for the apparent kidnaping. The father said his family, including two other children, had no enemies and no family difficulties.

The baby had an identification tag. Mrs. Helen Mays, on duty in the nursery, said a woman dressed in a nurse's uniform approached her shortly after the infant was placed in a crib and said she was wanted at the business office. The woman said she would relieve Mrs. Mays while she was gone.

20 Feared Marooned By New Volcanic Eruptions

PAHOLA, Hawaii, March 19—UP Approximately 20 persons were feared cut off Saturday by a new eruption in the Kilaeua volcano field.

Volcanologist Dr. Gordon MacDonald expressed fear that the party had been cut off after he tried to take the same route to investigate new eruption reports and found it impassable due to smoke and sulphur fumes.

The group, including Honolulu Advertiser reporter Bob Monahan, went to the evacuated village of Kalapana Saturday morning. Then word was received here that a new lava flow was moving swiftly toward the Pahoa-Kalapana road.

MacDonald and an assistant drove out to check the report and found it was true. The two returned here to sound the alert and then headed back to the eruption area where they hoped by wrapping wet towels around their feet they could get through to warn Monahan and his party.

Advertiser reporter - photographer Gordon Morse said it was feared that the party had already left Kalapana to return here and might be surrounded by lava on some forest trail.

Civil defense director Peter Pakele said Monahan had gone with the group in two trucks to Kalapana to feed livestock and tend crops undamaged by the lava. They were scheduled to return to Pahoa at 4 p.m. (8 p.m. CST).

Two big columns of smoke were sighted from here shortly before noon indicating some kind of volcanic activity three miles southwest of a point known as Iiewa crater which is several thousand yards west of the most recent lava flows. It is about the same distance and direction from a cone which Monahan photographed Monday just as it erupted and was engulfed by lava.

Churchill's Retirement Expected During April

HELSINKI, Finland, March 19 —UP—Owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba told Red China Saturday that if she wants the vessel's cargo of jet fuel she'll have to "come and get it" somewhere outside Red China's territorial waters.

American sources in Hong Kong said the Chinese Communists have no tanker available in Far Eastern waters capable of handling a transfer of the prized jet fighter fuel.

The Aruba's owners said the vessel cannot proceed to Shanghai or any other Red Chinese port because the crew has rebelled against attempting to run the Chinese Nationalist blockade of the Red Chinese coast.

Nationalist China has warned that she would seize or sink the Aruba to prevent the fuel from reaching Red air bases within range of Formosa and its offshore islands.

The Aruba's crew has served notice it will not sail the tanker beyond the Nicobar Islands, off India. Gunnar Damstroem, president of the firm owning the ship said the crew's rebellion makes delivery of the fuel, as contracted, impossible.

Damstroem said his firm has been attempting to find out what the Red Chinese want done with the disputed cargo.

But the only word from Peiping Saturday was a propaganda blast by the Communist New China news agency charging that the Aruba incident proves "the desperate and criminal" efforts of the United States to cripple international trade.

Damstroem suggested a solution might be the transfer of the jet fuel cargo to another tanker somewhere in international waters on the high seas.

Hong Kong shipping interests said such a transfer would not be difficult, if the Chinese Reds had a tanker capable of taking on the oil. But they said the Reds haven't.

One well informed Hong Kong source said "I do not know of any Polish or other tankers out here right now which the Communists could use to get hold of the Aruba's cargo."

FBI Investigates Sabotaged Planes In Alabama Plant

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19 —UP—The FBI investigated Saturday the "malicious sabotage" of 10 Air Force planes "that would certainly have crashed an hour after takeoff."

Harry Rowland, president of Hayes Aircraft Corp., said control equipment that guides planes in flight was tampered with in 10 instances after the devices had been cleared and approved both by company and Air Force inspectors.

"These airplanes could have taken off all right," Rowland said, "but in an hour the sabotaged devices, which are made of fabric, would have peeled off gradually and there would have been persons killed had we not detected it."

Rowland blamed the sabotage on a labor dispute between Hayes, the Air Force's only commercially-operated depot which modifies and overhauls planes for the government, and the CIO United Auto Workers Union.

"There is absolutely no doubt about it," he said. "We never had anything like this before, just like the telephone company never had any cables cut before the strike there." (CIO telephone workers are on strike in nine Southern states.)

The union contract with Hayes expired March 15 and negotiations for a new agreement have been deadlocked since. However, the union denied it was responsible or that the sabotage had anything to do with contract negotiations.

The union issued a statement saying it "does not condone the destruction of government property either at Hayes Aircraft or elsewhere and is as interested as is the FBI or the Hayes Corp. in putting a stop to such a practice."

The FBI entered the investigation at the request of Rowland. James A. Robey, special agent-in charge of the Birmingham FBI bureau, declined comment except to say, "the matter at Hayes has been reported to the FBI as destruction of government property and an investigation is being conducted." No arrests have been made.

Rowland said that Hayes employs 6,000 workers. It has an annual payroll of $35 million.

Rowland said that in all 10 cases of sabotage, the damaged planes were C-119 Flying Boxcars, the Air Force's principal troop carrier and cargo craft, and B-26 Air Force liaison planes.

"The sabotage occurred during one of the rest periods yesterday," Rowland related.

"Fortunately, our inspectors detected that holes had deliberately been punched in the equipment. It was malicious but I don't think the guilty parties realize the seriousness of it."

Formosa Attack In May Predicted; Reds Lose Vessel

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 19 —UP— The Chinese Nationalist air force claimed the sinking Saturday of a 150-ton Communist gunboat off the Fukien Province mainland coast.

A communique said an undisclosed number of Nationalist planes attacked the vessel and set it afire after four strafing attacks.

The gunboat burned and then sank, the communique said.

Dispatches from invasion-threatened Quemoy just off the mainland coastal port of Amoy, reported that Red artillery lobbed eight rounds into Tatan Island of the Quemoy group. The dispatches reported no damage.

Tatan is one of the four islands of the Quemoy group and is located only two miles off the Red China coast.

The official Tato news agency, which speaks for the Nationalist ministry of interior, reported Saturday that the Chinese Reds have set May as the month for an all-out attack against Formosa and the off-shore islands.

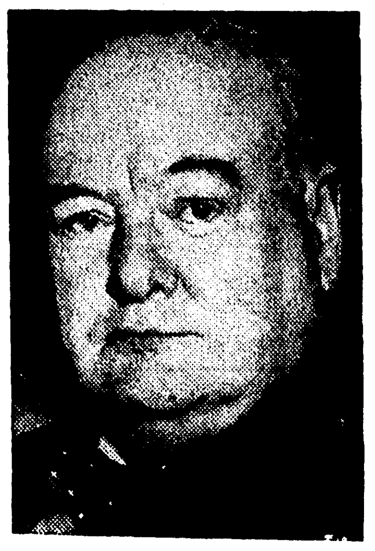
Tota said the Communist propaganda machine is promising the next "liberation" drive in May.

It was noted that the earlier propaganda target date had been February. That month is most unfavorable for the operation of small craft such as Red China uses for her invasion attempts, and the promised attacks did not materialize.

Nationalist intelligence sources said an "ominous lull" exists along the 150-mile island front from Quemoy on the south to Matsu on the north.

The light daily shelling of Quemoy was believed here to be only the testing of new heavy artillery batteries recently reported brought to the coastal area by the Communists.

Reports reaching here continued to tell of increasing Red air strength in Fukien Province, which faces Formosa across the Formosa Strait. Several new bases have been mapped, within striking distance of Quemoy, Matsu and of Formosa itself.



WINSTON CHURCHILL

President Warns Of Veto If Postal Pay Raise 'High'

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower gave an implied warning today that he would be inclined to veto any postal pay raise averaging more than 7½ per cent.

The President said he was concerned "not only because of the fiscal impact" of bigger raises for 500,000 Post Office employes, but also because of the precedent it would set for another bill affecting a million Civil Service workers.

The House is due to vote Monday on a bill giving the postal employes a minimum increase of 6 per cent. Because of various job reclassifications also provided in the measure the increase would average out to about 7½ per cent and would add 150 million dollars to the annual payroll.

The Senate Post Office Committee has approved a 10 per cent increase and there is considerable sentiment in the House to match that figure.

Monday's House vote will be under procedure limiting debate and barring amendments. Members who would like to vote a bigger raise call this "gag rule." A two-thirds majority is required for passage on this take-it-or-leave-it basis.

Eisenhower, who recommended a minimum 5 per cent increase averaging out to 6½ per cent, conveyed his views in a letter to Rep. Murray (D-Tenn), chairman of the House Post Office Committee.

Noting that Murray's committee had approved a 6 per cent raise where he had recommended 5 per cent, Eisenhower said:

"This gives me concern not only because of the fiscal impact of such increases, but also because of the close relationship between this legislation and legislation now pending in the Congress affecting the compensation of other federal employes.

"Of course, in the consideration of such legislation as this there can be reasonable differences of opinion as to what constitutes an appropriate increase. Although I shall carefully consider this factor when the time comes for me to act on this legislation, in fairness to you and your colleagues I must make it clear that any additional increases in postal salaries above your committee's action would give me the gravest apprehension."

No 'Disloyalty' Motives Seen In Peress Hearings

WASHINGTON, March 19—UP—Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., (D-N. C.) said Saturday a week's hearings have showed no "motives of disloyalty" among Army officers handling the case of former Maj. Irving Peress but "they bungled all the way along."

Ervin, a member of the Senate Investigating subcommittee, said the misup surrounding the military career of New York dentist was "one of the best illustrations of how you can pass the buck in the Army."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.) said the way Peress was called to active duty, promoted and honorably discharged—all after refusing to fill out a loyalty form—"shows an abysmal amount of red tape and bungling."

But, Mundt told newsmen, "I'll be surprised if it ever develops that there was any Communist overlord who planned this."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) charged last year that "a secret master in the Pentagon" was responsible for the Peress case. He demanded courts-martial for all concerned.

Anthony Eden Tagged As New Prime Minister

News Divulged By Close Friends, But Not Yet 'Official'

LONDON, March 19 (AP) — Friends of Sir Winston Churchill said tonight the aging statesmen intends to retire "within weeks" as Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Official confirmation was lacking, but well-informed sources who discounted previous rumors of Churchill's retirement were accepting tonight's report as solidly based.

Persons close to the 80-year-old Premier said he may stay in harness as an ordinary member of Parliament and elder statesman, keeping himself available as possible emissary for informal peace talks with Russia—a goal he has long cherished.

Churchill's successor would be Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, the "Golden Boy" of British politics whom the Premier first nominated as his political heir nearly 13 years ago. Eden is now 57.

Politicians were predicting freely that a general election will follow Eden's succession, either in June or October. October was the most-favored date. The Conservatives' five-year term of office runs until October 1956, but a severe split in the Labor opposition has encouraged Conservatives to think about an earlier date for voting.

Churchill, more impetuous and bulldogged than ever in his later years, could still change his mind on the spur of the moment. But in government and political circles the opinion was hardening that he will be out of office before the government presents its annual budget on April 19.

News of Churchill's reported decision burst upon the nation this morning under banner headlines in Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express. Beaverbrook and Churchill are intimates, and the Canadian-born publisher has long been urging him to stay in office.

"Sir Winston Churchill is about to retire," the Express said. "If present plans mature the Prime Minister will hand over his office to Sir Anthony Eden in the first week in April."

The London Evening Star said Queen Elizabeth II and the Cabinet have already been given the date for the change in leadership.

"No announcement about this is expected for another week or two," the Star said.

Churchill has long been under the most intense personal pressures

Kidnap Scare Proves Mistake

ST. LOUIS, March 19 (AP) — A young couple, divorced eight days ago, returned home today and said a scrawled kidnap note was all a mistake.

Robert Woodring Jr., 21-year-old suspended policeman of suburban Ferguson, and his ex-wife, Lorna, said they effected a reconciliation on the eventful trip and plan to be remarried.

Mrs. Woodring, 21, said she accompanied her former husband willingly on the trip to Wisconsin and that he neither harmed nor threatened her. They took their 9-month-old daughter, Julie Ann, with them.

According to the forecast of goverment weather observers Louisiana will be partly cloudy today with widely scattered thundershowers. Higher temperatures are expected in the north portion. Scattered showers and local thunderstorms with accompanying temperature drops are predicted for Monday.

Arkansas is expected to be mostly cloudy and warmer today with accompanying scattered thundershowers. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are predicted for Monday with lower temperatures in the west portion.

CAA officials at the Selman Field station last night reported that the high for the day was 59 degrees. The low was 48 degrees.

20-Minute-Old Infant Kidnaped From Hospital

The mother was still in the delivery room. G. H. Dalrymple, administrator, said no one saw the woman enter or leave the hospital.

The baby's father is a refinery employe, George Wharton. Dalrymple quoted Wharton as saying he could think of no reason for the apparent kidnaping. The father said his family, including two other children, had no enemies and no family difficulties.

The baby had an identification tag. Mrs. Helen Mays, on duty in the nursery, said a woman dressed in a nurse's uniform approached her shortly after the infant was placed in a crib and said she was wanted at the business office. The woman said she would relieve Mrs. Mays while she was gone.

20 Feared Marooned By New Volcanic Eruptions

PAHOLA, Hawaii, March 19—UP Approximately 20 persons were feared cut off Saturday by a new eruption in the Kilaeua volcano field.

Volcanologist Dr. Gordon MacDonald expressed fear that the party had been cut off after he tried to take the same route to investigate new eruption reports and found it impassable due to smoke and sulphur fumes.

The group, including Honolulu Advertiser reporter Bob Monahan, went to the evacuated village of Kalapana Saturday morning. Then word was received here that a new lava flow was moving swiftly toward the Pahoa-Kalapana road.

MacDonald and an assistant drove out to check the report and found it was true. The two returned here to sound the alert and then headed back to the eruption area where they hoped by wrapping wet towels around their feet they could get through to warn Monahan and his party.

Advertiser reporter - photographer Gordon Morse said it was feared that the party had already left Kalapana to return here and might be surrounded by lava on some forest trail.

Civil defense director Peter Pakele said Monahan had gone with the group in two trucks to Kalapana to feed livestock and tend crops undamaged by the lava. They were scheduled to return to Pahoa at 4 p.m. (8 p.m. CST).

Two big columns of smoke were sighted from here shortly before noon indicating some kind of volcanic activity three miles southwest of a point known as Iiewa crater which is several thousand yards west of the most recent lava flows. It is about the same distance and direction from a cone which Monahan photographed Monday just as it erupted and was engulfed by lava.

Churchill's Retirement Expected During April

HELSINKI, Finland, March 19 —UP—Owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba told Red China Saturday that if she wants the vessel's cargo of jet fuel she'll have to "come and get it" somewhere outside Red China's territorial waters.

American sources in Hong Kong said the Chinese Communists have no tanker available in Far Eastern waters capable of handling a transfer of the prized jet fighter fuel.

The Aruba's owners said the vessel cannot proceed to Shanghai or any other Red Chinese port because the crew has rebelled against attempting to run the Chinese Nationalist blockade of the Red Chinese coast.

Nationalist China has warned that she would seize or sink the Aruba to prevent the fuel from reaching Red air bases within range of Formosa and its offshore islands.

The Aruba's crew has served notice it will not sail the tanker beyond the Nicobar Islands, off India. Gunnar Damstroem, president of the firm owning the ship said the crew's rebellion makes delivery of the fuel, as contracted, impossible.

Damstroem said his firm has been attempting to find out what the Red Chinese want done with the disputed cargo.

But the only word from Peiping Saturday was a propaganda blast by the Communist New China news agency charging that the Aruba incident proves "the desperate and criminal" efforts of the United States to cripple international trade.

Damstroem suggested a solution might be the transfer of the jet fuel cargo to another tanker somewhere in international waters on the high seas.

Hong Kong shipping interests said such a transfer would not be difficult, if the Chinese Reds had a tanker capable of taking on the oil. But they said the Reds haven't.

One well informed Hong Kong source said "I do not know of any Polish or other tankers out here right now which the Communists could use to get hold of the Aruba's cargo."

FBI Investigates Sabotaged Planes In Alabama Plant

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19 —UP—The FBI investigated Saturday the "malicious sabotage" of 10 Air Force planes "that would certainly have crashed an hour after takeoff."

Harry Rowland, president of Hayes Aircraft Corp., said control equipment that guides planes in flight was tampered with in 10 instances after the devices had been cleared and approved both by company and Air Force inspectors.

"These airplanes could have taken off all right," Rowland said, "but in an hour the sabotaged devices, which are made of fabric, would have peeled off gradually and there would have been persons killed had we not detected it."

Rowland blamed the sabotage on a labor dispute between Hayes, the Air Force's only commercially-operated depot which modifies and overhauls planes for the government, and the CIO United Auto Workers Union.

"There is absolutely no doubt about it," he said. "We never had anything like this before, just like the telephone company never had any cables cut before the strike there." (CIO telephone workers are on strike in nine Southern states.)

The union contract with Hayes expired March 15 and negotiations for a new agreement have been deadlocked since. However, the union denied it was responsible or that the sabotage had anything to do with contract negotiations.

The union issued a statement saying it "does not condone the destruction of government property either at Hayes Aircraft or elsewhere and is as interested as is the FBI or the Hayes Corp. in putting a stop to such a practice."

The FBI entered the investigation at the request of Rowland. James A. Robey, special agent-in charge of the Birmingham FBI bureau, declined comment except to say, "the matter at Hayes has been reported to the FBI as destruction of government property and an investigation is being conducted." No arrests have been made.

Rowland said that Hayes employs 6,000 workers. It has an annual payroll of $35 million.

Rowland said that in all 10 cases of sabotage, the damaged planes were C-119 Flying Boxcars, the Air Force's principal troop carrier and cargo craft, and B-26 Air Force liaison planes.

"The sabotage occurred during one of the rest periods yesterday," Rowland related.

"Fortunately, our inspectors detected that holes had deliberately been punched in the equipment. It was malicious but I don't think the guilty parties realize the seriousness of it."

Formosa Attack In May Predicted; Reds Lose Vessel

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 19 —UP— The Chinese Nationalist air force claimed the sinking Saturday of a 150-ton Communist gunboat off the Fukien Province mainland coast.

A communique said an undisclosed number of Nationalist planes attacked the vessel and set it afire after four strafing attacks.

The gunboat burned and then sank, the communique said.

Dispatches from invasion-threatened Quemoy just off the mainland coastal port of Amoy, reported that Red artillery lobbed eight rounds into Tatan Island of the Quemoy group. The dispatches reported no damage.

Tatan is one of the four islands of the Quemoy group and is located only two miles off the Red China coast.

The official Tato news agency, which speaks for the Nationalist ministry of interior, reported Saturday that the Chinese Reds have set May as the month for an all-out attack against Formosa and the off-shore islands.

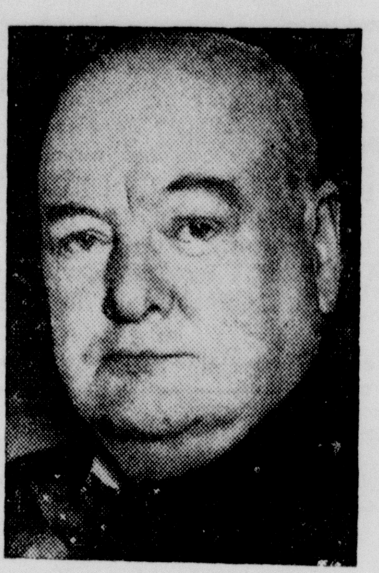
Tota said the Communist propaganda machine is promising the next "liberation" drive in May.

It was noted that the earlier propaganda target date had been February. That month is most unfavorable for the operation of small craft such as Red China uses for her invasion attempts, and the promised attacks did not materialize.

Nationalist intelligence sources said an "ominous lull" exists along the 150-mile island front from Quemoy on the south to Matsu on the north.

The light daily shelling of Quemoy was believed here to be only the testing of new heavy artillery batteries recently reported brought to the coastal area by the Communists.

Reports reaching here continued to tell of increasing Red air strength in Fukien Province, which faces Formosa across the Formosa Strait. Several new bases have been mapped, within striking distance of Quemoy, Matsu and of Formosa itself.



WINSTON CHURCHILL

News Divulged By Close Friends, But Not Yet 'Official'

LONDON, March 19 (AP) — Friends of Sir Winston Churchill said tonight the aging statesmen intends to retire "within weeks" as Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Official confirmation was lacking, but well-informed sources who discounted previous rumors of Churchill's retirement were accepting tonight's report as solidly based.

Persons close to the 80-year-old Premier said he may stay in harness as an ordinary member of Parliament and elder statesman, keeping himself available as possible emissary for informal peace talks with Russia—a goal he has long cherished.

Churchill's successor would be Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, the "Golden Boy" of British politics whom the Premier first nominated as his political heir nearly 13 years ago. Eden is now 57.

Politicians were predicting freely that a general election will follow Eden's succession, either in June or October. October was the most-favored date. The Conservatives' five-year term of office runs until October 1956, but a severe split in the Labor opposition has encouraged Conservatives to think about an earlier date for voting.

Churchill, more impetuous and bulldogged than ever in his later years, could still change his mind on the spur of the moment. But in government and political circles the opinion was hardening that he will be out of office before the government presents its annual budget on April 19.

News of Churchill's reported decision burst upon the nation this morning under banner headlines in Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express. Beaverbrook and Churchill are intimates, and the Canadian-born publisher has long been urging him to stay in office.

"Sir Winston Churchill is about to retire," the Express said. "If present plans mature the Prime Minister will hand over his office to Sir Anthony Eden in the first week in April."

The London Evening Star said Queen Elizabeth II and the Cabinet have already been given the date for the change in leadership.

"No announcement about this is expected for another week or two," the Star said.

Churchill has long been under the most intense personal pressures

President Warns Of Veto If Postal Pay Raise 'High'

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower gave an implied warning today that he would be inclined to veto any postal pay raise averaging more than 7½ per cent.

The President said he was concerned "not only because of the fiscal impact" of bigger raises for 500,000 Post Office employes, but also because of the precedent it would set for another bill affecting a million Civil Service workers.

The House is due to vote Monday on a bill giving the postal employes a minimum increase of 6 per cent. Because of various job reclassifications also provided in the measure the increase would average out to about 7½ per cent and would add 150 million dollars to the annual payroll.

The Senate Post Office Committee has approved a 10 per cent increase and there is considerable sentiment in the House to match that figure.

Monday's House vote will be under procedure limiting debate and barring amendments. Members who would like to vote a bigger raise call this "gag rule." A two-thirds majority is required for passage on this take-it-or-leave-it basis.

Eisenhower, who recommended a minimum 5 per cent increase averaging out to 6½ per cent, conveyed his views in a letter to Rep. Murray (D-Tenn), chairman of the House Post Office Committee.

Noting that Murray's committee had approved a 6 per cent raise where he had recommended 5 per cent, Eisenhower said:

"This gives me concern not only because of the fiscal impact of such increases, but also because of the close relationship between this legislation and legislation now pending in the Congress affecting the compensation of other federal employes.

"Of course, in the consideration of such legislation as this there can be reasonable differences of opinion as to what constitutes an appropriate increase. Although I shall carefully consider this factor when the time comes for me to act on this legislation, in fairness to you and your colleagues I must make it clear that any additional increases in postal salaries above your committee's action would give me the gravest apprehension."

No 'Disloyalty' Motives Seen In Peress Hearings

WASHINGTON, March 19—UP—Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., (D-N. C.) said Saturday a week's hearings have showed no "motives of disloyalty" among Army officers handling the case of former Maj. Irving Peress but "they bungled all the way along."

Ervin, a member of the Senate Investigating subcommittee, said the misup surrounding the military career of New York dentist was "one of the best illustrations of how you can pass the buck in the Army."

en. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.) said the way Peress was called to active duty, promoted and honorably discharged—all after refusing to fill out a loyalty form—"shows an abysmal amount of red tape and bungling."

But, Mundt told newsmen, "I'll be surprised if it ever develops that there was any Communist overlord who planned this."

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) charged last year that "a secret master in the Pentagon" was responsible for the Peress case. He demanded courts-martial for all concerned.

Kidnap Scare Proves Mistake

ST. LOUIS, March 19 (AP) — A young couple, divorced eight days ago, returned home today and said a scrawled kidnap note was all a mistake.

Robert Woodring Jr., 21-year-old suspended policeman of suburban Ferguson, and his ex-wife, Lorna, said they effected a reconciliation on the eventful trip and plan to be remarried.

Mrs. Woodring, 21, said she accompanied her former husband willingly on the trip to Wisconsin and that he neither harmed nor threatened her. They took their 9-month-old daughter, Julie Ann, with them.

U.S. May Resume Leasing Of State's Offshore Region

WASHINGTON, March 19—UP—The Bureau of Land Management areas of the Continental Shelf off Texas and Louisiana shall be opened to oil and gas leasing.

It has asked for "nominations," to be submitted no later than next Friday, on lands which the oil industry believes hold good prospects and should be put up for bidding.

Bureau officials will review the nominations and make the decision, subject to approval by Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay.

So far the bureau has leased 486,869.86 acres of oil and gas lands and 25,000 acres of sulphur lands. These have brought the federal government $142,404,630.48 in lease and rental revenues. This will be increased, McKay said recently, when royalty payments begin coming in.

Altogether, 12 million acres off Louisiana and 8 million off Texas have been mapped as potentially leasable. Also, 114 leases have been negotiated to date.

The shelf was opened up to exploration by Congress after the so-called Tidelands Act was passed. Many companies are plumbing the depths, some successfully, in search of oil and gas deposits.

Nine Parish Group Meets Here

Rainmakers Organize

Joe Dixon, Ouachita parish farmer, was elected president of the Northeast Louisiana Water Resources Corporation, when members of the board of directors met Saturday morning at the Frances Hotel.

Also elected at the organization meeting of the nine-parish group were Earl Oswalt, East Carroll parish, first vice-president; Fred Miller, Tensas, second vice-president, and Fred Huenefeld, Ouachita, secretary-treasurer.

Two representatives from each of the nine participating parishes of Northeast Louisiana met at 10 a.m. Saturday and laid the foundation for an organization, which will spearhead rain-making projects in the area. Included in the area are the parishes of Morehouse, Caldwell, Franklin, Richland, Madison, East Carroll, West Carroll, Tensas and Ouachita.

Following a brief welcome from Mayor John E. Coon, the group was told that the City of Monroe will cooperate with the organization in restoring the proper amount of moisture in the area. Mayor Coon pointed out that the city council, at a recent meeting, had voted to contribute to the seeding of rain clouds in the area in an effort to raise the level of bayous from which the city must draw its water supply.

Clark C. Boardman, chairman of the industrial committee for Ouachita parish, told the group that progress was continuing in the committee's effort to secure industrial backing for the project. By unanimous consent of the board members, Boardman was elected to serve on the board.

Reports from the various parish represen atives indicated that progress is also continuing throughout the area.

The group also designated Robert Downing as attorney for the corporation and the Ouachita National Bank as its depository.

Speaking briefly to the group, John L. DeSanto, representative of the company which will be in charge of seeding the rain clouds told the group that each parish chairman will be given full reports of activities of the company in the area. Through this medium, the persons participating may be able to keep in constant contact with these activities. These reports, DeSanto said, will include the location and operation of the generators used in the seeding, areas in which the rain has fallen and the amount of rainfall.

Another meeting of the board of directors will be held on April 2, at which time the group hopes to complete all prerequisites for the signing of a contract for actual operation of cloud seeding. The meeting will be held in Monroe.

Parish directors on the board include: Morehouse, Warren White of Mer Rouge, and Sam Smith of Oak Ridge; Caldwell, A. C. James and Mack Rowland, both of Columbia; Franklin, M. A. Dailey and Lance Womack, of Winnsboro; Richland, George Franklin, Jr., Holly Ridge, and J. C. Hutchinson, Rayville; Madison, Jesse Anderson and W. M. Scott, Jr., both of Tallulah; East Carroll, Earl Oswalt, Lake Providence, and E. H. Ragers; Tensas, Jimmy Crigler and Fred Miller, St. Joseph; West Carroll, John McIntosh and A. C. Smith; and Ouachita parish, Joe Dixon and Fred Huenefeld.

Ex-Chief Of State Tax Commission Dies Saturday

Raggio was a member of the tax commission 1929-32 and chairman 1936-40. He served on the highway commission 1932-36.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Survivors include his widow, two sons, Dr. F. Warren Raggio Jr. and Thomas L. Raggio, both of Lake Charles, and three grandchildren.

Dean Smith In Series Of Lectures

Dean William M. Smith of Northeast State is currently making a series of talks to high schools and educational organizations of this area.

During the coming week students and faculty at Goodpine-Trout High School in LaSalle Parish will hear Dean Smith discuss "Preparing Future Citizens Through Training"

He will be guest speaker Tuesday afternoon at the Downsville High School faculty meeting where he will emphasize "Teaching Reading in High School." Assisting in the program will be L. M. McKneely, assistant professor of English at Northeast, who has done extensive work in the field of remedial reading.

Tuesday night Dean Smith will speak at the Cerebral Palsy Society of Monroe where he will explain plans being made for a special education clinic to be held at Northeast.

An after-dinner talk to the Civitan Club is scheduled this week.

The series of addresses will end Friday night at the Baskin High School where their chapter of Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America will meet.

Talks made by Dean Smith during the current week included participation in the annual College Day held for seniors at the Jonesboro-Hodge High School.

West Monroe's Millsaps Elementary School heard him speak on "The Teacher's Role in Child Development" during one of their special meetings held as a part of in-service training under Cliff Roberts, principal.

"Problems in Modern Education" was discussed before the Sherrouse School's Parent Teacher Association, and he also spoke on "Special Education" at the Selman Field P-TA.

Protest Period Ends March 29 On Bridge Projects

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — Col. C. T. Tench, district engineer, said today suggestions or protests must be submitted to the Engineers Corps not later than March 28 on revised drawings for a bridge in south Louisiana.

The South Louisiana Turnpike commission already has submitted revised drawings for a bridge across Lake Rond and plans for a bridge across Alligator Bayou. The commission seeks to build a toll road from Lafayette to Lutcher.

Gretna Convict On Dope Charges Withdraws Plea

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — A Gretna man ordered deported following his conviction on a charge of illegal possession of marijuana has dropped application for a pardon.

Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc said the petition seeking a pardon for Carlos Marcello had been filed with the state board of pardons, but no action was taken and it was later withdrawn.

Marcello was convicted in October 1938 for illegally transporting marijuana and served a sentence of a year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

The pardon was requested to strengthen Marcello's fight against the deportation order.

U. S. milk consumption is increasing at the rate of about two billion pounds a year.

Gretna Convict On Dope Charges Withdraws Plea

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — A Gretna man ordered deported following his conviction on a charge of illegal possession of marijuana has dropped application for a pardon.

Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc said the petition seeking a pardon for Carlos Marcello had been filed with the state board of pardons, but no action was taken and it was later withdrawn.

Marcello was convicted in October 1938 for illegally transporting marijuana and served a sentence of a year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

The pardon was requested to strengthen Marcello's fight against the deportation order.

U. S. milk consumption is increasing at the rate of about two billion pounds a year.

Mississippi Legislature In Deadlock

Solons Unable To Agree On Schools And Taxes

JACKSON, Miss., March 19 (AP)—Weary lawmakers return Monday for the 11th week of their special session. Many hope last week's action was just show.

The stalled Legislature slipped deeper into a deadlock when the House refused to accept Senate cuts in the program to equalize Negro and white schools.

Senators said the $1,350,000 yearly reduction was the price for Senate approval of a weakened "surtax" to help finance the program.

In the midst of the tax-raising deadlock, representatives probably will consider again a bill to give one and one-half million dollars yearly aid to municipalities.

Another city defeat is expected.

Still hanging fire in the House, with no action scheduled until the tax log-jam breaks, are bills setting up a 60-million-dollar school construction program.

The program, foundation of equalization plans, is certain to be postponed until Jan. 1, regardless of the outcome of the tax fight.

Cost of the special session will total $444,000 through the next two weeks, with more needed if the session lengthens beyond 12 weeks.

The House "school bloc" controlled the situation Thursday when representatives considered the Senate bill to reduce state money going to counties to supplement salaries of principals and superintendents.

The House defeated the bill as the galleries half filled with teachers who poured into Jackson for the annual Mississippi Education Association convention.

Many lawmakers hope it was a special performance for the teachers, and doesn't indicate the real intention of the House.

Members of a House-Senate conference group were ready to sign the compromise Thursday, but only if the House accepted Senate cuts in the school program. Their signatures would have placed the compromise before both houses for consideration.

House defeat of the school reduction killed the surtax compromise. It would have raised eight separate taxes 14 per cent.

The House voted to raise the taxes 20 per cent. The Senate rejected all raises except a 15 per cent boost in income taxes.

Committee Lead By Sparks Drafts Road Work Plans

The Louisiana Highway Study committee has completed six proposals designed to remedy the "deplorable" condition of the state's roads and highways, Sen. James Sparks, Monroe, chairman of the committee, told the first annual conference of the Louisiana Public Affairs Research Council Friday.

The six measures, drafted for presentation to the May session of the Legislature, are:

A bill classifying state highway needs, including primary, secondary and farm - to - market roads a bill setting aside $2,500,000 per annum to be granted to parishes by the highway department for improving parish roads; a constitutional amendment calling for $15,000,000 from tidelands monies for bonding purposes, the bonding program not to be used in any such year as the state chooses to use a pay-as-you-go plan.

A bill to improve entrances to major highways and clarifying the limited access law dealing with access roads; a bill authorizing preliminary surveys to private property; and a measure appropriating $25,000,000 to start the ten-year highway program during the next fiscal year, this added to $20,000,000 set aside for the purpose at the January special session.

Low Bids Okayed On Three Building Projects In Area

Low bids calling for the construction of three new buildings in the Monroe area were accepted Saturday morning by the Louisiana state building authority.

The buildings to be constructed are the new classroom structure for Northeast State College, the vocational trade building at Louisiana Training Institute, and a new cottage for boys at L. T. I.

Accepted bids of $486,576 for the Northeast College was that of Dye and Mullins, of Columbia, Miss.

Don A. Baxter, contractor of Sicily Island was low bidder at $109,565 for the new vocational trade building. Plans for the structure were furnished by H. H. Land, a Monroe architect.

Jesse F. Heard and Son, West Monroe contractors submitted the low and accepted bid of $78,641 for the new cottage at L. T. I. Plans were prepared by Johns and Neel, Monroe architects.

Water Sessions Set For Tuesday On LSU Campus

BATON ROUGE, March 19 (AP)—Gen. John R. Hardin, president of the Mississippi River Commission, Vicksburg, will be the first speaker at Louisiana State University's annual water symposium Tuesday.

The two-day meeting will have nine speakers, discussions and exhibits on conservation and improvement of water resources.

Hardin will discuss "Water Resources Developments by the Corps of Engineers and Their Effects Upon Industrial Developments."

Pohn H. O'Neill, director of the division of public health engineering, New Orleans, will speak on quality standards in the water supply field.

A. N. Turcan Jr., hydraulic engineer with the U.S. Department of Interior, Baton Rouge, will speak on the utilization of ground water in Louisiana for industrial purposes.

The use of surface waters in the state's economy will be presented by Fay N. Hansen, district engineer of the Interior Department, Baton Rouge.

Other speakers include Edward J. Cleary, executive director and chief engineer of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, Cincinnati; Joseph E. Wheeler, industrial fellow at LSU; W. S. Morris, vice president of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Co., Kilgore, Tex.; Edward J. Fairchild, federal aid project leader at LSU, and William N. Tuller, Freeport Sulphur Company, Port Sulphur.

Citizens' Group Protests School Use By NAACP

BATON ROUGE, March 19 (AP) — The Southern Gentlemen, a group formed to fight racial integration, meets tomorrow to protest the use of public schools for meetings of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

J. B. Easterly Sr., chairman of the Southern Gentlemen's executive committee, said his group would protest a NAACP meeting scheduled April 3 in McKinley senior high school here.

"We are not objecting to the NAACP," said Easterly. "But we are objecting to its use of a parish school as a meeting place. The NAACP is out to stir up discord and it certainly has no right to hold its meeting in a public school building."

Easterly said Southern Gentlemen was organized several months ago to fight racial integration.

"Organizations such as the NAACP are trying to disrupt our race relations," he said. "We believe the majority of the people in both races in Louisiana want things as they are."

The local NAACP has set a goal of 20,000 members in a drive which opens with the April 3 meeting.

Senator Long To Address Session Of State's CIO

NEW ORLEANS, March 19 (AP)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La) will address the opening session next Saturday of the Louisiana CIO's annual two-day convention.

The meeting also will feature the awarding of an American Newspaper Guild plaque to M. F. Everett, editor of Catholic Action of the South, for a series of articles on Louisiana's right-to-work bill.

Other speakers in the convention will include E. H. Williams, president of the AFL's Louisiana division; Franz Daniels, assistant to CIO President Walter Reuther; Raymond Radovich, executive secretary of the International Union of Shipbuilding Workers (CIO); and Father James A. Drolet of the St. Charles Church, Thibodaux.

Release Of The Yalta Documents

The American State Department last Wednesday night released a half-million word text of the Yalta documents, covering the historic meetings held in February, 1945, between the "Big Three" leaders — President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and Marshal Josef Stalin of the Soviet Union.

The reactions were immediate, and world-wide.

A boiling controversy erupting on many fronts in America, swirled and churned and eddied. The Republicans cried, "We told you so!" The Democrats, badly on the defensive, demanded to know why the historic documents, carefully guarded for ten years, were spilled to public gaze at this time. The White House stood aloof, merely explaining that the action was taken by the State Department on its own initiative. Secretary of State Dulles, one of the most even-tempered men in American public life, almost lost his temper when newsmen questioned him. He said that the Yalta controversy will be "fought on through the ages."

Churchill, in England, declared that serious mistakes occurred in the "American version," and added that publication of a "British version" would be considered. Moscow hinted that the Soviet Union may publish its own account.

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany poured oil upon the troubled waters, alarmed at the possible reaction in his own country to the revelations in the documents, having to do with the callous dismemberment of the Germans as a nation and a people. He urged his people to remain calm.

The Chinese Nationalists declared that the Yalta documents afford official proof of a betrayal — that they were "sold down the river." In South Korea, there was a cry along the same line. The stories were bannered in the Philippines.

The British in Hong Kong were furious, learning that the late President Roosevelt had urged cession of that crown colony back to China. And all around the world, the controversy raged.

Sen. McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin, charged that the documents were censored and deleted; and, in fact, the State Department acknowledged that censorship had been exercised and deletions made. How vital or significant these are, we have no way of knowing just now. The State Department said they were intended to protect national security and individuals — and this last proviso leads us to wonder, what individuals, and to ask, why should any individual be protected in a situation such as these documents outline?

Now with the furore subsiding a little, let us examine these great historic papers, insofar as we can from the exerpts made available by the press, and the reactions in all parts of the world. And let us try to do a little generalizing, in the light of their contexts.

Essentially, they contain nothing new, insofar as the secret Yalta agreements have been publicized.

Every one of these agreements is outlined in Felix Whittmer's book, "The Yalta Betrayal," and has been told in the mediums of information available to all of us.

Some of us remember in old days of our youth a Latin textbook that contained the statement, "All Gaul is divided into three parts." It was authored by Julius Caesar.

The "crime" of Yalta was that three men met and attempted to divide all Gaul — in this instance the world — into three parts. These men were Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin — the "Big Three." Both Roosevelt and Churchill nourished a delusion that by appeasement they could bring Stalin and the Soviet Union, with its firebrand marxist idealogy, into a cordial world-wide relationship.

Roosevelt was on his last legs — a sick man, physically and mentally, at times hardly in possession of his faculties. He had an adroit young aide, Alger Hiss. Churchill, the brandy-drinker, held a strange belief, and still holds it in his honored old age, that if you backslap the devil and greet him with enough courtesy, he will foreswear hell and join the saints.

Thus, like Gaul, the world was divided at Yalta into three parts.

Churchill didn't lose anything. Hadn't he told the British people that he wasn't named prime minister in order to liquidate the British Empire? He didn't cede Hong Kong to the Chinese, and, in fact, he didn't cede an inch of British territory or an iota of purely British influence anywhere in the world, so far as these papers disclose.

But free peoples were sold down the river—in Europe, and in Asia, by the Yalta agreements.

Roosevelt, as events turned out, sacrificed our position in Middle Europe and the Far East, and nations we were obligated morally to protect, for a five-day token war on the part of Soviet Russia against a defeated enemy, Japan.

The Yalta documents merely confirm these things.

They point to the tragic futility of "Big Three" meetings, where Gaul is divided into three parts. They bring us back, vividly, to Woodrow Wilson's plea for "Open covenants openly arrived at." They should show to each and every one of us, every patriotic American citizen, the crying and desperate need for keeping our covenants in the open — dealing our cards from the top of the deck. Above all, keeping faith with the lesser nations, that lack our stupendous power, but nevertheless look to us as the world's greatest citadel of freedom, to protect them, and their rights.

The Wetlands Of Louisiana

The seven-day period starting today has been designated as National Wildlife Week, and its motto is "Save Our Wetlands."

The Ouachita parish unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation is cooperating with other parish units throughout the state in observance of the week—hoping to impress upon the public the vital importance of conserving the extensive wetlands which form one of the state's greatest — and least appreciated — assets.

E. W. Crowley, president of the Ouachita parish unit, has pointed out that the Ouachita River in Louisiana, in addition to being the source of water supply for numerous cities and towns, and an artery of commerce, fosters a commercial fishing industry worth several millions of dollars annually.

The swamps and bayous adjacent to the Ouachita River are famed for their year-round fishing, and in the past have brought many thousands of sportsmen into the district during the hunting season.

In Ouachita parish, and northeast Louisiana, and throughout the state, the problems of wetland conservation are looming larger every day; and the people are waking up to the fact that indiscriminate drainage has disrupted nature's age-old balances and brought injury to the public economy; and, in fact, a threat of catastrophe.

Louisiana is "drying up," and indiscriminate drainage unquestionably contributes to the severity of the current drouth cycle; while river pollution by industrial interests offers a serious threat to fishing for sport, and to commercial fishing.

The fur-bearing crop — an important Louisiana asset — diminishes as the natural cover of fur-bearing animals is drained away and destroyed. The flights of wildfowl, migratory game birds, grow less and less abundant.

The Louisiana Wildlife Federation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the cause of attempting to conserve wildlife values for the public good, has been ignored, as it were, in hearings by Army Engineers and other authorities on flood control and river diversion and drainage projects.

The rich background and detailed knowledge and experience of the federation should be brought to bear upon any public undertaking in the fields of flood control, drainage, dam-building and the shifting of stream channels, and the drainage of bayous and marshes.

Louisiana, above most other states, was endowed by nature with rich and fruitful wetlands stretching in all directions. Do we want to do violence to nature, and make Louisiana like the sandy plains of Kansas, dry and barren except for its rivers, dumping an impossible load on these rivers?

Your Ouachita parish unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation asks that you think about these matters during National Wildlife Week; and as citizens join in the effort to conserve the state's wetlands, a priceless asset.

Savants say civilization is at least 8,000 years old. Wisdom, then, doesn't necessarily come with age.

Government has great power, but it cannot put a floor under or a ceiling over the thermometer.

Shirt-Sleeve Spirit

This is Alexandria, Louisiana. I came down here to dedicate a Freedom Shrine in behalf of the local Exchange Club.

Alexandria is on Louisiana's fifty - yard line. North of here, Protestants. South of here, cypress trees and Cajun country.

During the Civil War they dammed the Red river to raise the water level so gun boats could get past this burned out town and on upriver toward Shreveport. The since - crumbled dams have caused rapids in the river. And from these Rapides parish, and other things, borrowed that name.

This was cotton country.

Jay Gould and other big land owners sold the woodland mostly to unsuspecting newcomers from up north. Yellow pine, for some reason, they then considered worthless for construction purposes.

That was before Joe Bentley.

Joe Bentley, a Dutchman from Williamsport, Pennsylvania, came to this country in 1900 with a dollar-and-a-half in his pocket and a cross cut saw over his shoulder.

He went into the virgin forests along the Red River and cut that long - leaf yellow pine one tree at a time. When he'd earned enough to buy some land at $2.50 an acre, he bought an acre. And then a few acres. Then quite a few, and pretty soon he bought a steam boiler sawmill and the Bentley Joe lived at the Rapides Hotel Lumber Company was in business. in Alexandria.

This, remember, is an era of tall hats and bustles and dainty manners. One day in 1908, Joe Bentley, goes into the hotel dining room in his shirt sleeves and the management refuses to serve him.

This so riles the industrious Dutchman that he stomps out of the dining room, rolls up his shirt sleeves, and builds a hotel of his own. And such an elegant edifice that half a century later the Bentley Hotel is still a showplace.

This story of Joe's great house on the banks of the Red River is one of the first tales a visiting traveler hears.

This is a familiar story hereabouts. However, in the last day or so, I've talked with the men who knew old Joe, an dthey swear the shirtsleeve part isn't so. That it's a legend which grew up along the bayous.

And yet, I got to thinking, if the facts a few people know conflict with a legent so many people believe, it's encouraging. Because it means folks "want to believe." It means the free - wheeling, barehanded pioneer spirit is still alive. The Horatio Alger dream is still good.

Today the Rapides Hotel has been torn down. The Bentley is bigger and more elegant than ever. A classic monument to all the men in shirt sleeves who wrestled with the forest and, like the pines, grew tall — trying to outdo one another —reaching for the sun.

And you know what . . .

In the process, the Joe Bentleys made all of us more prosperous and more comfortable.

On the basis of available evidence, one must conclude that Fulbright's use of the phrase "friendly inquiry" could conceivably rank with Russia's "peaceful coexistence"; Hitler's "I have no desire for territorial acquisition" and the classic "painless dentist."

How do you like the way all the papers headline the "inside lowdown" on Princess Margaret's romance with Capt. Townsend? One week the front pages rap our stuff —the next they imitate it! . . . Last week the Wall Street Journal threw the idea back in Fulbright's face, with a twist of its own. One of these days, said the Journal, someone is going to ask for 'a law to make it illegal for Senators to do anything that might affect the market.'"

Public Forum—Voice Of All The People

The Kinsey Report

Chicago, Ill.

Editor, Morning World:

We Americans have an instinctive reach for Educational Opportunities and an appreciation of Scholastic attainments which makes us somewhat gullible for the high sounding pronouncements and bombastic vaporizings of the Professors.

However, the Kinsey Report is one thing too many! Even some of our top men in the Medical Field have said the Report is neither scientific nor authentic—but just so much filth.

It is one of the signs of the times, that such a report could be printed and over-advertised and circulated, here in America.

Just what are the curious circumstances of our day which call forth this phenominal and outrageous onslaught against the ordinary decencies belonging to normal sensible people?

Are we indeed so gullible that we will swallow, hook, line and sinker whatever is put out by a Professor? Or do we think it is just being sophisticated to accept such "findings" as valid, because a College Professor says so? Or perhaps are we, as a one-time government official once said of us:

"The people are too damned dumb to know the difference."

Call it what you will — gullible, sophisticated or just plain dumb, the fact remains, we have allowed the Professors to get away with it.

The Church represents a particularly fertile field for their operations. It is here that a Little Professor has a wide latitutde. He comes in, smiling blandly and proceeds to organize Sex Classes. As he lectures, the microphone takes on something of the nature of a Sewer Pipe.

The kindly, good natured Church People listen, a little dazed, but look on in real consternation as an odd assortment of strange, nondescript people begin to drift in, to attend the classes. The board men of the church are finally forced to take action. So they discreetly suggest to the Professor that he discontinue the "classes." The motley crowd drifts out as silently as they drifted in.

It is this strange, silent, motley crowd which give a clue to the Professor's activities. The "Sex Classes" are part of a scheme to Russianize us! Make Sex equality here in America! (They have that equality in Russia so that the women there can be stevedores, street cleaners, lumber jacks or what have you.)

In America, the program is aimed at breaking down all moral standards. They call it "emancipating" women; giving women the same right as men. Throwing off all moral restraint. Equality! A single standard of immorality.

Thus, the church is challenged. Does the church preach a single standard of morality in theory but actually condone the sowing of wild oats for men only?

Communism slants its propaganda straight at the young womanhood of America and says:

"You, too, can sow your wild oats." This challenge must not go unheeded. The womanhood of America are the intended victims.

The church has an answer to this challenge, and in this crisis hour, must give that answer. There is only one moral law laid down in God's Word. That Law applies equally to men as well as to women.

One of the most sublimely beautiful stories in the whole Bible is the story of the woman taken in adultery. The poor disheveled, weeping woman was dragged before Jesus, the Gentleman. Would He say she should be stoned? Jesus stooped down and wrote something. As the men watched Him write, one by one they went slinking off. When Jesus was finished writing, only the poor woman was left, standing shamed and weeping before Him.

"Doth no man accuse you?"

"No man, Lord."

"Neither do I condemn you. Go and sin no more."

The question is, what did Jesus write? (Well, He must have written the law — the single standard of morality—as given in Leviticus 20th Chapter and 10th verse. No wonder the men went slinking off. They knew themselves to be adulterers, too, and didn't dare cast the first stone.

However, this challenge to the church on the question of a single standard of morality is only part of the propaganda to Russianize America. The whole Socialistic program seems to be dumped on the church.

Here, again, a little professor speaks his piece: "Social Revolution is coming to America whether some of our reactionary Protestant Ministers want it or not. When the Revolution is over, we are going to pull the white collars off the reactionary Protestant Clergy and put them to work beside the working class so they will find out what all this is about."

The church accepts the challenge and serves notice on the little professor, that this is America—God's Country and we are God's People and we don't propose to be Russianized.

Stocks Fall $10 Billion In Market Investigation

Monroe, La

Editor, Morning World:

(The following letter was sent to Senator William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee now investigating the stock market.)

Dear Sen. Fulbright:

It is more than a coincidence that during the first seven days the Fulbright Stock Committee functioned, listed stock values decreased about $10,000,000,000 and resulted in the market's most resounding flop since the German junket through France in 1940.

Much of the decline stems from the psychology to buy back at lower prices emanating from the one-way bearish opinions of John Galbraith and R. E. Wood.

To point out half-truths and comparisons that do not exist today—but did in 1929 — is a dangerous economical venture destined to frighten a nervous public to sell good stocks at depressed prices, to benefit only those who always maintain a selfishly bearish and-or short position and want the best for nothing!

To prevent such unwarranted, drastic declines which followed the Galbraith - Wood testimony, I feel the most practical way to conduct the hearings — with fairness to all — is to hold private sessions and at the conclusion take a majority committee vote on issues at stake and turn over the findings to the Federal Reserve Board and the Security Exchange for their consideration and action.

Frankly, it is silly to draw inane comparisons which try to link 1929 with 1955. Why? Today's economy is a gigantic reality! Some 26 years ago it was a faked illusion! Why not compare medical progress today with that of 26 years ago? Then a blood transfusion was a rarity; also rare were stocks with true earning power and a favorable price earning ratio, with liberal dividends, if any, and acceptable net values . . . rare, too, were people with a living wage or personal savings . . . on the horizon were the Ivan Krugers and the Samuel Insulls!! Today our Federal Reserve Board and the Security Exchange are on the prowl to safeguard American investors and prevent excessive speculation. Our brokerage firms lean to educate buyers in honest values; and if a few fools try to draw the fourth ace, 8,000,000 stockholders (really 8,000,000 voters) should not suffer the effects coming from the misleading Galbraith-Wood panic-type obsessions!!!

My heart bleeds for Mr. Wood's inability to gauge an investment! With $90,000,000 to invest and he can't find worthwhile stocks — or stocks at ¼ on the dollar? To help poor Sears put their money to work before it rusts, I offer (free) the following list of aristocratic stocks paying dividends from 25 to 50 years, with a total yield over 6.1 before the present stock market investigation: Simmons, 5.6; Cluett-Peabody, 5.8; Liggett and Meyers, 7.5; Walgreen, 5.6; Norfold & Western, 7.1; A. T&T, 5.1; Adams-Millis, 6.3; S. H. Kress, 5.5; New England Telegraph, 5.9; Phillip Morris, 7.5; Quakers State Oil, 6.7; G. W. Helme, 6.9; U. S. Steel, 5.1; Reynolds Tobacco, 6.7; Best Foods, 6.4; Interstate Department Stores, 6.4; Woolworth, 5.6. Woolworth is selling for practically nothing considering the market value of its British and German stores. Show me one stock in 1929 with this amount og ex-values!! In my opinion Mr. Wood's testimony is too inaccurate to be considered by the U. S. Senate.

John Galbraith talked as if he represented the Short Interest. He didn't tell the public that we have a national wage scale (including textiles and tobacco) in most instances many times greater than 1929, and personal savings estimated for 1955 as six times more than 26 years ago; population now with a record - breaking 1.8 yearly increase; an estimated 1955 national income of $315,000,000,000 against 1929's small almost taxfree $89,000,000,000 and present national productivity more than doubling that in 1929; that today utility stocks average a fine 4.5 yield but in 1929 1.65! Measured at the top of 1929 the D-J industrials were selling 19.7 times earnings to yield 1.9. Now the healthy D-J industrials sell about 14 times earnings to yield safely almost 5 per cent, plus visible growth ahead! Likewise, in our favor are interest rates; ½ under 1929!!

Important are the facts that today three times more stocks are listed on the Exchange (N. Y.) than during 1929; hence, today a 6-million share sale and a 6-point rise really equal a 2-million share market and a 2-point rise from 26 years ago!! Did he mention that with a dollar worth less than 50 cents, substantial enhancement comes best with growth stocks — not from money in a sack? . . . I repeat . . . such biased reflections from Wood & Galbraith need clarification — especially since the import from such is damaging to the public's morale and pocketbook.

My prediction of the Fulbright Stock Investigation: Outside of recommendations to regulate and supervise the sale of foreign investment stocks within the confines of Interstate Commerce, the committee will deem it is a personal affair if one wishes to pay $50.00 or $100.00 a share of stock; that our economy today is really an infant compared to its status 25 years from now, and to sell America's progress short is the shortest way to the poorhouse!

Paul Harvey's Statement

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(The following is a wire sent to Paul Harvey, News Analist and Feature Writer of the Monroe Morning World.)

Dear Mr. Harvey:

You have made a tragic mistake and thousands of fine Louisiana people will join me in this demand for use of equivalent time in retracting. You recently visited us here in Monroe, West Monroe, and Ouachita parish. You have eaten our salt. We hope, however, you did not intend to infer, in your comment concerning the Yalta Report today, that Louisiana was equivalent to "Siberia" here in the United States, when you stated ". . . I haven't heard from this fellow lately. He is possibly banished to digging postholes in Louisiana. . ."

We can but eagerly assure you that were it his fate to dig postholes here in Louisiana he would be happy, healthy, and greatly favored by a smiling and flirtatious dame. Shaded by giant forrests, cooled by tropical vegetation, nurtured by abundant streams and rivers, with flowers of every hue and color now bursting into fragrant bloom, Louisiana is the garden spot of this nation, and it is doubtful that General Dean, despite his great contribution to the Yalta Report, would claim to deserve the favor of residence among us.

Almost every posthole dug in Louisiana spouts gas or oil, or harbors the finest of fresh water fishing — as by your visit you may testify — and we hope you will see the wisdom of retracting your implied reflection on our state, and your inference that our "Siberia" is here in Louisiana.

ROBERT C. ERVIN

The World Universe

Jonesboro, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Your editorial on the small part we as a planet play in the World Universe was most interesting.

Few people realize that we are such a small part and yet such an important part of this World Universe.

We live from day to day knowing that one of those days will be our last as a functioning part of this universal order as far as life on this planet is concerned. We live in the faith of a future. There is probably no doubt that for those deserving there is a future, however, a lot of people are fooled if they expect that their prospects for a future are not based on the life they live on this planet.

There is no doubt but that universal progress is evolutionary and that we forever cease to exist in order to advance to a higher standard of life probably on some other planet. The universal order is to destroy or change all material things and from a germ of life create new, religiously speaking, for humans will call this germ of life the soul of man, or the life in man that never ceases to exist. The functions of the universal order are so synchronized, so that in keeping if there be a future life for man, such life must and will be on some other planet. The universal functions relative to planets have never and will never change. It is probable that we may develop a means of contact with other planets. We are gradually nearing that point and when we do we shall find the reward for those who were deserving.

How Oft to Church?

HOW often do you go to church? . . . How often do you pray? . . . And when you turn your thoughts to God . . . What are the words you say? . . . Do you express your gratitude . . . For all that He has done . . . To help you conquer obstacles . . . In battles you have won? . . . Or do you go to church because . . . It seems the thing to do . . . And maybe, superstitiously . . . It spells good luck for you? . . . There is no game of any kind . . . That you can play with God . . . But as you serve Him well, you will . . . Receive His gracious nod . . . And as you worship in His house . . . And honor Him today . . . He will reward you for your love . . . And for your friendly way.

Release Of The Yalta Documents

The American State Department last Wednesday night released a half-million word text of the Yalta documents, becovering the historic meetings held in February, 1945, between the "Big Three" leaders — President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and Marshal Josef Stalin of the Soviet Union.

The reactions were immediate, and world-wide.

A boiling controversy erupting on many fronts in America, swirled and churned and eddied. The Republicans cried, "We told you so!" The Democrats, badly on the defensive, demanded to know why the historic documents, carefully guarded for ten years, were spilled to public gaze at this time. The White House stood aloof, merely explaining that the action was taken by the State Department on its own initiative. Secretary of State Dulles, one of the most even-tempered men in American public life, almost lost his temper when newsmen questioned him. He said that the Yalta controversy will be "fought on through the ages."

Churchill, in England, declared that serious mistakes occurred in the "American version," and added that publication of a "British version" would be considered. Moscow hinted that the Soviet Union may publish its own account.

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany poured oil upon the troubled waters, alarmed at the possible reaction in his own country to the revelations in the documents, having to do with the callous dismemberment of the Germans as a nation and a people. He urged his people to remain calm.

The Chinese Nationalists declared that the Yalta documents afford official proof of a betrayal — that they were "sold down the river." In South Korea, there was a cry along the same line. The stories were bannered in the Philippines.

The British in Hong Kong were furious, learning that the late President Roosevelt had urged cession of that crown colony back to China. And all around the world, the controversy raged.

Sen. McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin, charged that the documents were censored and deleted; and, in fact, the State Department acknowledged that censorship had been exercised and deletions made. How vital or significant these are, we have no way of knowing just now. The State Department said they were intended to protect national security and individuals — and this last proviso leads us to wonder, what individuals, and to ask, why should any individual be protected in a situation such as these documents outline?

Now with the furore subsiding a little, let us examine these great historic papers, insofar as we can from the exerpts made available by the press, and the reactions in all parts of the world. And let us try to do a little generalizing, in the light of their contexts.

Essentially, they contain nothing new, insofar as the secret Yalta agreements have been publicized.

Every one of these agreements is outlined in Felix Whittmer's book, "The Yalta Betrayal," and has been told in the mediums of information available to all of us.

Some of us remember in old days of our youth a Latin textbook that contained the statement, "All Gaul is divided into three parts." It was authored by Julius Caesar.

The "crime" of Yalta was that three men met and attempted to divide all Gaul — in this instance the world — into three parts. These men were Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin — the "Big Three." Both Roosevelt and Churchill nourished a delusion that by appeasement they could bring Stalin and the Soviet Union, with its firebrand marxist idealogy, into a cordial world-wide relationship.

Roosevelt was on his last legs — a sick man, physically and mentally, at times hardly in possession of his faculties. He had an adroit young aide, Alger Hiss. Churchill, the brandy-drinker, held a strange belief, and still holds it in his honored old age, that if you backslap the devil and greet him with enough courtesy, he will foreswear hell and join the saints.

Thus, like Gaul, the world was divided at Yalta into three parts.

Churchill didn't lose anything. Hadn't he told the British people that he wasn't named prime minister in order to liquidate the British Empire? He didn't cede Hong Kong to the Chinese, and, in fact, he didn't cede an inch of British territory or an iota of purely British influence anywhere in the world, so far as these papers disclose.

But free peoples were sold down the river—in Europe, and in Asia, by the Yalta agreements.

Roosevelt, as events turned out, sacrificed our position in Middle Europe and the Far East, and nations we were obligated morally to protect, for a five-day token war on the part of Soviet Russia against a defeated enemy, Japan.

The Yalta documents merely confirm these things.

They point to the tragic futility of "Big Three" meetings, where Gaul is divided into three parts. They bring us back, vividly, to Woodrow Wilson's plea for "Open covenants openly arrived at." They should show to each and every one of us, every patriotic American citizen, the crying and desperate need for keeping our covenants in the open — dealing our cards from the top of the deck. Above all, keeping faith with the lesser nations, that lack our stupendous power, but nevertheless look to us as the world's greatest citadel of freedom, to protect them, and their rights.

The Wetlands Of Louisiana

The seven-day period starting today has been designated as National Wildlife Week, and its motto is "Save Our Wetlands."

The Ouachita parish unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation is cooperating with other parish units throughout the state in observance of the week—hoping to impress upon the public the vital importance of conserving the extensive wetlands which form one of the state's greatest — and least appreciated — assets.

E. W. Crowley, president of the Ouachita parish unit, has pointed out that the Ouachita River in Louisiana, in addition to being the source of water supply for numerous cities and towns, and an artery of commerce, fosters a commercial fishing industry worth several millions of dollars annually.

The swamps and bayous adjacent to the Ouachita River are famed for their year-round fishing, and in the past have brought many thousands of sportsmen into the district during the hunting season.

In Ouachita parish, and northeast Louisiana, and throughout the state, the problems of wetland conservation are looming larger every day; and the people are waking up to the fact that indiscriminate drainage has disrupted nature's age-old balances and brought injury to the public economy; and, in fact, a threat of catastrophe.

Louisiana is "drying up," and indiscriminate drainage unquestionably contributes to the severity of the current drouth cycle; while river pollution by industrial interests offers a serious threat to fishing for sport, and to commercial fishing.

The fur-bearing crop — an important Louisiana asset — diminishes as the natural cover of fur-bearing animals is drained away and destroyed. The flights of wildfowl, migratory game birds, grow less and less abundant.

The Louisiana Wildlife Federation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the cause of attempting to conserve wildlife values for the public good, has been ignored, as it were, in hearings by Army Engineers and other authorities on flood control and river diversion and drainage projects.

The rich background and detailed knowledge and experience of the federation should be brought to bear upon any public undertaking in the fields of flood control, drainage, dam-building and the shifting of stream channels, and the drainage of bayous and marshes.

Louisiana, above most other states, was endowed by nature with rich and fruitful wetlands stretching in all directions. Do we want to do violence to nature, and make Louisiana like the sandy plains of Kansas, dry and barren except for its rivers, dumping an impossible load on these rivers?

Your Ouachita parish unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation asks that you think about these matters during National Wildlife Week; and as citizens join in the effort to conserve the state's wetlands, a priceless asset.

Savants say civilization is at least 8,000 years old. Wisdom, then, doesn't necessarily come with age.

Government has great power, but it cannot put a floor under or a ceiling over the thermometer.

This was cotton country.

Jay Gould and other big land owners sold the woodland mostly to unsuspecting newcomers from up north. Yellow pine, for some reason, they then considered worthless for construction purposes.

That was before Joe Bentley.

Joe Bentley, a Dutchman from Williamsport, Pennsylvania, came to this country in 1900 with a dollar-and-a-half in his pocket and a cross cut saw over his shoulder.

He went into the virgin forests along the Red River and cut that long - leaf yellow pine one tree at a time. When he'd earned enough to buy some land at $2.50 an acre, he bought an acre. And then a few acres. Then quite a few, and pretty soon he bought a steam boiler sawmill and the Bentley Joe lived at the Rapides Hotel Lumber Company was in business in Alexandria.

This, remember, is an era of tall hats and bustles and dainty manners. One day in 1908, Joe Bentley, goes into the hotel dining room in his shirt sleeves and the management refuses to serve him.

This so riles the industrious Dutchman that he stomps out of the dining room, rolls up his shirt sleeves, and builds a hotel of his own. And such an elegant edifice that half a century later the Bentley Hotel is still a showplace.

This story of Joe's great house on the banks of the Red River is one of the first tales a visiting traveler hears.

This is a familiar story hereabouts. However, in the last day or so, I've talked with the men who knew old Joe, an dthey swear the shirtsleeve part isn't so. That it's a legend which grew up along the bayous.

And yet, I got to thinking, if the facts a few people know conflict with a legent so many people believe, it's encouraging. Because it means folks "want to believe." It means the free - wheeling, barehanded pioneer spirit is still alive. The Horatio Alger dream is still good.

Today the Rapides Hotel has been torn down. The Bentley is bigger and more elegant than ever. A classic monument to all the men in shirt sleeves who wrestled with the forest and, like the pines, grew tall — trying to outdo one another —reaching for the sun.

And you know what . . .

In the process, the Joe Bentleys made all of us more prosperous and more comfortable.

On the basis of available evidence, one must conclude that Fulbright's use of the phrase "friendly inquiry" could conceivably rank with Russia's "peaceful coexistence"; Hitler's "I have no desire for territorial acquisition" and the classic "painless dentist."

How do you like the way all the papers headline the "inside lowdown" on Princess Margaret's romance with Capt. Townsend? One week the front pages rap our stuff —the next they imitate it! . . . Joni James' memo: "Loved Senator Capehart on your program Sunday night asking you all those tough questions. I thawt it wuz the best quiz show yet!" . . . Overheard at Cooky's: "WW's the first guy in history every to become a target because he hit the bullseye too often" . . . Eavesdropped in Lindy's: "Can't figure why Fulbright hasn't called him to face his accusers" . . . "Mebbe Fulbright can't get the accusers to face him!" . . . Quote from Jimmy Stewart: "Down deep in his silent dreams every man is a frustrated hero" . . . Then where do all the villains come from? . . . The Connecticut drama colyums report (for the first time since we were in show-biz) we will attend the New Haven premiere of "Seventh Heaven" . . . Really?

From page 90 of the current Time: "In the early days of the hearings, Fulbright wondered aloud whether there should be some kind of legislation to keep such columnists as Walter Winchell from handing out tips on stocks, thus running up prices. Last week the Wall Street Journal threw the idea back in Fulbright's face, with a twist of its own. One of these days, said the Journal, someone is going to ask for 'a law to make it illegal for Senators to do anything that might affect the market.'"

The Kinsey Report

Chicago, Ill.

Editor, Morning World:

We Americans have an instinctive reach for Educational Opportunities and an appreciation of Scholastic attainments which makes us somewhat gullible for the high sounding pronouncements and bombastic vaporizings of the Professors.

However, the Kinsey Report is one thing too many! Even some of our top men in the Medical Field have said the Report is neither scientific nor authentic—but just so much filth.

It is one of the signs of the times, that such a report could be printed and over-advertised and circulated, here in America.

Just what are the curious circumstances of our day which call forth this phenominal and outrageous onslaught against the ordinary decencies belonging to normal sensible people?

Are we indeed so gullible that we will swallow, hook, line and sinker whatever is put out by a Professor? Or do we think it is just being sophisticated to accept such "findings" as valid, because a College Professor says so? Or perhaps are we, as a one-time government official once said of us:

"The people are too damned dumb to know the difference."

Call it what you will — gullible, sophisticated or just plain dumb, the fact remains, we have allowed the Professors to get away with it.

The Church represents a particularly fertile field for their operations. It is here that a Little Professor has a wide latitutde. He comes in, smiling blandly and proceeds to organize Sex Classes. As he lectures, the microphone takes on something of the nature of a Sewer Pipe.

The kindly, good natured Church People listen, a little dazed, but look on in real consternation as an odd assortment of strange, nondescript people begin to drift in, to attend the classes. The board men of the church are finally forced to take action. So they discreetly suggest to the Professor that he discontinue the "classes." The motley crowd drifts out as silently as they drifted in.

It is this strange, silent, motley crowd which give a clue to the Professor's activities. The "Sex Classes" are part of a scheme to Russianize us! Make Sex equality here in America! (They have that equality in Russia so that the women there can be stevedores, street cleaners, lumber jacks or what have you.)

In America, the program is aimed at breaking down all moral standards. They call it "emancipating" women; giving women the same right as men. Throwing off all moral restraint. Equality! A single standard of immorality.

Thus, the church is challenged. Does the church preach a single standard of morality in theory but actually condone the sowing of wild oats for men only?

Communism slants its propaganda straight at the young womanhood of America and says:

"You, too, can sow your wild oats." This challenge must not go unheeded. The womanhood of America are the intended victims.

The church has an answer to this challenge, and in this crisis hour, must give that answer. There is only one moral law laid down in God's Word. That Law applies equally to men as well as to women.

One of the most sublimely beautiful stories in the whole Bible is the story of the woman taken in adultery. The poor disheveled, weeping woman was dragged before Jesus, the Gentleman. Would He say she should be stoned? Jesus stooped down and wrote something. As the men watched Him write, one by one they went slinking off. When Jesus was finished writing, only the poor woman was left, standing shamed and weeping before Him.

"Doth no man accuse you?"

"No man, Lord."

"Neither do I condemn you. Go and sin no more."

The question is, what did Jesus write? (Well, He must have written the law — the single standard of morality—as given in Leviticus 20th Chapter and 10th verse. No wonder the men went slinking off. They knew themselves to be adulterers, too, and didn't dare cast the first stone.

However, this challenge to the church on the question of a single standard of morality is only part of the propaganda to Russianize America. The whole Socialistic program seems to be dumped on the church.

Here, again, a little professor speaks his piece: "Social Revolution is coming to America whether some of our reactionary Protestant Ministers want it or not. When the Revolution is over, we are going to pull the white collars off the reactionary Protestant Clergy and put them to work beside the working class so they will find out what all this is about."

The church accepts the challenge and serves notice on the little professor, that this is America—God's Country and we are God's People and we don't propose to be Russianized.

Stocks Fall $10 Billion In Market Investigation

Monroe, La

Editor, Morning World:

(The following letter was sent to Senator William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee now investigating the stock market.)

Dear Sen. Fulbright:

It is more than a coincidence that during the first seven days the Fulbright Stock Committee functioned, listed stock values decreased about $10,000,000,000 and resulted in the market's most resounding flop since the German junket through France in 1940.

Much of the decline stems from the psychology to buy back at lower prices emanating from the one-way bearish opinions of John Galbraith and R. E. Wood.

To point out half-truths and comparisons that do not exist today—but did in 1929 — is a dangerous economical venture destined to frighten a nervous public to sell good stocks at depressed prices, to benefit only those who always maintain a selfishly bearish and-or short position and want the best for nothing!

To prevent such unwarranted, drastic declines which followed the Galbraith - Wood testimony, I feel the most practical way to conduct the hearings — with fairness to all — is to hold private sessions and at the conclusion take a majority committee vote on issues at stake and turn over the findings to the Federal Reserve Board and the Security Exchange for their consideration and action.

Frankly, it is silly to draw inane comparisons which try to link 1929 with 1955. Why? Today's economy is a gigantic reality! Some 26 years ago it was a faked illusion! Why not compare medical progress today with that of 26 years ago? Then a blood transfusion was a rarity; also rare were stocks with true earning power and a favorable price earning ratio, with liberal dividends, if any, and acceptable net values . . . rare, too, were people with a living wage or personal savings . . . on the horizon were the Ivan Krugers and the Samuel Insulls!! Today our Federal Reserve Board and the Security Exchange are on the prowl to safeguard American investors and prevent excessive speculation. Our brokerage firms lean to educate buyers in honest values; and if a few fools try to draw the fourth ace, 8,000,000 stockholders (really 8,000,000 voters) should not suffer the effects coming from the misleading Galbraith-Wood panic-type obsessions!!!

My heart bleeds for Mr. Wood's inability to gauge an investment! With $90,000,000 to invest and he can't find worthwhile stocks — or stocks at ¼ on the dollar? To help poor Sears put their money to work before it rusts, I offer (free) the following list of aristocratic stocks paying dividends from 25 to 50 years, with a total yield over 6.1 before the present stock market investigation: Simmons, 5.6; Cluett-Peabody, 5.8; Liggett and Meyers, 7.5; Walgreen, 5.6; Norfold & Western, 7.1; A. T&T, 5.1; Adams-Millis, 6.3; S. H. Kress, 5.5; New England Telegraph, 5.9; Phillip Morris, 7.5; Quakers State Oil, 6.7; G. W. Helme, 6.9; U. S. Steel, 5.1; Reynolds Tobacco, 6.7; Best Foods, 6.4; Interstate Department Stores, 6.4; Woolworth, 5.6. Woolworth is selling for practically nothing considering the market value of its British and German stores. Show me one stock in 1929 with this amount og ex-values!! In my opinion Mr. Wood's testimony is too inaccurate to be considered by the U. S. Senate.

John Galbraith talked as if he represented the Short Interest. He didn't tell the public that we have a national wage scale (including textiles and tobacco) in most instances many times greater than 1929, and personal savings estimated for 1955 as six times more than 26 years ago; population now with a record - breaking 1.8 yearly increase; an estimated 1955 national income of $315,000,000,000 against 1929's small almost taxfree $89,000,000,000 and present national productivity more than doubling that in 1929; that today utility stocks average a fine 4.5 yield but in 1929 1.65! Measured at the top of 1929 the D-J industrials were selling 19.7 times earnings to yield 1.9. Now the healthy D-J industrials sell about 14 times earnings to yield safely almost 5 per cent, plus visible growth ahead! Likewise, in our favor are interest rates; ½ under 1929!!

Important are the facts that today three times more stocks are listed on the Exchange (N. Y.) than during 1929; hence, today a 6-million share sale and a 6-point rise really equal a 2-million share market and a 2-point rise from 26 years ago!! Did he mention that with a dollar worth less than 50 cents, substantial enhancement comes best with growth stocks — not from money in a sack? . . . I repeat . . . such biased reflections from Wood & Galbraith need clarification — especially since the import from such is damaging to the public's morale and pocketbook.

My prediction of the Fulbright Stock Investigation: Outside of recommendations to regulate and supervise the sale of foreign investment stocks within the confines of Interstate Commerce, the committee will deem it is a personal affair if one wishes to pay $50.00 or $100.00 a share of stock; that our economy today is really an infant compared to its status 25 years from now, and to sell America's progress short is the shortest way to the poorhouse!

Paul Harvey's Statement

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(The following is a wire sent to Paul Harvey, News Analyist and Feature Writer of the Monroe Morning World.)

Dear Mr. Harvey:

You have made a tragic mistake and thousands of fine Louisiana people will join me in this demand for use of equivalent time in retracting. You recently visited us here in Monroe, West Monroe, and Ouachita parish. You have eaten our salt. We hope, however, you did not intend to infer, in your comment concerning the Yalta Report today, that Louisiana was equivalent to "Siberia" here in the United States, when you stated ". . . I haven't heard from this fellow lately. He is possibly banished to digging postholes in Louisiana. . ."

We can but eagerly assure you that were it his fate to dig postholes here in Louisiana he would be happy, healthy, and greatly favored by a smiling and flirtatious dame. Shaded by giant forests, cooled by tropical vegetation, nurtured by abundant streams and rivers, with flowers of every hue and color now bursting into fragrant bloom, Louisiana is the garden spot of this nation, and it is doubtful that General Dean, despite his great contribution to the Yalta Report, would claim to deserve the favor of residence among us.

Almost every posthole dug in Louisiana spouts gas or oil, or harbors the finest of fresh water fishing — as by your visit you may testify — and we hope you will see the wisdom of retracting your implied reflection on our state, and your inference that our "Siberia" is here in Louisiana.

ROBERT C. ERVIN

The World Universe

Jonesboro, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Your editorial on the small part we as a planet play in the World Universe was most interesting.

Few people realize that we are such a small part and yet such an important part of this World Universe.

We live from day to day knowing that one of those days will be our last as a functioning part of this universal order as far as life on this planet is concerned. We live in the faith of a future. There is probably no doubt that for those deserving there is a future, however, a lot of people are fooled if they expect that their prospects for a future are not based on the life they live on this planet.

There is no doubt but that universal progress is evolutionary and that we forever cease to exist in order to advance to a higher standard of life probably on some other planet. The universal order is to destroy or change all material things and from a germ of life create new, religiously speaking, for humans will call this germ of life the soul of man, or the life in man that never ceases to exist. The functions of the universal order are so synchronized, so that in keeping if there be a future life for man, such life must and will be on some other planet. The universal functions relative to planets have never and will never change. It is probable that we may develop a means of contact with other planets. We are gradually nearing that point and when we do we shall find the reward for those who were deserving.

How Oft to Church?

HOW often do you go to church? . . . How often do you pray? . . . And when you turn your thoughts to God . . . What are the words you say? . . . Do you express your gratitude . . . For all that He has done . . . To help you conquer obstacles . . . In battles you have won? . . . Or do you go to church because . . . It seems the thing to do . . . And maybe, superstitiously . . . It spells good luck for you? . . . There is no game of any kind . . . That you can play with God . . . But as you serve Him well, you will . . . Receive His gracious nod . . . And as you worship in His house . . . And honor Him today . . . He will reward you for your love . . . And for your friendly way.

Like Favorite Son Coming Home

Graham Gets Royal Welcome By Scots

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 19 (AP)—It was Billy Graham Day in Scotland and nae doot aboot it.

The American evangelist got a welcome on his arrival today that caused traffic jams in Glasgow and reverberated in the hills and glens of highlands and lowlands. He is here to start a six-week evangelistic crusade.

Scotsmen discovered he is of Scottish origin, and it was as if a favorite son had come home.

Graham wiped everything else off the front pages of Glasgow's three evening newspapers.

"He Bounds From Train With Beaming Smile," said a black headline across the top of the Evening Times.

"Thousands Sing A Welcome," said an equally black headline dominating the Evening Citizen.

"Glasgow Opens Its Arms To Billy," said the Evening News in three smashing lines on page one.

Graham, full of zest and in top form, was a little bewildered by it all.

"It's going to be harder than the London crusade last year," he said in an interview.

"In London, no one expected very much, but it turned out to be a very fine success. Here, everyone expects so much and we shall need God's help to achieve the results for which we pray."

There was no shortage of the prayers he feels he needs. Six Glasgow churches held all night prayer sessions. Many hundreds pleaded for Divine support of the nightly revival services which will begin in the four-acre Kelvin Hall on Monday evening.

Charwomen and office girls stayed at the all night services until it was time to go to work. Others with time to spare remained until the hour to go to the railway station to meet the evangelist.

Across Scotland, from the border city of Dumfries to Glasgow, the welcoming hymn was a Graham favorite: "This Is My Story, This Is My Song." Apparently it is destined to become a theme song of the all-Scotland crusade.

At a news conference Graham shunned discussion of subjects which might bring differences between religious groups.

"We agree on so much, there is no need to emphasize the differences," he said.

He wouldn't talk about divorce—possibly because it might be an entering wedge for speculation on reports that Princess Margaret intends to marry a divorced man.

Politics was out. He had nothing to say about the Yalta papers.

Wisdom Critical Of Gallup's Talk On South's GOP

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — John Minor Wisdom, Republican national committeeman for Louisiana, today denounced public opinion expert Dr. George Gallup for "talking through his hat" when he said the Republicans worked through political henchmen in the South.

Wisdom said that most of the top Republicans he knows in the South are amateurs and "that is one of our weaknesses from the standpoint of a political organization."

Gallup was quoted as saying that the Republicans "tried to work in the South through political henchmen" in an interview while he was here to address the Public Affairs Research Council yesterday.

Wisdom conceded that the pollster was "right in saying that the South needs a two-party system."

He said the GOP has a long way to go "not because of Dr. Gallup's reason," but because of two other reasons. These are:

1. Louisiana's outmoded laws are rigged to set up a one-party system.

2. Voters are reluctant to change their registration until nomination in a Democratic primary is no longer equivalent to election.

Wisdom named two remedies: Change the laws or do it the hard way by building from the ground up.

Strike Expected At Sugar Mill In South Louisiana

RESERVE, La. March 19 —UP — Sugar refinery and union officials today prepared for an expected strike when they failed to arrive at a new contract after 10 months of bargaining.

Alvin A. Vicknair, field representative for Union Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) said the work contract ended with the Godchaux Sugars, Inc., refinery at 4 p.m. today.

He said members of local union 1124 voted March 12, 670 to 33, in favor of a strike, but no date has been set for the walkout.

The present contract was signed in July, 1953.

The union seeks a contract similar to one signed recently by the American Sugar Refining Co. at Chalmette which gives a 10-cent an hour wage increase and fringe benefits amounting to four cents an hour.

Godchaux has offered a five-cent an hour wage increase on the grounds that earnings have declined because of the competition from beet sugar and molasses.

Company president Leon Godchaux II announced a meeting at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Leon Godchaux high school here for refinery employes and the public. Bob Holland, chairman of the board of directors and George Scanlon, executive committee chairman, will speak.

Godchaux claims that the five cent-an-hour wage increase it has offered would make the company's wage rates the second highest among seven Louisiana refineries and the highest outside New Orleans.

Kennon Replaces Shivers As Guest At Economic Meet

JACKSON, Miss., March 19 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana will replace Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas as guest speaker at the sixth annual Mississippi Economic Council meeting April 12.

A. Boyd Campbell, chairman of the annual meeting committee, announced the change today. He said Shivers notified him of illness in the family and asked to be excused.

Keynote speaker at the banquet will be Gen. Mark Clark.

O. H. Roberts Jr. of Evansville, Ind., president of the National school Boards Association, will direct the afternoon forum on education.

Auto Dealers In War Over Prices In Florida City

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19 (AP)—A Ford dealer's offer of a new car for $1.25 a week for the first year has been countered by a lower weekly purchase price plan from other dealers here.

Seventeen dealers representing General Motors, Chrysler, Packard and Studebaker cars in a joint advertisement today offered new automobiles for as little as 95 cents a week for the first 52 weeks.

Under both plans the unpaid balance at the end of the year is refinanced and paid off in 24 equal monthly payments The purchaser must own a "good 1952 or later model automobile to trade," and pay a year's insurance in cash.

The 17 dealers said in their advertisement they did not endorse the plan because it will cost additional money to finance the purchase and "the result is abnormally high monthly payments and higher finance charges on the refinancing."

One independent offered 20 per cent discount off list for certain 1955 model cars.

Parishes Must Aid Financing Of City Elections

BATON ROUGE March 19 —UP — Parishes are required to help cities finance costs of primary costs of primary elections for city judges and marshals the state attorney general ruled in an opinion made public today.

District Attorney Leonard Greenburg of Lafourche parish held that Thibodaux must pay all the costs of a recent primary for the two officers.

G. G. Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer of the parish police jury, then asked for an opinion from Asst. Atty. Gen. Carroll Buck.

Buck held the two posts are not exclusively municipal because the officers "have functions to perform which are not strictly confined to municipal affairs, such as matters pertaining to certain police jury ordinances.. ."

He suggested the city and parish split their share of the costs 50-50.

Model Of Rehabilitation Center Exhibit Feature

An exhibit, featuring the architectural model of Monroe's planned Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, has been set up in the lobby of the Ouachita National Bank.

A. F. Canizaro, president of the Ouachita Unit, Louisiana Chapter for Crippled children and Adults, urged citizens of Ouachita, and adjoining parishes which will be served by the Center, to visit the exhibit.

In addition to the architectural model, the exhibit includes photographs illustrating the various types of services provided in such a center. These include physical, speech, and occupational therapy, vocational guidance and training, special education, pyschological and other services needed by the physically disabled and administered under thorough medical direction.

Canizaro emphasized that some of the services already are being provided through the unit's Easter Seal program.

"In view of the increasing support we are receiving for the Center," he explained, "we felt that such an exhibit would serve to give the public a better understanding of the purpose of such a facility. Its purpose goes far beyond charity. Its aim is to restore physically handicapped persons, both children and adults, to self-supporting and self-respecting places in the community. Its advantages, in a sense, can be compared to that of a new industry."

Proceeds from the Junior Charity League's Follies, to be staged in Neville High Auditorium March 26 will go toward the Center's Building Fund. Funds obtained in the current Easter Seal campaign will be used to equip and staff the building, Canizaro said.

The Center, he added, will be the first such comprehensive facility in the state. It is to be located on a site now owned by the Easter Seal organization on KNOE Road.

Louisiana Loses In Stand Against Treaty On Shrimp

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19 (AP)—The Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission beat down by a narrow margin here yesterday a resolution opposing a shrimp treaty between the United States and Mexico.

A proposed States Rights resolution by Lee Eddy, chief of the Louisiana Fish and Wildlife Service, was defeated at the commission's semi-annual meeting with Alabama's members splitting 1-1, Texas voting against it and Florida not voting either way.

Mississippi had no voting member present at the time. Sen. Hermes Gautier, president of the commission, is from that state but as chairman he was not permitted to vote.

Only the Louisiana commissioners supported Eddy's resolution which was similar to others defeated in previous meetings of the group.

Wisdom Critical Of Gallup's Talk On South's GOP

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — John Minor Wisdom, Republican national committeeman for Louisiana, today denounced public opinion expert Dr. George Gallup for "talking through his hat" when he said the Republicans worked through political henchmen in the South.

Wisdom said that most of the top Republicans he knows in the South are amateurs and "that is one of our weaknesses from the standpoint of a political organization."

Gallup was quoted as saying that the Republicans "tried to work in the South through political henchmen" in an interview while he was here to address the Public Affairs Research Council yesterday.

Wisdom conceded that the pollster was "right in saying that the South needs a two-party system."

He said the GOP has a long way to go "not because of Dr. Gallup's reason," but because of two other reasons. These are:

1. Louisiana's outmoded laws are rigged to set up a one-party system.

2. Voters are reluctant to change their registration until nomination in a Democratic primary is no longer equivalent to election.

Wisdom named two remedies: Change the laws or do it the hard way by building from the ground up.

Strike Expected At Sugar Mill In South Louisiana

RESERVE, La. March 19 —UP — Sugar refinery and union officials today prepared for an expected strike when they failed to arrive at a new contract after 10 months of bargaining.

Alvin A. Vicknair, field representative for Union Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) said the work contract ended with the Godchaux Sugars, Inc., refinery at 4 p.m. today.

He said members of local union 1124 voted March 12, 670 to 33, in favor of a strike, but no date has been set for the walkout.

The present contract was signed in July, 1953.

The union seeks a contract similar to one signed recently by the American Sugar Refining Co. at Chalmette which gives a 10-cent an hour wage increase and fringe benefits amounting to four cents an hour.

Godchaux has offered a five-cent an hour wage increase on the grounds that earnings have declined because of the competition from beet sugar and molasses.

Company president Leon Godchaux II announced a meeting at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Leon Godchaux high school here for refinery employes and the public. Bob Holland, chairman of the board of directors and George Scanlon, executive committee chairman, will speak.

Godchaux claims that the five cent-an-hour wage increase it has offered would make the company's wage rates the second highest among seven Louisiana refineries and the highest outside New Orleans.

Kennon Replaces Shivers As Guest At Economic Meet

JACKSON, Miss., March 19 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana will replace Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas as guest speaker at the sixth annual Mississippi Economic Council meeting April 12.

A. Boyd Campbell, chairman of the annual meeting committee, announced the change today. He said Shivers notified him of illness in the family and asked to be excused.

Keynote speaker at the banquet will be Gen. Mark Clark.

O. H. Roberts Jr. of Evansville, Ind., president of the National school Boards Association, will direct the afternoon forum on education.

Auto Dealers In War Over Prices In Florida City

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19 (AP)—A Ford dealer's offer of a new car for $1.25 a week for the first year has been countered by a lower weekly purchase price plan from other dealers here.

Seventeen dealers representing General Motors, Chrysler, Packard and Studebaker cars in a joint advertisement today offered new automobiles for as little as 95 cents a week for the first 52 weeks.

Under both plans the unpaid balance at the end of the year is refinanced and paid off in 24 equal monthly payments The purchaser must own a "good 1952 or later model automobile to trade," and pay a year's insurance in cash.

The 17 dealers said in their advertisement they did not endorse the plan because it will cost additional money to finance the purchase and "the result is abnormally high monthly payments and higher finance charges on the refinancing."

One independent offered 20 per cent discount off list for certain 1955 model cars.

Parishes Must Aid Financing Of City Elections

BATON ROUGE March 19 —UP — Parishes are required to help cities finance costs of primary costs of primary elections for city judges and marshals the state attorney general ruled in an opinion made public today.

District Attorney Leonard Greenburg of Lafourche parish held that Thibodaux must pay all the costs of a recent primary for the two officers.

G. G. Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer of the parish police jury, then asked for an opinion from Asst. Atty. Gen. Carroll Buck.

Buck held the two posts are not exclusively municipal because the officers "have functions to perform which are not strictly confined to municipal affairs, such as matters pertaining to certain police jury ordinances.."

He suggested the city and parish split their share of the costs 50-50.

Halves of fresh pears filled with creamstyle cottage cheese and garnished with crisp green pepper rings make fine lunch or supper salads. Arrange the pears on lettuce and serve the salad with mayonnaise or French dressing.

In Easter Seal Program

Model Of Rehabilitation Center Exhibit Feature

An exhibit, featuring the architectural model of Monroe's planned Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, has been set up in the lobby of the Ouachita National Bank.

A. F. Canizaro, president of the Ouachita Unit, Louisiana Chapter for Crippled children and Adults, urged citizens of Ouachita, and adjoining parishes which will be served by the Center, to visit the exhibit.

In addition to the architectural model, the exhibit includes photographs illustrating the various types of services provided in such a center. These include physical, speech, and occupational therapy, vocational guidance and training, special education, pyschological and other services needed by the physically disabled and administered under thorough medical direction.

Canizaro emphasized that some of the services already are being provided through the unit's Easter Seal program.

"In view of the increasing support we are receiving for the Center," he explained, "we felt that such an exhibit would serve to give the public a better understanding of the purpose of such a facility. Its purpose goes far beyond charity. Its aim is to restore physically handicapped persons, both children and adults, to self-supporting and self-respecting places in the community. Its advantages, in a sense, can be compared to that of a new industry."

Proceeds from the Junior Charity League's Follies, to be staged in Neville High Auditorium March 26 will go toward the Center's Building Fund. Funds obtained in the current Easter Seal campaign will be used to equip and staff the building, Canizaro said.

The Center, he added, will be the first such comprehensive facility in the state. It is to be located on a site now owned by the Easter Seal organization on KNOE Road.

Louisiana Loses In Stand Against Treaty On Shrimp

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19 (AP)—The Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission beat down by a narrow margin here yesterday a resolution opposing a shrimp treaty between the United States and Mexico.

A proposed States Rights resolution by Lee Eddy, chief of the Louisiana Fish and Wildlife Service, was defeated at the commission's semi-annual meeting with Alabama's members splitting 1-1, Texas voting against it and Florida not voting either way.

Mississippi had no voting member present at the time. Sen. Hermes Gautier, president of the commission, is from that state but as chairman he was not permitted to vote.

Only the Louisiana commissioners supported Eddy's resolution which was similar to others defeated in previous meetings of the group.

the move to create the new post on his own initiative and discussed it with him some time ago. But the Cabinet was informed only yestoday, and today's announcement was a surprise to members of Congress.

The proposal won initial bipartisan support, however, on Capitol Hill.

The President said, in a statement issued at the White House, that Stassen will be responsible "for developing, on behalf of the President and the State Department, the broad studies, investigations and conclusions which, when concurred in by the National Security council and approved by the President, will become basic policy toward the question of disarmament.

"When indicated as desirable or appropriate under our constitutional processes, concurrences will be secured from the Congress prior to specific action or pronouncement of policy."

The President made it plain be is thinking of a program avoiding "the tragic consequences of unilateral disarmament" and taking into account the threat of aggression from heavily armed Communist powers if Western strength is low.

The announcement answered a prevalent Washington question of what job the administration would find for Stassen on the fold-up of FOA. Three times governor of Minnesota and twice a presidential candidate, Stassen gave Eisenhower the nomination on the first ballot in the 1951 convention by releasing the Stassen Favorite Son Minnesota delegation.

Stassen said he would continue drawing his FOA salary—$22,000 a year—for the present. Presidential press secretary James E. Haggerty told newsmen the new job would pay the same as the four other special presidential assistants—$20,000 annually.

No Solution To Railroad Strike; Talks In Recess

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 19 (AP) Negotiations toward settlement of the six-day-old Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike broke off late today for a "working recess" of several days.

Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement who called the face-to-face conference of union and railroad representatives in his office yesterday, said conferences would be resumed at some date to be determined later.

He said that date would not be set before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

"The calling of this recess by no means, by implication or otherwise, can be considered a failure," he said. "We are taking a working recess for the purpose of analyzing what has gone on these past two days and seeking methods for solving these problems."

Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National Mediation Board, who sat in on the three conferences yesterday and today, said he would continue his study of the problems.

Course Laid Out For Fourth Annual Teen-Age Rod-E-O

The course for the fourth annual teen - age road-e-o, sponsored locally by the Monroe West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been laid out at Selman field, in preparation for the event, David Masur, chairman of the road-e-o committee, announced Saturday morning. The course, consisting of every type of test facing drivers, was laid out by L. T. (Dick) Harper, city engineer, the chairman said.

The road-e-o, designed to locate the safest and best driver among high school students will be held at Selman Field next Sunday.

All teen-agers, boys and girls, who holding a driving permit or license, are eligible to enter the safe-driving contest. The local winner will be sent to the state contest, which is slated for Ruston later this year. State winners will compete for $3,000 in scholarships in a national contest July 25-29 in Washington, D. C.

Youngsters desiring to enter the contest are urged to contact the following persons at the four high schools: Dan McClure, West Monroe High; Gregory LaBlanc, Ouachita Parish High; Sister Patricia, St. Matthews High; and Paul J. Neal, Neville High School.

Plumbing Group Approves Public Relations Drive

"Plumbing is big business."

This statement came from Ben H. McBeth, executive-secretary of the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Louisiana, yesterday afternoon after one of the "policy forming" meetings of the group, holding their annual convention here.

In this meeting, the body of representatives voted unanimously to support or go along with a national public relations program.

"Plumbing has always been big business but not so in the eyes of the public," according to McBeth, and this program will be the means of getting across the idea to John Q. that plumbers are not just guys walking around in overalls lugging a connection wrench."

McBeth stated that the plumber is intimately associated with the department of health in that his installations, which are governed by certain codes, help to protect the health of the citizenry.

Presenting and pointing out the nucleus of the proposed national public relations program, which basically will be presentations of "what the plumber is and what he does," was Robert T. Morrill, first vice - president of the National Association of Plumbing Contractors.

Along this line of explanations of plumbers and their work, McBeth pointed out that the association was available to furnish information to municipalities, towns, and cities, and individuals concerning plumbing codes, plumbing facilities, etc.

Two south Louisianians, Hubert Herbert, Jr., and Theodore Belaskey, unable to attend the convention, were elected to the two top spots in the 1955-56 listings of association officers.

Herbert was elected as the fiscal year president, while Belaskey will take position of first vice-president.

Belaskey, of Baton Rouge, suffered a heart attack Tuesday and is presently in a New Orleans hospital. Herbert's "expectant wife" was his reason for being unable to attend the meeting.

Other elected officers were: C. W. Balinger, Natchitoches, second vice-president; Dominick Messina, Shreveport, secretary; re-elected as the associations treasurer was C. N. Finley, of New Orleans.

Rounding out the two - day convention, which had an approximate registration of 125 members, was a banquet and dance held last night at the Crystal Ballroom at the Virginia Hotel.

Featured speaker at the banquet was the humorist Jimmy Arrington, mayor of Collins, Miss.

more strongly that some other nations, including Russia, would hesitate to sit down with American representatives if all of the conversations were to be made public.

Beyond that, he said it was a "mistake" to make public secret papers without full approv of other governments involved. The British have objected to releasing the papers now and Churchill has contended they contain some errors.

Knowland said he remains confident that the records of other international conferences will be published "in an orderly manner."

Previously he had said he would press for disclosure within a year of official papers on the 1943 Tehran conference between Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin as well as the 1945 meeting at Potsdam attended by former President Truman.

He was not limiting his demand to meetings which took place when the Democrats were in power, Knowland said.He said he was interested in seeing published the record of last year's Geneva conference, where an Indochina settlement was reached with the Communists.

Secretary of State Dulles said the record of a number of international meetings would be made public but he did not know the schedule of releases.

He was asked at the airport on his return from a two-day visit to Ottawa if these would include the Potsdam meeting.

"I just don't know," he said. "A lot of these things are in the works. The historians are in charge of that."

At Potsdam, the conferees planned the next blows at Japan and discussed the future of defeated Germany.

Dulles said he did not know anything about possible British objections to disclosing the secret record of the Potsdam meeting.

as long as they could for the income tax cut, and they were yielding only to preserve the corporate and excise revenues and to prevent confusion if nothing were done by the April 1 deadline.

They added they expect to continue to make a big issue of charges that the Republican sponsored tax bill of last year "favored the wealthy and big corporations" and neglected the average taxpayer.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey fought the Democratic tax cut plan all the way, calling it financially irresponsible at this time and a possible breeder of inflation.

Eisenhower has said continued reductions in federal spending might justify a tax cut next year. He has indicated at least part of any such reduction should be spread among low income groups.

Informants said the pressures have come from:

His wife and his doctor, Lord Moran, who have worried about his health, especially after he suffered strokes in 1950 and 1953. The 1953 stroke left him temporarily speechless and paralyzed; and

His Conservative party associates, who argue that the country must get used to Eden as Prime Minister before the party swings into another election campaign.

The Old Man has always firmly resisted the pressures in the past. Associates said he felt impelled by his sense of duty to stay in office and strive for a lasting peace with Russia. It is known that he wants to go down in history as an architect of world peace as well as a great war leader.

One informant said that some months ago he quipped that his heavy duties are what keep him well.

"I could not last long out of office," he was quoted as saying in a half-serious, half-jocular manner.

Ten days ago Churchill came down with a cold, and new concern for his health was felt. He announced his plans for a vacation next month in Sicily, his first in 18 months.

Almost simultaneously the opposition Labor party split wide open in a row between Leftwinger Aneurin Bevan and the party moderates.

Onlookers Fail To Stop Suicide Of Negro Youth

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — Police said today that two onlookers rushed to the side of an 18-year-old Negro too late to stop him from firing a pistol bullet into his head.

They said Bing Conerly, Negro, walked from the bar into the kitchen of a barroom early today, picked up a pistol on a table and fired.

Barmaid Juanita Hollins, 39, Negro, told police she and Gerald Bade, 31, Negro customer, tried to take the gun from Conerly.

The President made it plain he is thinking of a program avoiding "the tragic consequences of unilateral disarmament" and taking into account the threat of aggression from heavily armed Communist powers if Western strength is low.

The announcement answered a prevalent Washington question of what job the administration would find for Stassen on the fold-up of FOA. Three times governor of Minnesota and twice a presidential candidate, Stassen gave Eisenhower the nomination on the first ballot in the 1951 convention by releasing the Stassen Favorite Son Minnesota delegation.

Stassen said he would continue drawing his FOA salary—$22,000 a year—for the present. Presidential press secretary James E. Haggerty told newsmen the new job would pay the same as the four other special presidential assistants—$20,000 annually.

No Solution To Railroad Strike; Talks In Recess

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 19 (AP) Negotiations toward settlement of the six-day-old Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike broke off late today for a "working recess" of several days.

Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement who called the face-to-face conference of union and railroad representatives in his office yesterday, said conferences would be resumed at some date to be determined later.

He said that date would not be set before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

"The calling of this recess by no means, by implication or otherwise, can be considered a failure," he said. "We are taking a working recess for the purpose of analyzing what has gone on these past two days and seeking methods for solving these problems."

Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National Mediation Board, who sat in on the three conferences yesterday and today, said he would continue his study of the problems.

Course Laid Out For Fourth Annual Teen-Age Rod-E-O

The course for the fourth annual teen - age road-e-o, sponsored locally by the Monroe . West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been laid out at Selman field, in preparation for the event, David Masur, chairman of the road-e-o committee, announced Saturday morning. The course, consisting of every type of test facing drivers, was laid out by L. T. (Dick) Harper, city engineer, the chairman said.

Plumbing Group Approves Public Relations Drive

"Plumbing is big business."

This statement came from Ben H. McBeth, executive-secretary of the Associated Plumbing Contractors of Louisiana, yesterday afternoon after one of the "policy forming" meetings of the group, holding their annual convention here.

In this meeting, the body of representatives voted unanimously to support or go along with a national public relations program.

"Plumbing has always been big business but not so in the eyes of the public," according to McBeth, and this program will be the means of getting across the idea to John Q. that plumbers are not just guys walking around in overalls lugging a connection wrench."

McBeth stated that the plumber is intimately associated with the department of health in that his installations, which are governed by certain codes, help to protect the health of the citizenry.

Presenting and pointing out the nucleus of the proposed national public relations program, which basically will be presentations of "what the plumber is and what he does," was Robert T. Morrill, first vice - president of the National Association of Plumbing Contractors.

Along this line of explanations of plumbers and their work, McBeth pointed out that the association was available to furnish information to municipalities, towns, and cities, and individuals concerning plumbing codes, plumbing facilities, etc.

Two south Louisianians, Hubert Herbert, Jr., and Theodore Belaskey, unable to attend the convention, were elected to the two top spots in the 1955-56 listings of association officers.

Herbert was elected as the fiscal year president, while Belaskey will take position of first vice-president.

Belaskey, of Baton Rouge, suffered a heart attack Tuesday and is presently in a New Orleans hospital. Herbert's "expectant wife" was his reason for being unable to attend the meeting.

Other elected officers were: C. W. Balinger, Natchitoches, second vice-president; Dominick Messina, Shreveport, secretary; re-elected as the associations treasurer was C. N. Finley, of New Orleans.

Rounding out the two - day convention, which had an approximate registration of 125 members, was a banquet and dance held last night at the Crystal Ballroom at the Virginia Hotel.

Featured speaker at the banquet was the humorist Jimmy Arrington, mayor of Collins, Miss.

more strongly that some other nations, including Russia, would hesitate to sit down with American representatives if all of the conversations were to be made public.

Beyond that, he said it was a "mistake" to make public secret papers without full approval of other governments involved. The British have objected to releasing the papers now and Churchill has contended they contain some errors.

Knowland said he remains confident that the records of other international conferences will be published "in an orderly manner."

Previously he had said he would press for disclosure within a year of official papers on the 1943 Tehran conference between Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin as well as the 1945 meeting at Potsdam attended by former President Truman.

He was not limiting his demand to meetings which took place when the Democrats were in power, Knowland said.He said he was interested in seeing published the record of last year's Geneva conference, where an Indochina settlement was reached with the Communists.

Secretary of State Dulles said the record of a number of international meetings would be made public but he did not know the schedule of releases.

He was asked at the airport on his return from a two-day visit to Ottawa if these would include the Potsdam meeting.

"I just don't know," he said. "A lot of these things are in the works. The historians are in charge of that."

At Potsdam, the conferees planned the next blows at Japan and discussed the future of defeated Germany.

Dulles said he did not know anything about possible British objections to disclosing the secret record of the Potsdam meeting.

as long as they could for the income tax cut, and they were yielding only to preserve the corporate and excise revenues and to prevent confusion if nothing were done by the April 1 deadline.

They added they expect to continue to make a big issue of charges that the Republican sponsored tax bill of last year "favored the wealthy and big corporations" and neglected the average taxpayer.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey fought the Democratic tax cut plan all the way, calling it financially irresponsible at this time and a possible breeder of inflation.

Eisenhower has said continued reductions in federal spending might justify a tax cut next year. He has indicated at least part of any such reduction should be spread among low income groups.

Informants said the pressures have come from:

His wife and his doctor, Lord Moran, who have worried about his health, especially after he suffered strokes in 1950 and 1953. The 1953 stroke left him temporarily speechless and paralyzed; and

His Conservative party associates, who argue that the country must get used to Eden as Prime Minister before the party swings into another election campaign.

The Old Man has always firmly resisted the pressures in the past. Associates said he felt impelled by his sense of duty to stay in office and strive for a lasting peace with Russia. It is known that he wants to go down in history as an architect of world peace as well as a great war leader.

One informant said that some months ago he quipped that his heavy duties are what keep him well.

"I could not last long out of office," he was quoted as saying in a half-serious, half-jocular manner.

Ten days ago Churchill came down with a cold, and new concern for his health was felt. He announced his plans for a vacation next month in Sicily, his first in 18 months.

Almost simultaneously the opposition Labor party split wide open in a row between Leftwinger Aneurin Bevan and the party moderates.

Onlookers Fail To Stop Suicide Of Negro Youth

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — Police said today that two onlookers rushed to the side of an 18-year-old Negro too late to stop him from firing a pistol bullet into his head.

They said Bing Conerly, Negro, walked from the bar into the kitchen of a barroom early today, picked up a pistol on a table and fired.

Barmaid Juanita Hollins, 39, Negro, told police she and Gerald Bade, 31, Negro customer, tried to take the gun from Conerly.

Northeast Group Staging Showing Of 'Don Quixote'

The Women's Club of Northeast State is sponsoring the showing of a screen play adaptation of Cervantes' "Don Quixote de La Mancha" Monday at 3:30 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. The movie, a Spanish production directed by Rafael Gil, will be shown in Brown Auditorium.

Admission is 30 cents.

"Don Quixote" is a pathetically comic story of Senor Alonso Quijano, who fancied himself a knight errant, and although at an advanced age and in precarious health, determined to set out to relieve the distressed peoples of the world.

The production is a blend of sophistication and fairy tale quality which should endear the picture to the younger generation as well as adult audiences, according to the club's committee in charge of arrangements of the show.

It is filled with beautiful scenery and the actors wear attractive period costumes.

Musical backgrounds are expertly timed to the story action, and the English titles give a fine interpretation of Cervantes' novel, which is considered not only Spain's finest literary classic but a book which ranks among the world's greatest.

NATCHITOCHES, La. March 19 —UP— Dr. John Kyser, president of Northwestern State College since last July, has been named "Man of the Year" by the Natchitoches Chamber of Commerce.

Kyser, formerly a faculty member at the school, has been instrumental in setting up a graduate study program which was authorized by the 1954 Legislature.

In accepting the award, Dr. Kyser, 52, praised residents of the area for cooperating with the college in its expanding program.

Housing Outlook Is Brighter For Impounded Dogs

By BILL ANDERSON
(Staff Writer)

The aged expression, "leading a dogs life," will literally have a new meaning in Ouachita Parish beginning tomorrow, especially for strays picked up by the parish dog catcher, for the animals will be housed in the new pound, which is described as one of the best in the state.

The new pound, built almost entirely of materials salvaged from the former air base here, was completed this past week. Although built by the City of Monroe, it will be used for the impounding of animals picked up throughout the parish.

Unlike the dank, dark building formerly used for the impounding of stray dogs, the new structure is large and airy. It has five large pens, each opening onto outside runs. The impounded animals will be placed in the pens with dogs of similar size, eliminating the possibility of the smaller animals being starved while the larger animals get more than their share of the food.

"While impounded," Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the Parish Health Unit, said, "the dogs will receive the best possible treatment. They will be fed once a day with a commercial dog food, and will have ample supply of water at all times. It also will be possible for them to enter the outside runs whenever they desire."

He pointed out that the entire pound will be cleaned and disenfected daily.

A section of individual pens will be provided for animals which are being held for observation. These dogs will be impounded for not less than 10 days, while others will be held for a period of five days before being disposed of, he said.

At the end of the five, or ten days, if the dog has not been claimed it will be disposed of, he continued. However, anyone desiring to obtain one of the impounded dogs as a pet may do so at the end of the impounding period providing the animal has not been claimed and is not diseased — by paying a $3 pound fee and by having the animal vaccinated against rabies.

The pound is also equipped with outside lighting, in an effort to discourage vandalism, which was prevalent at the previous pound. Dr. Summer said that the pound is public property and that any one found breaking in or releasing the impounded animals will be prosecuted for destruction of public property. He also pointed out that in breaking into the pound a person may be bitten by an infected dog, which could result in death to the trespasser.

A high fence topped with barbed wire has been erected around the entire pound as an added security against trespassers.

Dr. Summer explained that the pound will be open from 2 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday to give area residents an opportunity to claim dogs which have been picked up. Both Dr. Summer and Mayor John E. Coon have entered an invitation to the public to inspect the pound.

"We are very proud of pound," Summer and Coon said, "It is one of the best in the state and something we have needed for a long time."

District Music Festival Awards Are Made Here

High school and elementary music students, musical groups, and baton twirlers, composed of approximately 3,000 persons, received ratings at the State Music Festival of District One held Friday and Saturday at Northeast State College.

Dr. Harry M. Lemert, head of the Music department at Northeast and chairman of the festival, said in commenting on the two-day festivities, "This was one of the largest festivals of its kind, and will prove to be a success in every way both to the students and instructors."

There are four districts in the state with District One comprising 15 parishes. Each year these festivals are sponsored by the Louisiana Music Educators Association, according to Lemert.

Dr. Lemert expressed a thankful note to all of those who helped in any manner to bring about the success of the festival.

An echelon of 14 judges from over the southland and Ohio State University graded the entrants.

Key to the ratings listed below is as follows: I, Superior; II, Excellent; III, Very Good; IV, Good; and V, Fair. Rated were:

Uranium Creates New Problem In Texas Legislature

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—Texas lawmakers who have learned a lot about oil and gas in 25 years are now up against a new mineral headache that may get worse: Uranium.

One of the new and tough problems hanging over the Legislature is whether to put uranium exploration on the same legal basis with oil and gas hunting.

Some legislators said the oil and gas laws built up in this major producing state's years of statute-writing on oil just won't apply to uranium.

Sen. George Moffet of Chillicothe, from an oil and gas district, put it this way in a recent committee hearing:

"Trying to develop uranium prospecting under oil and gas lease law is like trying to raise cotton and cabbage the same way. You just can't do it."

An encouraging uranium find was reported in South Texas four weeks ago. Geologists were reportedly checking uranium possibilities with low-flying scintillator-bearing planes that are becoming commonplace in the area.

The biggest play may come in that rugged part of Texas west of the Pecos River. There have been no reports of confirmed uranium discoveries, but ranchers in the vast region have been pushing a bill that would let them share hard-mineral lease royalties with the state.

The bill is predicated on a 1919 law that let owners of former state public school land share in oil and gas royalties. It would apply to 7½ million acres of West Texas land now privately owned but on which the state still holds exclusive interest in hard minerals.

The bill passed the House after much wrangling, but hit a snag in the Senate when mining men cried it would kill uranium mining in its infancy.

They said the proposed 12½ per cent royalty on ore at the mouth of the mine—to be split between the state and the landowner — would prove too high. They said it would scare off the "risk capital" needed for the financially-hazardous business of hunting for uranium.

Legislators to whom oil and gas lawmaking is easy routine, are rying to puzzle out what the immediate and long range effects of the atomic age will be on the petroleum industry.

Housing Outlook Is Brighter For Impounded Dogs

By BILL ANDERSON
(Staff Writer)

The aged expression, "leading a dogs life," will literally have a new meaning in Ouachita Parish beginning tomorrow, especially for strays picked up by the parish dog catcher, for the animals will be housed in the new pound, which is described as one of the best in the state.

The new pound, built almost entirely of materials salvaged from the former air base here, was completed this past week. Although built by the City of Monroe, it will be used for the impounding of animals picked up throughout the parish.

Unlike the dank, dark building formerly used for the impounding of stray dogs, the new structure is large and airy. It has five large pens, each opening onto outside runs. The impounded animals will be placed in the pens with dogs of similar size, eliminating the possibility of the smaller animals being starved while the larger animals get more than their share of the food.

"While impounded," Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the Parish Health Unit, said, "the dogs will receive the best possible treatment. They will be fed once a day with a commercial dog food, and will have ample supply of water at all times. It also will be possible for them to enter the outside runs whenever they desire."

He pointed out that the entire pound will be cleaned and disenfected daily.

A section of individual pens will be provided for animals which are being held for observation. These dogs will be impounded for not less than 10 days, while others will be held for a period of five days before being disposed of, he said.

At the end of the five, or ten days, if the dog has not been claimed it will be disposed of, he continued. However, anyone desiring to obtain one of the impounded dogs as a pet may do so at the end of the impounding period—providing the animal has not been claimed and is not diseased—by paying a $3 pound fee and by having the animal vaccinated against rabies.

The pound is also equipped with outside lighting, in an effort to discourage vandalism, which was prevalent at the previous pound. Dr. Summer said that the pound is public property and that any one found breaking in, or releasing the impounded animals will be prosecuted for destruction of public property. He also pointed out that in breaking into the pound a person may be bitten by an infected dog, which could result in death to the trespasser.

A high fence topped with barbed wire has been erected around the entire pound as an added security against trespassers.

Dr. Summer explained that the pound will be open from 2 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday to give area residents an opportunity to claim dogs which have been picked up. Both Dr. Summer and Mayor John E. Coon have entered an invitation to the public to inspect the pound.

"We are very proud of pound," Summer and Coon said, "It is one of the best in the state and something we have needed for a long time."

District Music Festival Awards Are Made Here

High school and elementary music students, musical groups, and baton twirlers, composed of approximately 3,000 persons, received ratings at the State Music Festival of District One held Friday and Saturday at Northeast State College.

Dr. Harry M. Lemert, head of the Music department at Northeast and chairman of the festival, said in commenting on the two-day festivities, "This was one of the largest festivals of its kind, and will prove to be a success in every way both to the students and instructors."

There are four districts in the state with District One comprising 15 parishes. Each year these festivals are sponsored by the Louisiana Music Educators Association, according to Lemert.

Dr. Lemert expressed a thankful note to all of those who helped in any manner to bring about the success of the festival.

An echelon of 14 judges from over the southland and Ohio State University graded the entrants.

Key to the ratings listed below is as follows: I, Superior; II, Excellent; III, Very Good; IV, Good; and V, Fair. Rated were:

Uranium Creates New Problem In Texas Legislature

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—Texas lawmakers who have learned a lot about oil and gas in 25 years are now up against a new mineral headache that may get worse: Uranium.

One of the new and tough problems hanging over the Legislature is whether to put uranium exploration on the same legal basis with oil and gas hunting.

Some legislators said the oil and gas laws built up in this major producing state's years of statute-writing on oil just won't apply to uranium.

Sen. George Moffet of Chillicothe, from an oil and gas district, put it this way in a recent committee hearing:

"Trying to develop uranium prospecting under oil and gas lease law is like trying to raise cotton and cabbage the same way. You just can't do it."

An encouraging uranium find was reported in South Texas four weeks ago. Geologists were reportedly checking uranium possibilities with low-flying scintillator-bearing planes that are becoming commonplace in the area.

The biggest play may come in that rugged part of Texas west of the Pecos River. There have been no reports of confirmed uranium discoveries, but ranchers in the vast region have been pushing a bill that would let them share hard-mineral lease royalties with the state.

The bill is predicated on a 1919 law that let owners of former state public school land share in oil and gas royalties. It would apply to 7½ million acres of West Texas land now privately owned but on which the state still holds exclusive interest in hard minerals.

The bill passed the House after much wrangling, but hit a snag in the Senate when mining men cried it would kill uranium mining in its infancy.

They said the proposed 12½ per cent royalty on ore at the mouth of the mine—to be split between the state and the landowner—would prove too high. They said it would scare off the "risk capital" needed for the financially-hazardous business of hunting for uranium.

Legislators to whom oil and gas lawmaking is easy routine, are rying to puzzle out what the immediate and long range effects of the atomic age will be on the petroleum industry.

Accidents Fatal To Two Mississippians

HATTIESBURG, Miss., March 19 (AP)—Automobile accidents in south Mississippi last night killed two persons.

The highway patrol identified the victims as Paul Berry, 61, Prentiss oil field worker; and George Lamar Thornton, 44, of Laurel.

Berry's car smashed into a bridge on U.S. 84 six miles west of Collins. Thornton was thrown from his car when it overturned as it entered highway 15 just north of Laurel.

Oil, Gas Publicity Policy Makers To Meet In Dallas

HOUSTON, Tex., March 19 (Special) — Public relations policy makers for the petroleum industry from six gulf - southwest states meet March 31-April 1 in Dallas to hear a forum on the current price crisis among producers of natural gas for home and industry.

The gas forum will highlight the April 1 general session of the oil industry information committee (API), according to an announcement made Saturday in Houston by R. M. Stephens, OIIC chairman for Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas, Alabama and Mississippi.

Stephens, assistant sales manager for Humble Oil & Refining Company, heads 3,000 oil men and oil women volunteers working on 610 local information committees in those states.

On March 31, the day preceding the general session, to which 114 key people from the Texas petroleum industry are invited guests, Stephens' executive committee and three functional committees will convene. These committees stimulate six-state operations for OIIC's long - range projects with schools, other trade associations and keeps the intricate local committee structure moving.

Accidents Fatal To Two Mississippians

HATTIESBURG, Miss., March 19 (AP)—Automobile accidents in south Mississippi last night killed two persons.

The highway patrol identified the victims as Paul Berry, 61, Prentiss oil field worker; and George Lamar Thornton, 44, of Laurel.

Berry's car smashed into a bridge on U.S. 84 six miles west of Collins. Thornton was thrown from his car when it overturned as it entered highway 15 just north of Laurel.

Oil, Gas Publicity Policy Makers To Meet In Dallas

HOUSTON, Tex., March 19 (Special) — Public relations policy makers for the petroleum industry from six gulf - southwest states meet March 31-April 1 in Dallas to hear a forum on the current price crisis among producers of natural gas for home and industry.

The gas forum will highlight the April 1 general session of the oil industry information committee (API), according to an announcement made Saturday in Houston by R. M. Stephens, OIIC chairman for Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas, Alabama and Mississippi.

Stephens, assistant sales manager for Humble Oil & Refining Company, heads 3,000 oil men and oil women volunteers working on 610 local information committees in those states.

On March 31, the day preceding the general session, to which 114 key people from the Texas petroleum industry are invited guests, Stephens' executive committee and three functional committees will convene. These committees stimulate six-state operations for OIIC's long - range projects with schools, other trade associations and keeps the intricate local committee structure moving.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

This week has a double purpose for separate fields of sport — President Eisenhower has proclaimed it "Let's Play Ball Week," and Governor Kennon has proclaimed for "National Wildlife Week." A lot of baseball fans are interested in wildlife, and many followers of forest and stream keep up with the doing in baseball. Maybe they can be of mutual assistance to each other in this double-barreled week.

Apparently the Twin Cities have made no plans for a "baseball week" this early, but hope to have plenty to cheer about when they greet their Sports for the first time the last week of April when Manager Ed Head moves in with his crew from the Yankee farm training camp at Hattiesburg, Miss. Supporters of our Cotton States League entry are already cooking up a special Opening Day Eve celebration by way of greeting the boys before they open the season here April 18 with El Dorado. That season opener will be the first pro game of the year here. We'll get no pre-season exhibitions.

National Wildlife Week, with a theme of wetlands preservation, inaugurates a battle to bring about new thinking concerning the value of water conservation and saving of marshlands in opposition to excessive drainage to the detriment of fishing, hunting, trapping, all wildlife — and these are big business too as any person can find out by checking the annual figures on the billions of dollars made and spent in these enterprises.

Wildlife interests do not, to our understanding, maintain there should be no drainage, but they feel that drainage should not be overdone or brought about where it is not necessary. We hear a lot of drainage is to create more farming land. Yet what farmers are permitted to utilize all their available lands now under present government controls? Some drainage is for flood control. But drainage should not be to such an extent that it leads to drouths and possible desert conditions. There is such a thing as going too far, and there is every indication that our water is becoming scarcer and scarcer.

The government spends billions of dollars building mammoth dams and reservoirs in widely separated sections of the country — wouldn't it be better for the most people to build many smaller and cheaper dams to hold all the water in dry seasons, and equip them with flood gates to let off surplus in times of flood threats.

Whether drainage or conservation of the wetlands as God made them, those responsible should consider the good for the most people concerned. A farmer in the bottoms may not make his crop because of floods, but if his water is gone (that sub-soil moisture that carries him from one rain to the next) then those crop "burns up." The medium must be reached. Total drainage such as has apparently been the aim in this area in recent years seems to be going too far.

It's a problem for the farmer, the sportsman, the landowner, the government, and the "just plain citizen." It's not right for the sportsman, reaping benefits of the marsh, to tell the farmer or landowner what he can or can't do with his land, but we can't see it being fair to the sportsmen for individual landowners to use these same sportsmen's tax money through government channels to do drainage that may not be necessary. Is it possible they can all find a way to work out the problem together?

Said Eisenhower's plug for baseball:

"Let's Play Ball Week calls attention to one of our great national sports. I hope that this week people all over our country will renew their interest in baseball as part of our way of life."

Said Kennon for the wildlife crowd:

"The wise use of natural resources — soils and waters, forests, minerals and wildlife — is essential to the welfare and security of the community, state and nation . . . . the sound management of natural resources cannot be achieved without guidance and support of an informed and interested public . . . . all citizens are urged to acquaint themselves with the facts pertaining to natural resources problems, and, in keeping with the national theme, to give particular thought and attention to the importance and preservation of wetland resources, including the marshes, sloughs, lakes and stream courses of America, and the wildlife and recreational opportunities produced and afforded by such areas."

Cupit 4th Entering Last Gulfport Round

Morrow Shoots Neat 65 To Take One-Stroke Lead

By ED TUNSTALL

GULFPORT, Miss., March 19 (AP)—Tiny Tommy Morrow, of Shreveport, La., a newly turned professional from the ranks of collegiate golf, humbled par by six strokes today and forged into the third round lead of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament.

The 122-pound Morrow, making his professional debut in the tournament, ran his three-round total to 201, 12 strokes better than par and one stroke ahead of his nearest rival in the tournament played on the Great Southern's 6,006-yard course.

Morrow spiraled to the top of the standings on the strength of a putter that could do little wrong. He one-putted seven greens in chalking up seven birdies and went over par on only one when his approach shot landed behind a tree on the 13th hole.

Second round leader Johnny Morris of Mobile, Ala., fell off his blazing early form and zoomed to a one over par 72. The Mobile professional's card showed 66-66-72—204, three strokes behind Morrow's blistering pace.

Buck White of Greenwood, who has been close to the top since the start of the tournament Thursday, fired a 68 today and moved into second place. White posted scores of 66 and 68 in the first two rounds.

Rain fell today for the first time during the tournament. Brief intermittent showers and occasional flashes of lightning played over the course. Morrow finished his round in a driving rain but he said it did not hinder his play.

Other top leaders included Buster Cupit of West Monroe at 205; Jack Peyton of Birmingham, Ala., at 206, and Frank Stidle of Biloxi, at 208, all professionals.

Defending champion Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., lost his lead among the amateurs. He went three over par and came in with a 71 and a three-round total of 211. Merrins surrendered the amateur lead to Scotty Fraser, Louisiana State University sophomore who came in with a 66 for a third round 210.

Merrins, former LSU star, was three under approaching the 12th hole, but his game went haywire and he was three over par coming off the 17th.

Morrow toured the course in a threesome with Morris and pro Jim Coleman of Jackson, Miss. Morris said Morrow staged one of the "finest putting exhibitions I've ever seen. He just didn't make any mistakes."

Morris said Morrow has a great future as a professional.

"All Morrow needs is a little more distance in his game," he said. "The boy can putt with the best right now."

Morrow said his professional future must await a date with the armed forces on June 15. He has a commission in the Air Force and is awaiting a call.

Cards' Raschi Sidelined By Slipped Spinal Disc

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP)—A slipped spinal disc will force Vic Raschi, veteran right-handed pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, to remain idle for the next four weeks, the pitcher revealed Saturday after a consultation with the club physician.

Raschi said the physician, Dr. I. Middleman, told him that rest and medication will make him "as good as new" at the end of that time. But the enforced layoff means that Raschi, who will be 36 on March 28, will not be able to get in shape until after the season has started.

Loss of the veteran fastballer for the first weeks of the season could cause a serious blow to the Cardinals' chances for a good start in the pennant race.

Raschi said he didn't know about his condition until March 6, the sixth day of the training season. He felt the first pain, in the form of a dull ache in his back, when he attempted to get out of bed that morning.

Although the aching back got progressively worse, he continued to work out daily until last Wednesday. He had X-ray pictures taken the previous day.

The pictures clearly show the slipped disc, which is pinching a nerve and causing pain from his back to below the right knee.

After studying the pictures, Dr. Middleman said "we can not determine the seriousness of the injury right now. However, Raschi says he will be able to pitch in four weeks."

Raschi said after a whirlpool bath in the Cardinal clubhouse Saturday that he felt a little better.

Raschi, who had won 120 games and lost 50 for the New York Yankees from 1946 through 1953, was suddenly sold to the Cardinals a year ago February for $75,000 in a deal that stunned the baseball world.

He won his first five games in 1954, but in his next start, against the Chicago Cubs, he was hit on the leg by a smash off the bat of Frank Baumholtz and had to leave the game. After that he was not nearly as good, winding up the season with an 8-9 record.

J. Roy Stockton, sports editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, reported in the newspaper's story from the spring training camp site "it was believed that the pitcher was through with baseball."

He said an operation might be necessary merely to make Raschi comfortable in civilian life. Stockton said if Raschi still is unable to pitch after the club returns to St. Louis he probably will be given an unconditional release.

Duquesne Follows Green In Victory Over Dayton

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP) — Sihugo Green, a Brooklyn boy with pogo stick legs and an unerring eye, led Duquesne to a 70-58 victory over Dayton in the final of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament tonight and to the Duke's first N.I.T. championship.

Cincinnati, the fourth-seeded team, captured third place in the tournament with an exciting 96-91 overtime victory over St. Francis (Pa.).

Green scored 33 points as he joined with slender Dick Ricketts in a superb two-man performance.

In addition to scoring all but 14 of their team's points, these two performed the key defensive roles in guarding Dayton's two tall towers, 7-foot Bill Uhl and 6-8 Johnny Horan.

A crowd of 18,496 jammed Madison Square Garden to its capacity for the exciting final of the 18th invitation tournament in which top-seeded Duquesne fell behind only once.

About the middle of the first half, Dayton started a drive that netted 8 points in a row as Horan, almost blanked by Ricketts' close guarding during the early stages, began to hit n a superb two-man performance. utes of play and a short time later Dayton forged ahead, 27-25. Green squared it again with a pair of free throws, then hit 3 straight field goals and the Dukes were in front to stay.

Green and Ricketts did all the Duquesne scoring in the first half and the second half went 7½ minutes before Mickey Winograd broke this scoring monopoly with a pair of foul shots. It was three more minutes before Jim Fallon broke in with the first field goal that didn't come from the hands of Green or Ricketts.

For Dayton, Uhl did a notable job of scoring. He wound up with 25 points.

FROM THIS TO VICTORY—Del Flanagan, the world's seventh ranked welterweight, sits on the canvas glassy-eyed from a first round knockdown in his Thursday night match with Johnny Bratton at St. Paul, but he recovered and put on steam to score a ninth round TKO over Bratton, his Chicago rival. Cage Coaches Ask Loss Of Ball On Offense Foul

By JERRY LISKA

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP)—The nation's college basketball coaches Saturday recommended a rule change which would give the defensive team the ball out-of-bounds instead of a free throw on all offensive fouls.

The recommendation came at the final session of the National Association of Basketball Coaches' 29th annual convention. It will be made to the rules-making national basketball committee which meets Sunday night through Tuesday.

The coaches also re-defined a rule change, they recommended yesterday.

This proposal originally called for two defensive men to hold the inside spots on free throws in a modification of the bonus free throw rule. Under the recommended change each team would be allowed only one free throw on the first eight fouls per half and then two shots on every common foul thereafter.

Saturday, the coaches voted to retain two defensive players next to the basket only if the national committee retains the present bonus rule.

However, if the eight-foul, one-shot free throw revision is made, the coaches want to retain the present setup of one offensive and one defensive man next to the basket on free throws.

The present rule on offensive fouls gives a free throw to the defensive player. This often brings the delay of a player having to walk the length of the floor for a free throw after which he may be charged into or blocked on a scoring play by a rival player.

Under the setup calling for two defensive players taking the No. 1 spots on both sides under the basket, the offensive team would be required to place its men in the No. 2 positions first. This would give the defensive team the advantage of spotting its tallest players next to the offensive team's tallest players.

The coaches also recommended to the National Collegiate Athletic Association that spring basketball practice be dropped and that fall practice be permitted to begin Oct. 15 instead of the present limitation of Nov. 1.

Many coaches contended that while organized practice is not presently permitted before Nov. 1, the players generally are practicing before that date on an informal basis.

Reb 'Red' Team Defeats 'Blue' By 19-6 Count

OXFORD, Miss., March 19 (AP) — Mississippi's Red team, predominantly lettermen, beat the Blue team 19-6 today in an intrasquad game winding up five weeks of spring football training.

The only blue touchdown came in the final quarter on an 18-yard run by Charles Burke.

Three More Players Take Steeler Terms

PITTSBURGH, March 19 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today received signed contracts for the 1955 season from three more players, including tackle Dick (Little Mo) Modzelewski, obtained in a trade with the Washington Redskins.

Others who signed were Vince Werl, former University of Dayton player who can play tackle or guard, and Bill Staudenmaier, one-time University of Chattanooga standout who can play offensive end or defensive back.

Modzelewski's brother, Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski, a fullback, recently signed to play with the Steelers. Both starred for the University of Maryland.

Andrews AFB Takes League Cage Crown

SAMPSON AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y., March 19 (AP)—The Andrews Air Base Rockets Saturday night won their 50th consecutive game and the Northeast Air Force Conference basketball title with an 81-65 victory over the Sampson Sabres.

Andrews now will defend its world wide air force championship next week in Orlando, Fla.

Orioles Option Rookie Fielders To San Antonio

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Rookie outfielders Jim Pisoni, Carl Powis and Charlie Oertel were optioned to San Antonio Saturday as Baltimore Oriole Manager Paul Richards cut his squad for the first time.

All three left immediately to report to the Dunedin, Fla., training site of San Antonio, double A farm club of the Orioles. The announcement was made just before the Orioles launched a 5-hour 20-minute drill during an off day between exhibition games.

Richards said optioning the three doesn't mean he has given up on them as major leaguers.

"I thought they all looked pretty good down here. But they should be in the lineups every day if they are going to develop."

Meanwhile, injury trouble hit the Bird camp. Second baseman Bobby Young was sidelined for at least two weeks with a broken toe and pitcher Duane Pillette was lost indefinitely with a recurrence of his old elbow trouble.

Guayana Claims Frietchie Event For $22.40 Pay

BOWIE, Md., Mar. 19 (AP)—Guayana, a 10 to 1 hazard, scampered to three and a half lengths victory today in the Barbara Frietchie Stakes at Bowie before 20,997.

The Lilyann stable 4-year old filly paid $22.40, and $6.40. Another outsider, Another World, was second by a neck over the favored Cerise Reine.

Jockey Walter Blum, who booted Ifabody home first in the Burch Handicap last week only to have his win set aside in favor of Brazen Brat on an objecton, was jubilant in the winner's circle.

"I'm not mad anymore. Everything is all even," he said.

The owners of the victor, Mr. and Mrs. John Dordan of Yonkers, N.Y. flew here from Miami, Fla., for the $25,000-added test for fillies and mares.

Singing Beauty, coupled in the betting with Brazen Brat, earned fourth money. The Brat, mounted by Nick Shuk who had three winners before the feature, took an early lead but faded in the stretch.

Guayana, in gaining her second stakes victory of the year, sprinted the seven furlongs in 1.25⅗.

Russell Ramrods Dons To N. C. A. A. Cage Title

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP) — San Francisco, No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, tonight rode behind terrific play by 6-10 All-America Bill Russell to 77-63 victory over defending champion LaSalle in the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament final.

Although his San Francisco teammate K. C. Jones outscored him, the lanky Russell made it "no contest" against LaSalle's heralded Tom Gola in their long-awaited showdown.

Russell tallied 23 points to set a 5-game N.C.A.A. scoring record of 118, while Gola, who held the former composite mark of 114, scored 16.

Gola never lived up to expectations here, while Russell did everything expected of him, really sewing up the game with an 18-point first half performance which had a crowd of 10,500 beside itself.

Jones, a rugged 6-1, 202-pounder, copped scoring honors with 24 points on 10 field goals and four free throws.

It wasn't much of a game after the Dons, scoring their 26th straight victory and completing the season with a 28-1 mark, forged ahead by 19 points, 50-31 early in the second half.

LaSalle, holding an NCAA record of nine straight tourney triumphs, had a 13-game winning streak snapped and wound up with a 26-5 record.

LaSalle played Gola on a roving basis and tried a sliding zone defense without success against the catlike Dons, whose Russell made some phenomenal scoring tipins in the first half.

Paced by an erstwhile reserve, Jim Ranglos, Colorado's Big Seven champions ground to a methodical 75-54 triumph over Big Ten Champion Iowa for third place in the tournament.

Ranglos tallied 18 points to lead the Golden Buffaloes to an easy victory over the favored Hawkeyes, who played poorly most of the way. Ranglos got his chance to start when Colorado's able regular guard Tom Harrold was benched by an ankle injury.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

This week has a double purpose for separate fields of sport — President Eisenhower has proclaimed it "Let's Play Ball Week," and Governor Kennon has proclaimed for "National Wildlife Week." A lot of baseball fans are interested in wildlife, and many followers of forest and stream keep up with the doing in baseball. Maybe they can be of mutual assistance to each other in this double-barreled week.

Apparently the Twin Cities have made no plans for a "baseball week" this early, but hope to have plenty to cheer about when they greet their Sports for the first time the last week of April when Manager Ed Head moves in with his crew from the Yankee farm training camp at Hattiesburg, Miss. Supporters of our Cotton States League entry are already cooking up a special Opening Day Eve celebration by way of greeting the boys before they open the season here April 18 with El Dorado. That season opener will be the first pro game of the year here. We'll get no pre-season exhibitions.

National Wildlife Week, with a theme of wetlands preservation, inaugurates a battle to bring about new thinking concerning the value of water conservation and saving of marshlands in opposition to excessive drainage to the detriment of fishing, hunting, trapping, all wildlife — and these are big business too as any person can find out by checking the annual figures on the billions of dollars made and spent in these enterprises.

Wildlife interests do not, to our understanding, maintain there should be no drainage, but they feel that drainage should not be overdone or brought about where it is not necessary. We hear a lot of drainage is to create more farming land. Yet what farmers are permitted to utilize all their available lands now under present government controls? Some drainage is for flood control. But drainage should not be to such an extent that it leads to drouths and possible desert conditions. There is such a thing as going too far, and there is every indication that our water is becoming scarcer and scarcer.

The government spends billions of dollars building mammoth dams and reservoirs in widely separated sections of the country — wouldn't it be better for the most people to build many smaller and cheaper dams to hold all the water in dry seasons, and equip them with flood gates to let off surplus in times of flood threats.

Whether drainage or conservation of the wetlands as God made them, those responsible should consider the good for the most people concerned. A farmer in the bottoms may not make his crop because of floods, but if his water is gone (that sub-soil moisture that carries him from one rain to the next) then those crop "burns up." The medium must be reached. Total drainage such as has apparently been the aim in this area in recent years seems to be going too far.

It's a problem for the farmer, the sportsman, the landowner, the government, and the "just plain citizen." It's not right for the sportsman, reaping benefits of the marsh, to tell the farmer or landowner what he can or can't do with his land, but we can't see it being fair to the sportsmen for individual landowners to use these same sportsmen's tax money through government channels to do drainage that may not be necessary. Is it possible they can all find a way to work out the problem together?

Said Eisenhower's plug for baseball:

"Let's Play Ball Week calls attention to one of our great national sports. I hope that this week people all over our country will renew their interest in baseball as part of our way of life."

Said Kennon for the wildlife crowd:

"The wise use of natural resources — soils and waters, forests, minerals and wildlife — is essential to the welfare and security of the community, state and nation . . . . the sound management of natural resources cannot be achieved without guidance and support of an informed and interested public . . . . all citizens are urged to acquaint themselves with the facts pertaining to natural resources problems, and, in keeping with the national theme, to give particular thought and attention to the importance and preservation of wetland resources, including the marshes, sloughs, lakes and stream courses of America, and the wildlife and recreational opportunities produced and afforded by such areas."

Morrow Shoots Neat 65 To Take One-Stroke Lead

By ED TUNSTALL

GULFPORT, Miss., March 19 (AP)—Tiny Tommy Morrow, of Shreveport, La., a newly turned professional from the ranks of collegiate golf, humbled par by six strokes today and forged into the third round lead of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational golf tournament.

The 122-pound Morrow, making his professional debut in the tournament, ran his three-round total to 201, 12 strokes better than par and one stroke ahead of his nearest rival in the tournament played on the Great Southern's 6,006-yard course.

Morrow spiraled to the top of the standings on the strength of a putter that could do little wrong. He one-putted seven greens in chalking up seven birdies and went over par on only one when his approach shot landed behind a tree on the 13th hole.

Second round leader Johnny Morris of Mobile, Ala., fell off his blazing early form and zoomed to a one over par 72. The Mobile professional's card showed 66-66-72—204, three strokes behind Morrow's blistering pace.

Buck White of Greenwood, who has been close to the top since the start of the tournament Thursday, fired a 68 today and moved into second place. White posted scores of 66 and 68 in the first two rounds.

Rain fell today for the first time during the tournament. Brief intermittent showers and occasional flashes of lightning played over the course. Morrow finished his round in a driving rain but he said it did not hinder his play.

Other top leaders included Buster Cupit of West Monroe at 205; Jack Peyton of Birmingham, Ala., at 206, and Frank Stidle of Biloxi, at 208, all professionals.

Defending champion Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., lost his lead among the amateurs. He went three over par and came in with a 74 and a three-round total of 211. Merrins surrendered the amateur lead to Scotty Fraser, Louisiana State University sophomore who came in with a 66 for a third round 210.

Merrins, former LSU star, was three under approaching the 12th hole, but his game went haywire and he was three over par coming off the 17th.

Morrow toured the course in a threesome with Morris and pro Jim Coleman of Jackson, Miss. Morris said Morrow staged one of the "finest putting exhibitions I've ever seen. He just didn't make any mistakes."

Morris said Morrow has a great future as a professional.

"All Morrow needs is a little more distance in his game," he said. "The boy can putt with the best right now."

Morrow said his professional future must await a date with the armed forces on June 15. He has a commission in the Air Force and is awaiting a call.

Cards' Raschi Sidelined By Slipped Spinal Disc

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP)—A slipped spinal disc will force Vic Raschi, veteran right-handed pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, to remain idle for the next four weeks, the pitcher revealed Saturday after a consultation with the club physician.

Raschi said the physician, Dr. I. Middleman, told him that rest and medication will make him "as good as new" at the end of that time. But the enforced layoff means that Raschi, who will be 36 on March 28, will not be able to get in shape until after the season has started.

Loss of the veteran fastballer for the first weeks of the season could cause a serious blow to the Cardinals' chances for a good start in the pennant race.

Raschi said he didn't know about his condition until March 6, the sixth day of the training season. He felt the first pain, in the form of a dull ache in his back, when he attempted to get out of bed that morning.

Although the aching back got progressively worse, he continued to work out daily until last Wednesday. He had X-ray pictures taken the previous day.

The pictures clearly show the slipped disc, which is pinching a nerve and causing pain from his back to below the right knee.

After studying the pictures, Dr. Middleman said "we can not determine the seriousness of the injury right now. However, Raschi says he will be able to pitch in four weeks."

Raschi said after a whirlpoll bath in the Cardinal clubhouse Saturday that he felt a little better.

Raschi, who had won 120 games and lost 50 for the New York Yankees from 1946 through 1953, was suddenly sold to the Cardinals a year ago February for $75,000 in a deal that stunned the baseball world.

He won his first five games in 1954, but in his next start, against the Chicago Cubs, he was hit on the leg by a smash off the bat of Frank Baumholtz and had to leave the game. After that he was not nearly as good, winding up the season with an 8-9 record.

J. Roy Stockton, sports editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, reported in the newspaper's story from the spring training camp site "it was believed that the pitcher was through with baseball."

He said an operation might be necessary merely to make Raschi comfortable in civilian life. Stockton said if Raschi still is unable to pitch after the club returns to St. Louis he probably will be given an unconditional release.

Duquesne Follows Green In Victory Over Dayton

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP) — Sihugo Green, a Brooklyn boy with pogo stick legs and an unerring eye, led Duquesne to a 70-58 victory over Dayton n the final of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament tonight and to the Duke's first N.I.T. championship.

Cincinnati, the fourth-seeded team, captured third place in the tournament wth an exciting 96-91 overtime victory over St. Francis (Pa.).

Green scored 33 points as he joined with slender Dick Ricketts in a superb two-man performance.

In addition to scoring all but 14 of their team's points, these two performed the key defensive roles in guarding Dayton's two tall towers, 7-foot Bill Uhl and 6-8 Johnny Horan.

A crowd of 18,496 jammed Madison Square Garden to its capacity for the exciting final of the 18th invitation tournament in which top-seeded Duquesne fell behind only once n a superb two-man performance. utes of play and a short time later Dayton forged ahead, 27-25. Green squared it again with a pair of free throws, then hit 3 straight field goals and the Dukes were in front to stay.

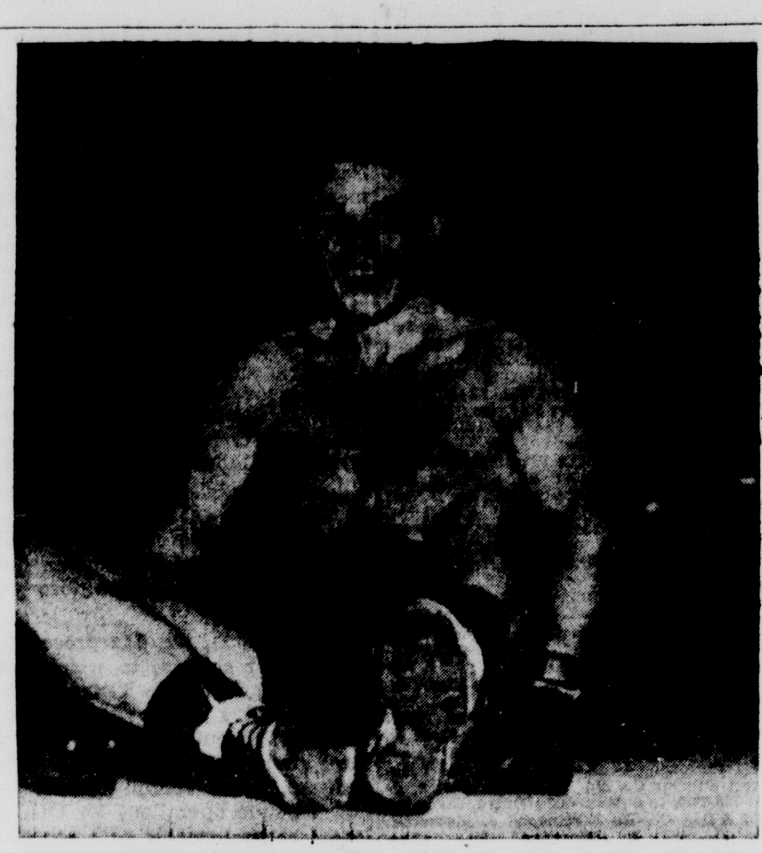
Green and Ricketts did all the Duquesne scoring in the first half and the second half went 7½ minutes before Mickey Winograd broke this scoring monopoly with a pair of foul shots. It was three more minutes before Jim Fallon broke in with the first field goal that didn't come from the hands of Green or Ricketts.

For Dayton, Uhl did a notable job of scoring. He wound up with 25 points.



FROM THIS TO VICTORY—Del Flanagan, the world's seventh ranked welterweight, sits on the canvas glassy-eyed from a first round knockdown in his Thursday night match with Johnny Bratton at St. Paul, but he recovered and put on steam to score a ninth round TKO over Bratton, his Chicago rival. Cage Coaches Ask Loss Of Ball On Offense Foul

By JERRY LISKA

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP)—The nation's college basketball coaches Saturday recommended a rule change which would give the defensive team the ball out-of-bounds instead of a free throw on all offensive fouls.

The recommendation came at the final session of the National Association of Basketball Coaches' 29th annual convention. It will be made to the rules-making national basketball committee which meets Sunday night through Tuesday.

The coaches also re-defined a rule change they recommended yesterday.

This proposal originally called for two defensive men to hold the inside spots on free throws in a modification of the bonus free throw rule. Under the recommended change each team would be allowed only one free throw on the first eight fouls per half and then two shots on every common foul thereafter.

Saturday, the coaches voted to retain two defensive players next to the basket only if the national committee retains the present bonus rule.

However, if the eight-foul, one-shot free throw revision is made, the coaches want to retain the present setup of one offensive and one defensive man next to the basket on free throws.

The present rule on offensive fouls gives a free throw to the defensive player. This often brings the delay of a player having to walk the length of the floor for a free throw after which he may be charged into or blocked on a scoring play by a rival player.

Under the setup calling for two defensive players taking the No. 1 spots on both sides under the basket, the offensive team would be required to place its men in the No. 2 positions first. This would give the defensive team the advantage of spotting its tallest players next to the offensive team's tallest players.

The coaches also recommended to the National Collegiate Athletic Association that spring basketball practice be dropped and that fall practice be permitted to begin Oct. 15 instead of the present limitation of Nov. 1.

Many coaches contended that while organized practice is not presently permitted before Nov. 1, the players generally are practicing before that date on an informal basis.

OXFORD, Miss., March 19 (AP) — Mississippi's Red team, predominantly lettermen, beat the Blue team 19-6 today in an intrasquad game winding up five weeks of spring football training.

The only blue touchdown came in the final quarter on an 18-yard run by Charles Burke.

Three More Players Take Steeler Terms

PITTSBURGH, March 19 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today received signed contracts for the 1955 season from three more players, including tackle Dick (Little Mo) Modzelewski, obtained in a trade with the Washington Redskins.

Others who signed were Vince Werl, former University of Dayton player who can play tackle or guard, and Bill Staudenmaier, one-time University of Chattanooga standout who can play offensive end or defensive back.

To get Modzelwski the Steelers gave the Redskins fullback Leo Elter and defensive back Art DeCarlo.

Modzelewski's brother, Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski, a fullback, recently signed to play with the Steelers. Both starred for the University of Maryland.

Andrews AFB Takes League Cage Crown

SAMPSON AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y., March 19 (AP)—The Andrews Air Base Rockets Saturday night won their 50th consecutive game and the Northeast Air Force Conference basketball title with an 81-65 victory over the Sampson Sabres.

Andrews now will defend its world wide air force championship next week in Orlando, Fla.

Russell Ramrods Dons To N. C. A. A. Cage Title

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP) — San Francisco, No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, tonight rode behind terrific play by 6-10 All-America Bill Russell to 77-63 victory over defending champion LaSalle in the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament final.

Although his San Francisco teammate K. C. Jones outscored him, the lanky Russell made it "no contest" against LaSalle's heralded Tom Gola in their long - awaited showdown.

Russell tallied 23 points to set a 5-game N.C.A.A. scoring record of 118, while Gola, who held the former composite mark of 114, scored 16.

Gola never lived up to expectations here, while Russell did everything expected of him, really sewing up the game with an 18-point first half performance which had a crowd of 10,500 beside itself.

Jones, a rugged 6-1, 202 - pounder, copped scoring honors with 24 points on 10 field goals and four free throws.

It wasn't much of a game after the Dons, scoring their 26th straight victory and completing the season with a 28-1 mark, forged ahead by 19 points, 50-31 early in the second half.

LaSalle, holding an NCAA record of nine straight tourney triumphs, had a 13-game winning streak snapped and wound up with a 26-5 record.

LaSalle played Gola on a roving basis and tried a sliding zone defense without success against the catlike Dons, whose Russell made some phenomenal scoring tipins in the first half.

Paced by an erstwhile reserve, Jim Ranglos, Colorado's Big Seven champions ground to a methodical 75-54 triumph over Big Ten Champion Iowa for third place in the tournament.

Ranglos tallied 18 points to lead the Golden Buffaloes to an easy victory over the favored Hawkeyes, who played poorly most of the way. Ranglos got his chance to start when Colorado's able regular guard Tom Harrold was benched by an ankle injury.

Orioles Option Rookie Fielders To San Antonio

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Rookie outfielders Jim Pisoni, Carl Powis and Charlie Oertel were optioned to San Antonio Saturday as Baltimore Oriole Manager Paul Richards cut his squad for the first time.

All three left immediately to report to the Dunedin, Fla., training site of San Antonio, double A farm club of the Orioles. The announcement was made just before the Orioles launched a 5-hour 20-minute drill during an off day between exhibition games.

Richards said optioning the three doesn't mean he has given up on them as major leaguers.

"I thought they all looked pretty good down here. But they should be in the lineups every day if they are going to develop."

Meanwhile, injury trouble hit the Bird camp. Second baseman Bobby Young was sidelined for at least two weeks with a broken toe and pitcher Duane Pillette was lost indefinitely with a recurrence of his old elbow trouble.

Guayana Claims Frietchie Event For $22.40 Pay

BOWIE, Md., Mar. 19 (AP)—Guayana, a 10 to 1 hazard, scampered to three and a half lengths victory today in the Barbara Frietchie Stakes at Bowie before 20,997.

The Lilyann stable 4-year old filly paid $22.40, and $6.40. Another outsider, Another World, was second by a neck over the favored Cerise Reine.

Jockey Walter Blum, who booted Ifabody home first in the Burch Handicap last week only to have his win set aside in favor of Brazen Brat on an objecton, was jubilant in the winner's circle.

"I'm not mad anymore. Everything is all even," he said.

The owners of the victor, Mr. and Mrs. John Dordan of Yonkers, N.Y. flew here from Miami, Fla , for the $25,000-added test for fillies and mares.

Singing Beauty, coupled in the betting with Brazen Brat, earned fourth money. The Brat, mounted by Nick Shuk who had three winners before the feature, took an early lead but faded in the stretch.

Guayana, in gaining her second stakes victory of the year, sprinted the seven furlongs in 1.25⅗.

Jay Hebert Clings To 3-Stroke St. Petersburg Lead

By BEN FUNK

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 19 (AP)-Battling stiff winds and tough tricky greens, Jay Hebert clung grimly to his three-stroke lead over the field in today's third round of the $12,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament.

Difficult course conditions cooled the handsome 32-year-old ex-marine from Louisiana down considerably, but he still managed to put together a one under par 71 for a 54-hole total of 202.

Middlecoff went into a bad slump taking a 73 for 207 and skidding into a third place tie with John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Over night, the course officials moved the pins to the most inaccesible point on the greens. They did the job well. The two-day murder of par came to a sudden end and virtually all of the pros came in complaining that the "atrocious" locations of the pins and the gusty winds made the going extremely rugged.

Hebert, whose hopes of breaking the tournament 72-hole record of 266 were almost wiped out by today's round. He three-putted two of them for bogeys.

His 71, which went with earlier rounds of 66 and 65, left him in need of a 64 in tomorrow's final round to equal the record made in 1952 by Jack Burke Jr. of Houston. Until today Hebert was ahead of Burke's average.

Furgol's strong bid to overtake Hebert was slowed when he missed two consecutive two foot putts for birdies on the 13th and 14th holes.

The Third Round Leaders:

Cary Middlecoff, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., 68-66-73—207.

Girls Feature Twin Bill On Tuesday's Mat Card

Girls will be a featured attraction on a double main event wrestling card at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night with Dot Dotson meeting China Mira in the gals' scrap, while Lee Fields and Mario Calendo fill out the other half of the twin bill.

The women are a pair of Florida rivals with Miss Dotson an ex-cab driver from the resort town of Lakeland, and Miss Mira is a native of Tampa, Fla., with Cuban parents via Spain. Dot, at 25 years of age, has been on the wrestling trail eight years, while China, at 22, is in her second year of mat work.

On the men's half of the card are a pair of colorful tusslers, and Calendo, of Bronx, N. Y., has already won himself followers at Kallio's in his initial shows here this spring. Fields is a rugged contender from Pawhuska, Okla.

With the double main expected to draw another big crowd, Promoter Kallio last night said he will have two doors ready Tuesday to handle the crowd faster to avoid long waiting in line. The first match is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Gulfstream 'Cap Taken By Mister Black At 11 To 1

MIAMI, Fla., March 19 (AP) — Mister Black, who had won only one race this winter and that on the turf, sped to the front late in the mile and quarter Gulfstream Park Handicap today to win the $66,250 feature by four lengths and gave Hasty House forms five big Florida stakes for the season.

The Argentine - bred, carrying 113 pounds, was sixth in the field of nine handicap horses at the start and dropped back to seventh before jockey Johnny Adams woke him up at the end of a mile.

Mister Black overtook the pace-setting Fly Wheel, 3 to 2 favorite, and was leading by five lengths when far off the pace, got up to take second money a length and a half in front of Greentree stable's Maharajah. Fly Whell, under Eddie Arcaro, faded to fourth and Brookmeade stable's Capeador, second choice at 2 to 1, finished fifth.

Fractional times for the mile and a quarter were :23 2-5, 4:46 4-5, 1:11 2-5, 1:35 4-5, and 2:01 4-5.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Toledo, Ohio, owners of Hasty House farms, bought the Argentine-bred Mister Black for $35,000 primarily for grass running but he more than earned his price today on the skinned strip as his owners picked up a check for $42,100.

The stable previously had won the Widener, the Royal Palm, the Everglades and the Hialeah Turf handicaps. Hasty House also won the New Orleans Handicap a week ago with Sea O Erin, a late scratch today.

Eleven to one in the betting, Mister Black paid $25.70, $11.20 and $7.70. Wise Margin paid $7.10 and $5.60. The show price on Maharajah was $8.10.

Tulane's Tennis Team Registers 35th Win In Row

NEW ORLEANS, March 19 (AP)—Tulane's Southeastern Conference tennis champion won their 35th straight dual meet today with a 6-0 victory over Rice in the season opener for both.

Ham Richardson, Tulane's national collegiate champion and third ranked United States amateur, easily disposed of Dale Miller, taking the first 10 games and breezing in 6-0, 6-1.

Tulane's second an, Jose Aguero, winner of five southern state championships last year, took only 35 minutes to down Clayton Williams, 6-1, 6-2.

Joe Aguero (T) beat Clayton Williams, 6-1, 6-2.
Buddy Lomax (T) beat John Zimmerman 6-2, 6-3.
Henry Jungle (T) beat Max McDaniel, 6-2, 6-3.
Richardson-Lomax beat Zimmerman-Williams, 7-5, 6-2.

Celtics Bounce Knicks Out Of Title Playoffs

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—The Boston Celtics qualified to meet the Syracuse Nationals in the final round of the National Basketball Association's eastern division playoffs Saturday with a 116-109 victory over the New York Knickerbockers. The victory was the Celtic's second in the three-game set.

The eastern best-of-five final series will start Tuesday in Syracuse with the winner qualifying to meet the western divisios winner in the best-of-seven championship round.

To end New York's professional basketball season, the Celtic's posted a fabulous 59.7 per cent shooting percentage. Led by Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Ed MaCauley, the Bostonians sank 49 baskets on 82 shots.

Torn Muscle Spoils Catcher's Workouts

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19 (AP)—X—Rays today disclosed Sammy White, Boston Red Sox catcher, had a slightly torn shoulder muscle which will prevent his throwing for 10 days.

White, two days late in reporting for spring training, has not caught in any of Boston's 10 exhibition games.

"He'll just have to throw underhanded for 10 days then he'll be all right," said Sox trainer Jack Fadden.

5 Are Fined For Selling Tickets To NCAA Games

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP)—Four students and a physician were fined today for illegally selling tickets to the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The five were among eight persons arrested yesterday and last night after police received reports ticket sellers were accosting people in the downtown district with offers to sell tickets at high prices—up to $13 for a $4 ticket.

All were charged with selling tickets without a city license.

Largest fine, $25, was assessed against Gerald F. Kelleher, 18-year-old freshman at the University of San Francisco, who came here to watch his school's team in the tournament. He pleaded guilty to selling four tickets for $50.

Fines of $10 each were assessed against Carl N. Pimentelo, 20, Oakland, Calif., a junior at S. F.U.; Dr. Frederick Steffey, 43, Keokuk, Ia.; James Armatas, a student from Denver, and James P. Petenakis, Mason City, Ia., a student at the University of Iowa.

Jon Richard Martin, Sand Springs, Okla., was discharged. The cases of two other men, both Kansas Citians, will be heard next Wednesday.

All of the defendants denied they were participating in a conspiracy to scalp tickets.

Texas Women's Golf Crown Won By Harlan Riedel

HOUSTON, March 19—UP—Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas won her second Texas women's amateur golf championship Saturday with a 2 and 1 victory over another two-time champ, Mrs. Leonard Keating of Houston.

A beautiful recovery approach shot on the 34th hole won the big silver loving cup for Mrs. Riedel at the climax of the week-long 34th annual Texas women's amateur golf tournament.

For the two it was a repitition of history.

Mrs. Riedel defeated Mrs. Keating in the semifinals when she won the championship in 1952. Mrs. Riedel also defeated Mrs. Keating in the semifinals last year, but was beaten in the finals by Polly Riley of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Leonard Keating, the former Kay Pearson, won the state title before her marriage in 1941 and 1947.

M'Phee, Brubaker Added To Card's Growing End List

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP) —Two rookie ends, Dick Brubaker of Ohio State and Frank McPhee, Princeton captain in 1952 and an all-service standout last year, have been signed by the Chicago Cardinals, it was announced today.

Brubaker, co - captain of Ohio State's undefeated Rose Bowl and Big Ten champions, last year teamed up with the Cards' rookie quarterback, Dave Leggett, to catch 11 passes for the Buckeyes. They were good for 114 yards and three touchdown.

Brubaker, a six - footer weighing 205, played 388 minutes for Ohio State and was outstanding on both defense and offense.

McPhee was an offensive end and defensive back when Princeton was winning 26 out of 27 games from 1950 through 1952. In his final season, before entering the marines, he caught 17 passes for 388 yards and five touchdowns.

The pair will be among 10 or more rookie ends scheduled to report to the Cardinals training camp at Lake Forest (Ill.) College on July 17. Others include Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Charles McGinty, North Texas State; Ed Woodsum, Yale; Buck Martin, Grorgia Tech; Vic Berra, Montana State; and Al Dennis, Middlebury (Vt.) College.

Topeka Fighter Accepts Battle Against Dupas

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — Bobby Bickle, a 24-year-old has been signed to meet New Orleans boxer Ralph Dupas in a scheduled 10-round bout here March 28, Promoter Heard Ragas announced today.

The young Washburn University student has engaged in 38 fights, winning 22 via the knockout route. A. Korean veteran, Bickle won the National and International Golden Gloves lightweight championship.

The Kansas Irishman also captured the Army's Far East Command 135-pound title.

Dupas, one of the top lightweight in the country, is expected to take Bickle, but the Kansan may give him a run for his money.

By BEN FUNK

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 19 (AP)-Battling stiff winds and tough tricky greens, Jay Hebert clung grimly to his three-stroke lead over the field in today's third round of the $12,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament.

Difficult course conditions cooled the handsome 32-year-old ex-marine from Louisiana down considerably, but he still managed to put together a one under par 71 for a 54-hole total of 202.

Middlecoff went into a bad slump taking a 73 for 207 and skidding into a third place tie with John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Over night, the course officials moved the pins to the most inaccesible point on the greens. They did the job well. The two-day murder of par came to a sudden end and virtually all of the pros came in complaining that the "atrocious" locations of the pins and the gusty winds made the going extremely rugged.

Hebert, whose hopes of breaking the tournament 72-hole record of 266 were almost wiped out by today's round. He three-putted two of them for bogeys.

His 71, which went with earlier rounds of 66 and 65, left him in need of a 64 in tomorrow's final round to equal the record made in 1952 by Jack Burke Jr. of Houston. Until today Hebert was ahead of Burke's average.

Furgol's strong bid to overtake Hebert was slowed when he missed two consecutive two foot putts for birdies on the 13th and 14th holes.

The Third Round Leaders:

Jay Hebert, Woodmere N. Y., 66-65-71—202.
Cary Middlecoff, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., 68-66-73—207.

Girls Feature Twin Bill On Tuesday's Mat Card

Girls will be a featured attraction on a double main event wrestling card at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night with Dot Dotson meeting China Mira in the gals' scrap, while Lee Fields and Mario Calendo fill out the other half of the twin bill.

The women are a pair of Florida rivals with Miss Dotson an excab driver from the resort town of Lakeland, and Miss Mira is a native of Tampa, Fla., with Cuban parents via Spain. Dot, at 25 years of age, has been on the wrestling trail eight years, while China, at 22, is in her second year of mat work.

On the men's half of the card are a pair of colorful tusslers, and Calendo, of Bronx, N. Y., has already won himself followers at Kallio's in his initial shows here this spring. Fields is a rugged contender from Pawhuska, Okla.

With the double main expected to draw another big crowd, Promoter Kallio last night said he will have two doors ready Tuesday to handle the crowd faster to avoid long waiting in line. The first match is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

MIAMI, Fla., March 19 (AP) — Mister Black, who had won only one race this winter and that on the turf, sped to the front late in the mile and quarter Gulfstream Park Handicap today to win the $66,250 feature by four lengths and gave Hasty House forms five big Florida stakes for the season.

The Argentine - bred, carrying 113 pounds, was sixth in the field of nine handicap horses at the start and dropped back to seventh before jockey Johnny Adams woke him up at the end of a mile.

Mister Black overtook the pacesetting Fly Wheel, 3 to 2 favorite, and was leading by five lengths when far off the pace, got up to take second money a length and a half in front of Greentree stable's Maharajah. Fly Whell, under Eddie Arcaro, faded to fourth and Brookmeade stable's Capeador, second choice at 2 to 1, finished fifth.

Fractional times for the mile and a quarter were :23 2-5, 4:46 4-5, 1:11 2-5, 1:35 4-5, and 2:01 4-5.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie E. Reuben of Toledo, Ohio, owners of Hasty House farms, bought the Argentine-bred Mister Black for $35,000 primarily for grass running but he more than earned his price today on the skinned strip as his owners picked up a check for $42,100.

The stable previously had won the Widener, the Royal Palm, the Everglades and the Hialeah Turf handicaps. Hasty House also won the New Orleans Handicap a week ago with Sea O Erin, a late scratch today.

Eleven to one in the betting, Mister Black paid $25.70, $11.20 and $7.70. Wise Margin paid $7.10 and $5.60. The show price on Maharajah was $8.10.

Tulane's Tennis Team Registers 35th Win In Row

NEW ORLEANS, March 19 (AP)— Tulane's Southeastern Conference tennis champion won their 35th straight dual meet today with a 6-0 victory over Rice in the season opener for both.

Ham Richardson, Tulane's national collegiate champion and third ranked United States amateur, easily disposed of Dale Miller, taking the first 10 games and breezing in 6-0, 6-1.

Tulane's second an, Jose Aguero, winner of five southern state championships last year, took only 35 minutes to down Clayton Williams, 6-1, 6-2.

Ham Richardson (T) beat Dale Miller, 6-0, 6-1.

Buddy Lomax (T) beat John Zimmerman 6-2, 6-3.

Henry Jungle (T) beat Max McDaniel, 6-2, 6-3.

Richardson-Lomax beat Zimmerman-Williams, 7-5, 6-2.

Celtics Bounce Knicks Out Of Title Playoffs

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—The Boston Celtics qualified to meet the Syracuse Nationals in the final round of the National Basketball Association's eastern division playoffs Saturday with a 116-109 victory over the New York Knickerbockers. The victory was the Celtic's second in the three-game set.

The eastern best-of-five final series will start Tuesday in Syracuse with the winner qualifying to meet the western divisios winner in the best-of-seven championship round.

To end New York's professional basketball season, the Celtic's posted a fabulous 59.7 per cent shooting percentage. Led by Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Ed MaCauley, the Bostonians sank 49 baskets on 82 shots.

Torn Muscle Spoils Catcher's Workouts

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19 (AP) —X—Rays today disclosed Sammy White, Boston Red Sox catcher, had a slightly torn shoulder muscle which will prevent his throwing for 10 days.

White, two days late in reporting for spring training, has not caught in any of Boston's 10 exhibition games.

"He'll just have to throw underhanded for 10 days then he'll be all right," said Sox trainer Jack Fadden.

5 Are Fined For Selling Tickets To NCAA Games

KANSAS CITY, March 19 (AP)— Four students and a physician were fined today for illegally selling tickets to the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The five were among eight persons arrested yesterday and last night after police received reports ticket sellers were accosting people in the downtown district with offers to sell tickets at high prices—up to $13 for a $4 ticket.

All were charged with selling tickets without a city license.

Largest fine, $25, was assessed against Gerald F. Kelleher, 18-year-old freshman at the University of San Francisco, who came here to watch his school's team in the tournament. He pleaded guilty to selling four tickets for $50.

Fines of $10 each were assessed against Carl N. Pimentelo, 20, Oakland, Calif., a junior at S. F.U.; Dr. Frederick Steffey, 43, Keokuk, Ia.; James Armatas, a student from Denver, and James P. Petenakis, Mason City, Ia., a student at the University of Iowa.

Jon Richard Martin, Sand Springs, Okla., was discharged. The cases of two other men, both Kansas Citians, will be heard next Wednesday.

All of the defendants denied they were participating in a conspiracy to scalp tickets.

Texas Women's Golf Crown Won By Harlan Riedel

HOUSTON, March 19—UP—Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas won her second Texas women's amateur golf championship Saturday with a 2 and 1 victory over another two-time champ, Mrs. Leonard Keating of Houston.

A beautiful recovery approach shot on the 34th hole won the big silver loving cup for Mrs. Riedel at the climax of the week-long 34th annual Texas women's amateur golf tournament.

For the two it was a repitition of history.

Mrs. Riedel defeated Mrs. Keating in the semifinals when she won the championship in 1952. Mrs. Riedel also defeated Mrs. Keating in the semifinals last year, but was beaten in the finals by Polly Riley of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Leonard Keating, the former Kay Pearson, won the state title before her marriage in 1941 and 1947.

M'Phee, Brubaker Added To Card's Growing End List

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP) —Two rookie ends, Dick Brubaker of Ohio State and Frank McPhee, Princeton captain in 1952 and an all-service standout last year, have been signed by the Chicago Cardinals, it was announced today.

Brubaker, co - captain of Ohio State's undefeated Rose Bowl and Big Ten champions, last year teamed up with the Cards' rookie quarterback, Dave Leggett, to catch 11 passes for the Buckeyes. They were good for 114 yards and three touchdown.

Brubaker, a six - footer weighing 205, played 388 minutes for Ohio State and was outstanding on both defense and offense.

McPhee was an offensive end and defensive back when Princeton was winning 26 out of 27 games from 1950 through 1952. In his final season, before entering the marines, he caught 17 passes for 388 yards and five touchdowns.

The pair will be among 10 or more rookie ends scheduled to report to the Cardinals training camp at Lake Forest (Ill.) College on July 17. Others include Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Charles McGinty, North Texas State; Ed Woodsum, Yale; Buck Martin, Grorgia Tech; Vic Berra, Montana State; and Al Dennis, Middlebury (Vt.) College.

Topeka Fighter Accepts Battle Against Dupas

NEW ORLEANS March 19 —UP — Bobby Bickle, a 24-year-old has been signed to meet New Orleans boxer Ralph Dupas in a scheduled 10-round bout here March 28, Promoter Heard Ragas announced today.

The young Washburn University student has engaged in 38 fights, winning 22 via the knockout route. A. Korean veteran, Bickle won the National and International Golden Gloves lightweight championship.

The Kansas Irishman also captured the Army's Far East Command 135-pound title.

Dupas, one of the top lightweight in the country, is expected to take Bickle, but the Kansan may give him a run for his money.

Bengals' Baseball Schedule Complete; Rebels Next

Chatham Battles West Monroe In Delayed Opener

Coach Herschel McConathy, whose Neville High baseball team opened its season with a 5-4 win over Calhoun last week, last night anounced nine more games for his Tigers with the West Monroe Rebels appearing in the next Bengal contest Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium here.

Neville has had to cram all its big games in early due to conference play arrangements, and thus follows West Monroe with two straight Ouachita Parish High games next Thursday and the following Monday.

March 22—West Monroe, here.
March 24—Ouachita, here.
March 28—Ouachita, here.
March 31—Calhoun, here.
April 1—Jonesboro - Hodge at Jonesboro.
April 11—West Monroe, here.
April 19—Ruston, here.
April 21—Jonesboro-Hodge, here.
April 26—Ruston, there.

The bi-district playoffs for Class AA title contenders are scheduled for April 28-29-30, and Neville, as a contender, made no dates that might conflict with possible playoff engagements.

Ruston and Jonesboro - Hodge, as in football and basketball the past season, are Neville's only district conference rivals. Ouachita and West Monroe are triple-A rivals, but the games involving Twin Cities are always attractive. Calhoun is a class B contender.

Meanwhile, Coach Bobby Wilson of West Monroe, who announced a 17-game schedule for his Rebels earlier, is preparing for his delayed season opener with Chatham tomorrow afternoon on the West Monroe playground. The game, originally slated for Friday, was postponed because of drizzling rain and wet grounds.

Ping Pong Meet Entries Closing At Noon Monday

Registration for the annual City Ping Pong Tournament conducted by the Monroe Recreation Department closes at noon tomorrow at the Monroe Recreation Center.

The tournament, open to boys, girls, men and women, starts Tuesday and runs through next Friday.

The event has three age classes in each division, 12 years old and under, 16 and under, 17 and over. Trophies have been secured for all class winners.

Mrs. Myers will be accepting entries until noon today, and the registrations will be acceptable by telephone at 2-2170

Gulfstream Park's 1954 attendance set a new high of 617,537 for 43 days of racing despite 14 days of rain. Officials of the course expect that figure to be topped during the current season.

Argentine Defeats Great Santee; U. S. Team Leads

MEXICO CITY, March 19 (AP) — Little known Juan Miranda of Argentina upset the mighty Wes Santee with a fierce stretch run in the 1,500 meters today but the United States finished the track and field phase of the Pan-American games in a blaze of glory.

Rafer Johnson, 19 - year - old U.C.L.A. freshman, beat out teammate Bob Richards in the rigouous two - day decathlon and three more Yank Championships were rung up by the men's 400 and 1,600 meter relay teams and the women's 400 meter relay quartet.

These accomplishments on the last day of track competition gave the U. S. 16 of the 22 men's championships and four of the seven gold medals in the women's events for a complete rout of defending champion Argentina.

The classic marathon — a grinding test over 26 miles, 385 yards — went to Doroteo Flores of Guatemala, who lumbered into the big stadium exactly two hours, 59 minutes and two seconds after a field of 11 left the starting line. Onesimo Rodriguez of Mexico was second and Luis Valasquez of Guatemala third.

Johnson, who hails from Kingsburg, Calif., just 25 miles from the Tulare home of Olympic decathlon champion Bob Mathias, clinched the decathlon crown when Richards, exhausted from the grind, pulled out of the 1,500 meter race, last of the ten-event program.

The U.C.L.A. Negro, also weary, merely went through the motions of running the 1,500 meter race, finishing in 4:57 5 for only eight points. This gave him a total of 6,994 points with Richards second at 6,866. Four South Americans trailed.

The crowd of 45,000 in the big stadium, however, received its prime shock of the day when Miranda, a stubborn Argentine, stood off a strong bid by Santee in the stretch and won the 1,500 meter race in 3 minutes, 53.2 seconds, a games' record.

Santee, who has been flirting with the four-minute mile, hit the tape in the same clocking but a full stride behind the lunging South American. Fred Dwyer was third in 3:53.3 and Bob McMillen fourth in 4:04.

The world record for the distance —120 yards short of the mile — is 3:41.8, which Australia's John Landy did in his record 3:58 mile. The games' record was 4:00.4 by Browning Ross four years ago.

As Miranda breasted the tape, the 45,000 spectators burst into a loud roar. Then teammates and friends swarmed out on the infield to take the pufing, exhausted Argentine into their arms.

Both the U. S. men's and women's 400 meter relay teams streaked to record victories. The men's quartet was anchored by army Lt. Rod Richard, who previously had won the 100 and 200 meter championships.

Barbara Jones, Chicago, running anchor for the women's team, overcame a three - yard lead of the Argentine team to win in the Pan - American record time of 47 seconds flat.

The men also set a games' mark with 40.7 seconds as Willie Williams, Illinois, got the Americans off to a good start on the opening leg which never was relinquished.

John Bennett, formerly of Marquette University, and Texas' Charley Thomas ran the second and third legs, the latter yielding the baton to Richard, who stood off a strong Venezuelan challenge.

Venezuela was second in 41 seconds flat, followed by Mexico, Argentina, Canada and the Dominican Republic in order.

Venezuela was third in the 1,600 meter relay, Puerto Rico fourth, Brazil fifth, and Mexico sixth.

The winning time of the United States was 3:07.2, a new games record.

The old mark was 3:09:9 set by the United States at Buenos Aires four years ago.

Hernan Figueroa, Chile, was third in the decathlon with 5,740 points followed by Brigido Iriarte, Venezuela with 5,253, Carlos Vera, Chile, with 4,365 and Javier Gonzales, Mexico, with 4,108.

If Richards had elected to run in the 1,500 meters he could have captured the decathlon championship by doing a mediocre 5:26.4, which would have given him 109 points.

However, earlier in the day he decided to forego the 1,500 meter run in order not to overtax himself. He plans new assaults on the world pole vault record in the United States.

The Cinderella rowing champions of the 1952 Olympics, Chuck Logg, Jr., and Tom Price of Rutgers, qualified for the pairs rowing finals by winning a repechage—or second place—heat from Uruguay. This gave the U. S. seven crews in Sunday's finals.

American swimmers bettered three games records as the U. S. sent a full quota of three swimmers into the finals of the men's 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke and the women's 100-meter freestyle and 200-meter breaststroke.

Frank McKinney, Jr. of Indianapolis lowered the 100-meter backstroke mark to 1:07.2, and a few minutes later Leonida Baarcke of Clearwater, Fla., covered the distance in 1:07.1. The old mark was 1:08 by Allen Stack, Yale.

Beatriz Rohde of Argentina swam the 200-meter breaststroke in 3:06-.2, chopping 2.2 seconds from the mark set by her countrywoman, Dorotea Turnbill in 1951.

Ouachita Wildlife Unit Joins Fight To Save Marshes

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation has joined the state wildlife federation and National Wildlife Federation this week in focusing public attention on conservation problems. The occasion is National Wildlife Week, which is sponsored annually by the National Wildlife Federation with the help of state and local affiliates.

President E. W. Crowley of the Ouachita unit said special emphasis is being placed this year on the value of marshlands, swamps and other "wetlands" and the question of where drainage and destruction of such areas should stop.

He quoted Carl D. Shoemaker, veteran conservation leader of Washington, D. C., and one of the founders of the National Wildlife Federation, as saying that "unless we act promptly to preserve the remaining areas of waterfowl habitat, the next generation may read about but never experience the thrills of duck and goose hunting."

Another wildlife authority, Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, executive vice-president of the Sport Fishing Institute, has pointed out that some of the best fishing sport in America is to be found in the swamps and sloughs of the south, the natural woodland lakes of the north, and the mountain lakes of the west.

"Try Okefenokee in Georgia and the marsh - type lakes of Florida for largemouth bass fishing, the sloughs and bayous along the Mississippi river for a variety of game fish, and the prairie state lakes for pike, perch and bass," Dr. Eschmeyer has advised.

Wildlife experts also have estimated that 95 per cent of the American fur harvest is produced on the wetlands of the nation. Valuable fur animals like muskrat, mink and otter are as dependent on water as wild mallards and pintails.

America's marshes, swamps and river bottoms support a variety of wildlife that cannot live elsewhere. With the destruction of 75 per cent of these through drainage, pollution and thoughtless misuse, causes the depletion of many of our most valuable wild animals — ducks, geese, shore birds, song birds, furbearers and fish.

State and federal conservation agencies are initiating programs for the preservation of remaining wetlands.

Marion Aims At Jackpot In 3rd Year As Skipper

By LEO H. PETERSEN

TAMPA, Fla., March 19—UP—In his third shot at managing a major league ball club, Marty Marion believes he is going to hit the jackpot with his Chicago White Sox.

"This club easily could go all the way," he predicted. "I'm taking over a club which is much stronger than Paul Richards had in 1954 because we acquired more batting power and a much better bench without giving up anything.

"Of course, we have a few ifs, like George Kell at third base, but the ifs are not big ones and I'll have to admit that I'm very hopeful.

"Why shouldn't I be with a club that has good catching, good pitching, good defense and enough power?"

He admitted he could use a left handed hitting outfielder with power, but "if we don't make a trade for one I won't be too worried."

Marion predicted that the league will be a lot tougher than last year because it "is better balanced."

"I don't think you are going to see such lop-sided things as the Indians winning 20 out of 22 games from the Red Sox last year," Marion explained, adding that in his book the Indians "are the club to beat."

"They have great young pitching in rookie Herb Score, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski. Add them to such stars as Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia and you can see what I mean.

"The Yankees figure to be tough, too, but I can't agree with those who think the Yankees won the pennant when they made that deal with Baltimore. Bob Turley is a fine young pitcher and Don Larsen has possibilities, but don't forget they lost quite a pitcher in Allie Reynolds.

"The Tigers have a lot of youth and should improve. The same is true of the Red Sox. It's a cinch that Washington and the Orioles will be better and the Athletics should be rougher, too.

"But in spite of it all, I still like our chances."

Romack, Smith, Lesser, Downey In Semi-Finals

PINEHURST, N. C., March 19 (AP) —Barbara Romack, Wiffi Smith, Pat Lesser and Mary Ann Downey won their quarter-final matches today in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

The weather has seldom been worse in the 53-year history of the meet. Bleak skies and 40-degree temperature greeted the players. They were on the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club about an hour when a cold rain added to their difficulties.

Miss Smith, the U. S. Junior champion from La Canada, Calif., showed an impressive short game as she fashioned a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Montpelier, Vt., one of the medalists. Tomorrow the 18 - year - old power hitter plays Miss Romack, the National Women's champion from Sacramento, Calif., a 3 and 2 winner today over the Baltimore veteran, Mrs. Maurice Glick.

Miss Romack has beaten Wiffi twice in previous meetings including a 7 and 5 decision in the quarter-finals of last year's National Amateur.

Mary Patton Janssen, Charlottesville, Va., who shared the medal with Mrs. Jones, was a 4 and 3 victim of Miss Downey, the determined Baltimore dark horse. Tomorrow Miss Downey meets Miss Lesser, a former intercollegiate titleholder and a Seattle University senior. Miss Lesser trounced her traveling companion on the winter tour, Virginia Dennehy of Northwestern and Lake Forest, Ill., 5 and 4.

Boat Trailers Without 'Tags' Will Be Taken

BATON ROUGE, March 19 (AP)—State troopers today warned sportsmen all unlicensed boat trailers will be taken into custody starting April 1.

State Police Supt. Francis Grevemberg said fishermen are beginning to crowd highways with boat trailers.

"A majority are not licensed," he said. "We don't want to interfere with a man on his weekend outing, but quite a number of sportsmen given five-day warning tickets about trailer licenses have ignored them.

"Starting April 1, unlicensed boat trailers will be taken into custody until licensed.

"And we recommend some kind of tail light, although the law only requires a red reflector."

Licenses can be purchased at the same place motorists obtained auto tags. Boat trailer owners first must obtain a registration number free of charge from any state police headquarters.

Grevemberg said many trailers are being parked carelessly on highways at night, reating dangerous traffic hazards.

Possible Heart Trouble Delays Moore's Career

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 19—UP— World light - heavyweight champion Archie Moore Saturday was resting in a hospital after the State Athletic Commission refused him a license to fight because of possible heart trouble.

In Sacramento, Clayton Frye, secretary to the commission, said the commission doctor, James Ryan, reported Moore had a rapid pulse when he examined him. A heart specialist was called in.

The specialist, Dr. Winston Hall, would not discuss Moore's condition.

Dr. Ryan reported that this refusal to grant Moore a license was not necessarily permanent.

Moore said in the hospital that there was nothing wrong with his heart.

'Cowboy' Hill Signs To Play For Riders

OTTAWA, March 19 (AP) —The Ottawa Rough Riders have signed a new end: Jimmy (Cowboy) Hill, former Detroit Lion star.

Reynolds Turns Down Bid Of A's For His Services

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 19—UP—Former New York Yankee pitcher Allie Reynolds Saturday said he has rejected a bid from the Kansas City Athletics to return to baseball and now will take a leading part in a battle for control of Montgomery-Ward.

Reynolds' switch from pitching to proxies apparently kills any rumors that the "super chief" may yet decide his announced retirement isn't permanent.

Reynolds announced earlier this year he would not play again because of a back injury.

He said Saturday that Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City club, called him Friday night with an offer.

"We had a very short talk," Reynolds said. "I told him my retirement was caused by a purely physical disability and I had no intentions of going back to baseball."

He said apparently the Yankees have "more or less accepted" his retirement because Johnson first discussed the question of Reynolds returning to the Yankees with New York President Dan Topping and general manager George Weiss before calling Reynolds.

Reynolds said he now will be the coordinator for Oklahoma, Texas, and Arkansas for financier Louis Wolfson's campign to wrest control of Montgomery-Ward from Sewell Avery.

The former Yankee right-hander said he has just returned from a three-week trip to New York to "get acclimated" to the type of work he will do in the stock fight.

Reynolds emphasized, however, he was doing it as a friend of Wolfson's, not to gain an executive position with the mail-order firm if Wolfson wins the fight.

Skipper's Ho-Made Cream moved back to the head of the class as the Skipper's girls made a four point sweep with Ouachita National Bank. Anna Mae Breece took high game with a 139 while Skipper Perkins was showing a 388 series. Trimble, using a 138 game and a 368 series led the banking girls.

Public Loan stopped Delson's Shoes all four points as B. Darden and Daisy Mann each had a 130 game with Mann taking high series with 364. Massee, posting a 143 game and a 406 series, was best for Delson's.

Tony's Redwood Restaurant bested Falstaff Beer three out of four points as Betty Heidner was rolling a 175 game and a 428 series. Easterling, getting a 131 game and a 358 series, was tops for Falstaff.

Brown Container No. 7 downed Aaron Stout Insurance three out of four. Hazel Moore, shooting a 141 game and a 347 series, was No. 1 for the insurance girls. Beachman, throwing a 136 game along with a 357 series, led Brown Container.

Credit Bureau and Negley Bag and Paper split their four points at two each. Betty Kutz had a nice game of 157 to go with Hasel Chambliss' 382 series to lead Negley. Francis Young, after missing a couple of weeks, came back to claim high game for Credit Bureau with a 137, while Evelyn Turley was getting high series with a 355.

Covenant Presbyterian moved a little closer to the Church League championship, besting First Presbyterian three points to one as E. E. Lawson was leading the way with a 180 game and a 488 series. O. K. Davis used a 183 game and a 508 series to lead First Presbyterian.

St. Paul Methodist took three out of four points from First Methodist of West Monroe as J. Clay was showing a 196 game and a 477 series. Wilbanks, posted a 154 game to go with Kennedy's 421 series to lead the First Methodist.

Memorial Presbyterian stopped St. Paschal's three points to one as Sarah Brasher and Scott were deadlocking for high game with 180 each. Scott took high series with a 448. Flores, having a 200 game and a 470 series, was No. 1 for St. Paschal's.

Bengals' Baseball Schedule Complete; Rebels Next

Chatham Battles West Monroe In Delayed Opener

Coach Herschel McConathy, whose Neville High baseball team opened its season with a 5-4 win over Calhoun last week, last night anounced nine more games for his Tigers with the West Monroe Rebels appearing in the next Bengal contest Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium here.

Neville has had to cram all its big games in early due to conference play arrangements, and thus follows West Monroe with two straight Ouachita Parish High games next Thursday and the following Monday.

March 22—West Monroe, here.
March 24—Ouachita, here.
March 28—Ouachita, here.
March 31—Calhoun, here.
April 1—Jonesboro - Hodge at Jonesboro.
April 11—West Monroe, here.
April 19—Ruston, here.
April 21—Jonesboro-Hodge, here.
April 26—Ruston, there.

The bi-district playoffs for Class AA title contenders are scheduled for April 28-29-30, and Neville, as a contender, made no dates that might conflict with possible playoff engagements.

Ruston and Jonesboro - Hodge, as in football and basketball the past season, are Neville's only district conference rivals. Ouachita and West Monroe are triple-A rivals, but the games involving Twin Cities are always attractive. Calhoun is a class B contender.

Meanwhile, Coach Bobby Wilson of West Monroe, who announced a 17-game schedule for his Rebels earlier, is preparing for his delayed season opener with Chatham tomorrow afternoon on the West Monroe playground. The game, originally slated for Friday, was postponed because of drizzling rain and wet grounds.

Ping Pong Meet Entries Closing At Noon Monday

Registration for the annual City Ping Pong Tournament conducted by the Monroe Recreation Department closes at noon tomorrow at the Monroe Recreation Center.

The tournament, open to boys, girls, men and women, starts Tuesday and runs through next Friday.

The event has three age classes in each division, 12 years old and under, 16 and under, 17 and over. Trophies have been secured for all class winners.

Mrs. Myers will be accepting entries until noon today, and the registrations will be acceptable by telephone at 2-2170

Gulfstream Park's 1954 attendance set a new high of 617,537 for 43 days of racing despite 14 days of rain. Officials of the course expect that figure to be topped during the current season.

Argentine Defeats Great Santee; U. S. Team Leads

MEXICO CITY, March 19 (AP) — Little known Juan Miranda of Argentina upset the mighty Wes Santee with a fierce stretch run in the 1,500 meters today but the United States finished the track and field phase of the Pan-American games in a blaze of glory.

Rafer Johnson, 19 - year - old U.C.L.A. freshman, beat out teammate Bob Richards in the rigouous two - day decathlon and three more Yank Championships were rung up by the men's 400 and 1,600 meter relay teams and the women's 400 meter relay quartet.

These accomplishments on the last day of track competition gave the U. S. 16 of the 22 men's championships and four of the seven gold medals in the women's events for a complete rout of defending champion Argentina.

The classic marathon — a grinding test over 26 miles, 385 yards — went to Doroteo Flores of Guatemala, who lumbered into the big stadium exactly two hours, 59 minutes and two seconds after a field of 11 left the starting line. Onesimo Rodriguez of Mexico was second and Luis Valasquez of Guatemala third.

Johnson, who hails from Kingsburg, Calif., just 25 miles from the Tulare home of Olympic decathlon champion Bob Mathias, clinched the decathlon crown when Richards, exhausted from the grind, pulled out of the 1,500 meter race, last of the ten-event program.

The U.C.L.A. Negro, also weary, merely went through the motions of running the 1,500 meter race, finishing in 4:57 5 for only eight points. This gave him a total of 6,994 points with Richards second at 6,866. Four South Americans trailed.

The crowd of 45,000 in the big stadium, however, received its prime shock of the day when Miranda, a stubborn Argentine, stood off a strong bid by Santee in the stretch and won the 1,500 meter race in 3 minutes, 53.2 seconds, a games' record.

Santee, who has been flirting with the four-minute mile, hit the tape in the same clocking but a full stride behind the lunging South American. Fred Dwyer was third in 3:53.3 and Bob McMillen fourth in 4:04.

The world record for the distance —120 yards short of the mile — is 3:41.8, which Australia's John Landy did in his record 3:58 mile. The games' record was 4:00.4 by Browning Ross four years ago.

As Miranda breasted the tape, the 45,000 spectators burst into a loud roar. Then teammates and friends swarmed out on the infield to take the pufing, exhausted Argentine into their arms.

Both the U. S. men's and womtn's 400 meter relay teams streaked to record victories. The men's quartet was anchored by army Lt. Rod Richard, who previously had won the 100 and 200 meter championships.

Barbara Jones, Chicago, running anchor for the women's team, overcame a three - yard lead of the Argentine team to win in the Pan - American record time of 47 seconds flat.

The men also set a games' mark with 40.7 seconds as Willie Williams, Illinois, got the Americans off to a good start on the opening leg which never was relinquished.

John Bennett, formerly of Marquette University, and Texas' Charley Thomas ran the second and third legs, the latter yielding the baton to Richard, who stood off a strong Venezuelan challenge.

Venezuela was second in 41 seconds flat, followed by Mexico, Argentina, Canada and the Dominican Republic in order.

Venezuela was third in the 1,600 meter relay, Puerto Rico fourth, Brazil fifth, and Mexico sixth.

The winning time of the United States was 3:07.2, a new games record.

The old mark was 3:09:9 set by the United States at Buenos Aires four years ago.

Hernan Figueroa, Chile, was third in the decathlon with 5,740 points followed by Brigido Iriarte, Venezuela with 5,253, Carlos Vera, Chile, with 4,365 and Javier Gonzales, Mexico, with 4,108.

If Richards had elected to run in the 1,500 meters he could have captured the decathlon championship by doing a mediocre 5:26.4, which would have given him 109 points.

However, earlier in the day he decided to forego the 1,500 meter run in order not to overtax himself. He plans new assaults on the world pole vault record in the United States.

The Cinderella rowing champions of the 1952 Olympics, Chuck Logg, Jr., and Tom Price of Rutgers, qualified for the pairs rowing finals by winning a repechage—or second place—heat from Uruguay. This gave the U. S. seven crews in Sunday's finals.

American swimmers bettered three games records as the U. S. sent a full quota of three swimmers into the finals of the men's 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke and the women's 100-meter freestyle and 200-meter breaststroke.

Frank McKinney, Jr. of Indianapolis lowered the 100-meter backstroke mark to 1:07.2, and a few minutes later Leonida Baarcke of Clearwater, Fla., covered the distance in 1:07.1. The old mark was 1:08 by Allen Stack, Yale.

Beatriz Rohde of Argentina swam the 200-meter breaststroke in 3:06-.2, chopping 2.2 seconds from the mark set by her countrywoman, Dorotea Turnbill in 1951.

Ouachita Wildlife Unit Joins Fight To Save Marshes

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation has joined the state wildlife federation and National Wildlife Federation this week in focusing public attention on conservation problems. The occasion is National Wildlife Week, which is sponsored annually by the National Wildlife Federation with the help of state and local affiliates.

President E. W. Crowley of the Ouachita unit said special emphasis is being placed this year on the value of marshlands, swamps and other "wetlands" and the question of where drainage and destruction of such areas should stop.

He quoted Carl D. Shoemaker, veteran conservation leader of Washington, D. C., and one of the founders of the National Wildlife Federation, as saying that "unless we act promptly to preserve the remaining areas of waterfowl habitat, the next generation may read about but never experience the thrills of duck and goose hunting."

Another wildlife authority, Dr. R. W. Eschmeyer, executive vice-president of the Sport Fishing Institute, has pointed out that some of the best fishing sport in America is to be found in the swamps and sloughs of the south, the natural woodland lakes of the north, and the mountain lakes of the west.

"Try Okefenokee in Georgia and the marsh - type lakes of Florida for largemouth bass fishing, the sloughs and bayous along the Mississippi river for a variety of game fish, and the prairie state lakes for pike, perch and bass," Dr. Eschmeyer has advised.

Wildlife experts also have estimated that 95 per cent of the American fur harvest is produced on the wetlands of the nation. Valuable fur animals like muskrat, mink and otter are as dependent on water as wild mallards and pintails.

America's marshes, swamps and river bottoms support a variety of wildlife that cannot live elsewhere. With the destruction of 75 per cent of these through drainage, pollution and thoughtless misuse, causes the depletion of many of our most valuable wild animals — ducks, geese, shore birds, song birds, furbearers and fish.

State and federal conservation agencies are initiating programs for the preservation of remaining wetlands.

Marion Aims At Jackpot In 3rd Year As Skipper

By LEO H. PETERSEN

TAMPA, Fla., March 19—UP—In his third shot at managing a major league ball club, Marty Marion believes he is going to hit the jackpot with his Chicago White Sox.

"This club easily could go all the way," he predicted. "I'm taking over a club which is much stronger than Paul Richards had in 1954 because we acquired more batting power and a much better bench without giving up anything.

"Of course, we have a few ifs, like George Kell at third base, but the ifs are not big ones and I'll have to admit that I'm very hopeful.

"Why shouldn't I be with a club that has good catching, good pitching, good defense and enough power?"

He admitted he could use a left handed hitting outfielder with power, but "if we don't make a trade for one I won't be too worried."

Marion predicted that the league will be a lot tougher than last year because it "is better balanced."

"I don't think you are going to see such lop-sided things as the Indians winning 20 out of 22 games from the Red Sox last year," Marion explained, adding that in his book the Indians "are the club to beat."

"They have great young pitching in rookie Herb Score, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski. Add them to such stars as Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia and you can see what I mean.

"The Yankees figure to be tough, too, but I can't agree with those who think the Yankees won the pennant when they made that deal with Baltimore. Bob Turley is a fine young pitcher and Don Larsen has possibilities, but don't forget they lost quite a pitcher in Allie Reynolds.

"The Tigers have a lot of youth and should improve. The same is true of the Red Sox. It's a cinch that Washington and the Orioles will be better and the Athletics should be rougher, too.

"But in spite of it all, I still like our chances."

The weather has seldom been worse in the 53-year history of the meet. Bleak skies and 40-degree temperature greeted the players. They were on the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club about an hour when a cold rain added to their difficulties.

Miss Smith, the U. S. Junior champion from La Canada, Calif., showed an impressive short game as she fashioned a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Montpelier, Vt., one of the medalists. Tomorrow the 18 - year - old power hitter plays Miss Romack, the National Women's champion from Sacramento, Calif., a 3 and 2 winner today over the Baltimore veteran, Mrs. Maurice Glick.

Miss Romack has beaten Wiffi twice in previous meetings including a 7 and 5 decision in the quarter-finals of last year's National Amateur.

Mary Patton Janssen, Charlottesville, Va., who shared the medal with Mrs. Jones, was a 4 and 3 victim of Miss Downey, the determined Baltimore dark horse. Tomorrow Miss Downey meets Miss Lesser, a former intercollegiate titleholder and a Seattle University senior. Miss Lesser trounced her traveling companion on the winter tour, Virginia Dennehy of Northwestern and Lake Forest, Ill., 5 and 4.

Why Scrap Free Competition

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product?

Natural gas comes to most consumers through interstate pipelines and local utility systems. They have franchises from state or local bodies, and have long been regulated.

The producers who find the gas have not been regulated because more than 5,000 of them compete vigorously—and free competition is the best of all price controls.

Yet these producers have recently been singled out for Federal controls and price-fixing.

This is a step without peacetime precedent—to price-fix a consumer product at its source. It is a step that deeply disturbs many Americans, including the undersigned committee.

They believe the proposed controls are against the public interest and can benefit no one. They believe the issue goes far beyond gas. It goes to the roots of America's greatness. They believe the controls plan is unwise for many reasons.

It is Unnecessary because gas supplies have tripled in sixteen years. And costs to consumers have risen a nation-wide average of only one-eleventh as much as the cost of living.

It is Dangerous because it could easily be the first step toward Federal controls on coal or oil—or lumber or grain or your business.

It is Unfair because it singles out one competitive industry for such controls.

It is Shortsighted because it stifles the bold and risky exploring that's needed to assure adequate supplies.

Why Scrap Free Competition

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product?

Natural gas comes to most consumers through interstate pipelines and local utility systems. They have franchises from state or local bodies, and have long been regulated.

The producers who find the gas have not been regulated because more than 5,000 of them compete vigorously—and free competition is the best of all price controls.

Yet these producers have recently been singled out for Federal controls and price-fixing.

This is a step without peacetime precedent—to price-fix a consumer product at its source. It is a step that deeply disturbs many Americans, including the undersigned committee.

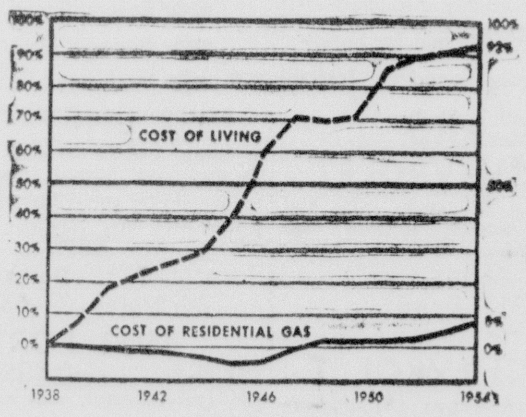
They believe the proposed controls are against the public interest and can benefit no one. They believe the issue goes far beyond gas. It goes to the roots of America's greatness. They believe the controls plan is unwise for many reasons.

It is Unnecessary because gas supplies have tripled in sixteen years. And costs to consumers have risen a nation-wide average of only one-eleventh as much as the cost of living.

It is Dangerous because it could easily be the first step toward Federal controls on coal or oil—or lumber or grain or your business.

It is Unfair because it singles out one competitive industry for such controls.

It is Shortsighted because it stifles the bold and risky exploring that's needed to assure adequate supplies.



As shown by the chart above, based on figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics for a national average, the cost of natural gas to the residential consumer has gone up only one-eleventh as much as the cost of living in sixteen years.

WE KNOW YOUR CONFIDENCE AND LOYAL SUPPORT
HAS MADE THESE 19 YEARS POSSIBLE

MAY WE SAY THANKS!

If you'll pardon us for bragging a little . . . we'd like to think our policy of square dealing, quality merchandise and backing up what we sell has enabled us to earn this confidence.

We do not claim to have gigantic, super-colossal bargains or even the best cars—new or used—in the U. S. Nor do we claim to sell cars with no down payment or other such foolish come-ons.

HOWEVER—WE DO CLAIM WE WILL SELL YOU A NEW

STUDEBAKER OR PACKARD

AT PRICES COMPETITIVE WITH ANY COMPARABLE CAR ON THE AMERICAN MARKET. WE DO GUARANTEE YOU WILL GET EVERY DOLLAR'S WORTH IN BEAUTY, ECONOMY AND PERFORMANCE!

We expect to give you full trade-in value for your old car. Our terms are not ridiculously low—but they are flexible enough to fit almost any budget.

JUST REMEMBER IF YOU CAN AFFORD ANY NEW CAR—YOU CAN OWN A BEAUTIFUL NEW '55 STUDEBAKER OR PACKARD.

Buick's Riviera 4-Door Hardtop

THE AUTOMOBILE STYLE SENSATION WHICH HAS MADE A TREMENDOUS HIT WITH THOUSANDS OF SPECTATORS AT THE 1955 MOTORAMA SHOWS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY IS NOW ON DISPLAY IN OUR SHOWROOM.

This new "hardtop" model is Buick's first extension of its famous Riviera styling to four-door cars. While providing greater visibility for passengers in the rear seats, it combines the sweep and airiness of a convertible with the comfort and roominess of a sedan. Available in sparkling new spring colors. DON'T MISS IT!

PRESENTING
A New Kind Of Electric Typewriter
THE NEW ROYAL ELECTRIC

A typewriter that gives you new freedom . . . new ease of operation . . . the typewriter that was engineered with YOU in mind!

NEW FEATURES:

SPEED-FLO-KEYBOARD— Try it! You'll discover that the touch is smoother, faster, and lighter than that found on any electric typewriter yet designed.

COPY CONTROL— [illegible] this major improvement. Just ask our salesman to demonstrate it to you.

FOOLPROOF REPEAT KEYS— Underscore . . . make hyphens . . . space backward or forward—just by holding down the right key. You can't make a mistake, because these repeat keys operate independently of the regular keys. A ROYAL ELECTRIC exclusive!

INSTANT SPACE-UP KEY— You don't have to reach for the carriage knobs. You don't have to push the carriage return key. No matter where you are in a line, you just touch a bar and instantly you get as many spaces up as you like.

"MAGIC" MARGIN— Another Royal exclusive [illegible] automatically thanks to the only spring impelled margin in the electric field.

LINE METER— Your Royal Electric is equipped with [illegible] when typing near the bottom of a page.

NEW ROYALS ALSO AVAILABLE IN EXCITING PASTEL COLORS!

PRESENTING
A New Kind Of Electric Typewriter
THE NEW ROYAL ELECTRIC
A typewriter that gives you new freedom . . . new ease of operation . . . the typewriter that was engineered with YOU in mind!

NEW FEATURES:

SPEED-FLO-KEYBOARD—Try it! You'll discover that the touch is smoother, faster, and lighter than that found on any electric typewriter yet designed.

COPY CONTROL—Sparkling carbons are now your meat with this major improvement. Just ask our salesman to demonstrate it to you.

FOOLPROOF REPEAT KEYS—Underscore . . . make hyphens . . . space backward or forward—just by holding down the right key. You can't make a mistake, because these repeat keys operate independently of the regular keys. A ROYAL ELECTRIC exclusive!

INSTANT SPACE-UP KEY—You don't have to reach for the carriage knobs. You don't have to push the carriage return key. No matter where you are in a line, you just touch a bar and space-up instantly!

"MAGIC" MARGIN—Another Royal exclusive that gives you the fastest, easiest known method of setting margins instantly thanks to the only spring-impelled margins in the electric field.

NEW ROYALS ALSO AVAILABLE IN EXCITING PASTEL COLORS!

YOU'LL LOVE it, and for the price of $12,500 . . . it's a good value in a wonderful neighborhood! It has asbestos siding; 2 comfortable bedrooms and an elegant 15x24 pine-paneled den off the rear of the home; well porportioned living room with wall-to-wall carpeting and a separate dining area. There's also oak floors; 30 gallon heater; attic fan; washer plumbing and a beautifully landscaped yard with St. Augustine grass.

FINK'S HIDEAWAY ROAD

HERE'S AN excellent buy in a 2-bedroom and den pink brick home with 1½ baths. It has 125' of bayou frontage; pine - paneled den; real fireplace in living room and also one in the den; has carport; 30 gallon heater and almost an acre of land! It's priced at a sensible $11,900. $1700 down makes the move on FHA financing

1413 SOUTH 4TH

WE WISH you'd take a few moments this afternoon to inspect this one thoroughly! It's just a half block from the Plum St. school; it has a pleasing shade of brown asbestos siding; and talk about features . . . how's this: 2 roomy bedrooms (one with two closets and the other with a walk-in closet); blue bath fixtures; central heating; attic's insulated; copper plumbing and carport with storage. It's selling for $9450 (FHA value!) with only $600 down!

1003 MEADOWBROOK

TALK ABOUT privacy! Here's the "most" in a 6-room home located on Jewell Lake in McGuire Addition in West Monroe! It's on a 100x400 lot; has 3-bedrooms; beautiful hardwood floors; copper plumbing; large living room with picture window overlooking lake; separate dining room; well - arranged kitchen; breezeway and carport with storage! $1700 down is all it takes on FHA financing!

201 GEORGIA

IF YOU cater to well-landscaped yards and reasonably priced homes . . . take a few minutes this p.m. and let us show this happy home! It's white asbestos with 2 bedrooms; hardwood floors; Venetian blinds; the lot's 57½'; nice size kitchen with stovehood and built-in ironing board and the yard's a perfect dream! Its all yours for only $400 down!

311 ANDERSON

YOU'LL POSSIBLY think it's a misprint, but it ain't! Nope . . . $10,500 is right and look what it buys: a brand new home in W. Monroe with hardwood block floors; central heating; tile bath; THREE BEDROOMS; spacious kitchen with unusual custom built cabinets; copper pipes; bath has shower; attic fan; natural woodwork throughout as well as carport with storage! $950 down makes the move. FHA or closing costs only on a 100 per cent G. I. loan.

LAKESHORE DRIVE

IT'S A BRAND new brick and whata' brick at that! It has 1289 sq. feet of wonderful living area; 3 roomy bedrooms; 14x20 living room with Roman brick fireplace; 11x14 dining area; tile bath with tub and shower; central heating; attic fan; carport with storage; the kitchen has the most unusual amount of cabinet space you'll find anywhere; kitchen also has: Formica cabinet tops; stovehood and washer plumbing. $1850 down (FHA) makes the move or it'll 100 per cent G. I. You wanta' look today? Call us!

209 ERIN

IT'S ABSOLUTELY a "steal" at the asking price of $10,500, for look what it buys! 1200 Sq. feet of living area; wonderful northside neighborhood; spacious living room and separate dining room; 3 nice size bedrooms; tile bath; oak floors; kitchen has washer and dryer connections; has breakfast room and wonderful shade all day from huge pecan trees! If you're a veteran, closing costs is all it takes on a 100% G. I. loan.

1007 SOUTH 3RD

1047 SQ. FEET of living area and only $600 down (that's all!) buys it all as well as these: 2 roomy bedrooms (one 13x15 with two walk-in closets); oak floors; floor furnace; attic fan; has a 10x14 kitchen with nice cabinet space and a large pantry; asbestos siding and a 75' lot. We'll gladly show today!

1610 SOUTH 1ST

ONLY $7400 buys a heckuva' lotta' house here with asbestos siding; 2 bedrooms (one with double closets, the other has sliding door closet); kitchen with serving bar, washer plumbing; oak floors throughout; Venetian blinds and natural woodwork. $400 down makes the move!

2020 STUART

HERE'S ANOTHER unusual purchase in a 2-bedroom home in a splendid northside neighborhood! This one's on a 75' lot . . . has asbestos siding . . . central heating . . . carport . . . double closets in one bedroom . . . it's just been completely redecorated . . . has metal window frames and washer plumbing! It's vacant and priced at only $8500 and . . . $500 down makes the move!

3705 GRAMMONT

YOU COULD "scratch around" for weeks and not come up with a better buy than this 2-bedroom AND paneled den home that's selling for only $9500! It has 1270 sq. feet; both bedrooms are 11x15; there's a 13x20 living room; the paneled den is 12x20; has oak floors; and it's on a 75' lot! $1050 down makes the move!

1605 COLLEGE

THIS ONE has had more than it's share of lovin' attention since it was built, and it shows in all 5-rooms! Among the 1000 sq. feet of this one you'll find: roomy living room; separate dining room; 2 bedrooms; nice oak floors; kitchen has ample cabinet space, stovehood and washer plumbing; floor furnace and attic fan; new water heater; nice closet space (3 in hall alone); and it's priced at only $9700 (FHA value!) with only $650 down! It's vacant and we'll run you a race to show it to you today!

414 WILMUTH

TALK ABOUT good condition . . . there's not a blemish on this 1-year-old youngster, and for proof . . . let us show you today! And while we are at it, we'll show you also: the two nice size bedrooms; the 2 wall furnaces; the well-arranged kitchen with stovehood, washer plumbing, and nice cabinet space; the carport with storage; the 30 gallon heater and the paved street. It's vacant and priced at only $8750.

1807 MILTON

MAY BE it's a little premature but . . . the slab's there and soon the following will be there: 3 bedrooms, hardwood block floors throughout, tile bath and a half, central heat, 75' lot (with paving); carport with storage and other features too! Watch it grow, if you like!

501 FILHIOL

HERE'S AN excellent value in a 2-bedroom and den home and it's on a 70' corner lot at that! It's asbestos siding with these features: 2 bedrooms and a den; roomy living room and separate dining room; hardwood floors; 3 floor furnaces and attic fan; well-arranged kitchen and a separate breakfast room; has 8x13 side screened porch and a detached garage! It's priced at $14,294 with $2894 down FHA!

306 SLACK

$800 DOWN FHA or just closing costs on a 100 per cent G. I. loan is all it takes to make the move into this roomy (1192 sq. feet) 3-bedroom home just a half block from both the new high school in West Monroe and also Millsaps Grammar! It has hardwood floors; separate living and dining room; 8x15 front porch; attic fan; garage and a back screened porch. It's in excellent condition and we'll gladly show at your convenience!

121 VERNON

WE'D SURE be tickled to show you this splendid purchase this p.m., for it's on a 100' lot . . . has 1044 sq. feet of well-arranged floor space; hardwood floors; a 14x21 kitchen with a host of good features; 2 roomy bedrooms; front screened porch; attic fan and also a garage! It's priced at $9000 with $1150 down.

111 BANCROFT

405 PARGOUD DRIVE

FROM THE 90' lot to the double carport to the 1200 sq. feet of living area . . . it's spacious! Here's a brand new brick with 3 bedrooms (all with double sliding door closets); central heating; insulated attic; well proportioned living room facing the rear of the lot; attractive dining area; 10x19 kitchen with Formica cabinet tops; washer plumbing and breakfast area; double carport and "loads" of other features! It's already financed and $2730 down makes the move!

1313 COLLEGE

IF YOU'RE a qualified veteran, pay closing costs of approx. $300 and enjoy everyone of the following features of this good purchase: 923 sq. feet of living area; hardwood floors; asbestos siding; attached garage with overhead door; 48" attic fan; floor furnace; 30 gallon heater and paved street! $8100 is the price and we'll show "at the drop of a hat"!

118 SHORT NORTH 5TH

HERE'S THAT 3-bedroom home within a "stone's throw" of the West Monroe High school and Millsaps Grammar that possibly you've been yearning for! It's roomy (1174 sq. feet) and . . . ever so livable with the following features: 3 nice size bedrooms; asbestos siding; 4 wall furnaces; attic fan; 12x21 kitchen with huge breakfast area; carport with storage; 75' lot on paved street (well-landscaped); washer plumbing! $1700 down makes the move on FHA financing! We'll gladly show today!

HALSELL DRIVE

IF YOU'RE "hankerin" for country living and a splendid home with all conveniences not too far from West Monroe . . . listen to this! Here's a large (1496 sq. feet of living area) home only a year and a half old with every one of the following features and then some "to boot"! 3 bedrooms (the smallest is 14x14); bath and a half; 14x22 living room; wall furnaces; 42" attic fan; textone walls; natural woodwork throughout 30" dug water well, 60' deep; situated on a spacious lot with nice trees and it's just a half a block off the White's Ferry Road. There's also a carport and breezeway! $13,650 is the price!

1612 MILTON

IT'S A "problem solver" if you've a large family but so far you haven't found a well - located home to fit it! It's spacious (1800 sq. feet of living area) with 3 unusually large bedrooms and two tile baths; central hearing; beautiful living room and dining area both have wall-to-wall carpeting and there's a Roman brick fireplace; the 14x18 kitchen has an abundance of cabinet space as well as . . . GE dishwasher, and disposal, washer plumbing and roomy breakfast area; has a 12x14' den with a closet; it's on a 100' lot with paving and just two blocks to Lexington Grammar! It's priced at $21,500 with $3800 down!

107 STANDIFER

HERE'S A 6-month old "youngster" that's as pleasing a sight and loaded with livable features as any new home you've seen lately, I'll betcha! It's on a 100' corner lot with an abundance of stately pecan trees; among the 1200 sq. feet of living area you'll find: 3 unusually large bedrooms; a tremendous amount of closet space; central heat; roomy living room with separate dining area; copper plumbing and carport with storage! It's sensibly priced at only $11,350 and it's already financed!

1001 EMERSON

PRICE IT ($13,500) and then try to beat this value in a 3-bedroom, 2-bath home on the northside! It possesses 1452 sq. feet of living area; 75' lot (corner); all bedrooms have sliding door closets; wall furnaces; attic fan; there's a wonderful covered patio adjoining the living room; there's also a huge storage room on rear of lot and a carport! Only $2200 down makes this happy move!

705 JOSEPH

IT'S ON a big (100'x150') lot, but it's got a small price ($8500-FHA value!). And, it boasts the following features: 2 comfortable bedrooms; kitchen has breakfast area, washer plumbing and Vent-A-Hood; there's a detached garage; attic fan; floor furnace; gleaming oak floors; and . . . only $450 down (that's all!) turns the key. It's vacant! Would you like to take a "peek"?

408 SPEED

HERE'S 1751 sq. feet of good livin' in spacious rooms! It's brick with oak floors; separate living and dining room; tile bath; 3 bedrooms and den; double garage; copper plumbing; and . . . it's just a coupla' blocks to Neville High School. It's priced at $16,500 and shown by appointment only!

3410 POLK

IF YOU'VE a "bashful budget" . . . we've a home tailored to fit it! It's a 3-year-old beauty on a beautifully landscaped 52' corner lot (just 2 blocks from Lida Benton Grammar school) that's truly unique! It possesses: asbestos siding; the interior is completely pine-paneled; copper plumbing; 2 bedrooms; attic fan; spacious 13x14 kitchen; and one 12x16 bedroom! $500 down (including everything) makes the move with monthly notes of only $48. It's vacant and we'll gladly show today!

502 McGUIRE

HERE'S THE neatest 2-bedroom and den home in the college area . . . and man whata' den! It's 17x16, pine-paneled, completely enclosed with glass jalousie windows. There are also 2 nice size bedrooms; oak floors; pine - paneled kitchen; carport; floor furnace and attic fan; 70x160' lot and . . . it's just 2 blocks to the college! $1275 down makes the move!

1404 MILTON

YOU'LL LOVE it, and for the price of $12,500 . . . it's a good value in a wonderful neighborhood! It has asbestos siding; 3 comfortable bedrooms and an elegant 15x24 pine-paneled den off the rear of the home; well porportioned living room with wall-to-wall carpeting and a separate dining area. There's also oak floors; 30 gallon heater; attic fan; washer plumbing and a beautifully landscaped yard with St. Augustine grass.

FINK'S HIDEAWAY ROAD

HERE'S AN excellent buy in a 2-bedroom and den pink brick home with 1½ baths. It has 125' of bayou frontage; pine - paneled den; real fireplace in living room and also one in the den; has carport; 30 gallon heater and almost an acre of land! It's priced at a sensible $11,900. $1700 down makes the move on FHA financing

1413 SOUTH 4TH

WE WISH you'd take a few moments this afternoon to inspect this one thoroughly! It's just a half block from the Plum St. school; it has a pleasing shade of brown asbestos siding; and talk about features . . . how's this: 2 roomy bedrooms (one with two closets and the other with a walk-in closet); blue bath fixtures; central heating; attic's insulated; copper plumbing and carport with storage. It's selling for $9450 (FHA value!) with only $600 down!

1003 MEADOWBROOK

TALK ABOUT privacy! Here's the "most" in a 6-room home located on Jewell Lake in McGuire Addition in West Monroe! It's on a 100x400 lot; has 3-bedrooms; beautiful hardwood floors; copper plumbing; large living room with picture window overlooking lake; separate dining room; well - arranged kitchen; breezeway and carport with storage! $1700 down is all it takes on FHA financing!

201 GEORGIA

IF YOU cater to well-landscaped yards and reasonably priced homes . . . take a few minutes this p.m. and let us show this happy home! It's white asbestos with 2 bedrooms; hardwood floors; Venetian blinds; the lot's 57½'; nice size kitchen with stovehood and built-in ironing board and the yard's a perfect dream! Its all yours for only $400 down!

311 ANDERSON

YOU'LL POSSIBLY think it's a misprint, but it ain't! Nope . . . $10,500 is right and look what it buys: a brand new home in W. Monroe with hardwood block floors; central heating; tile bath; THREE BEDROOMS; spacious kitchen with unusual custom built cabinets; copper pipes; bath has shower; attic fan; natural woodwork throughout as well as carport with storage! $950 down makes the move. FHA or closing costs only on a 100 per cent G. I. loan.

LAKESHORE DRIVE

IT's A BRAND new brick and whata' brick at that! It has 1289 sq. feet of wonderful living area; 3 roomy bedrooms; 14x20 living room with Roman brick fireplace; 11x14 dining area; tile bath with tub and shower; central heating; attic fan; carport with storage; the kitchen has the most unusual amount of cabinet space you'll find anywhere; kitchen also has: Formica cabinet tops; stovehood and washer plumbing. $1850 down (FHA) makes the move or it'll 100 per cent G. I. You wanta' look today? Call us!

209 ERIN

It'S ABSOLUTELY a "steal" at the asking price of $10,500, for look what it buys! 1200 Sq. feet of living area; wonderful northside neighborhood; spacious living room and separate dining room; 3 nice size bedrooms; tile bath; oak floors; kitchen has washer and dryer connections; has breakfast room and wonderful shade all day from huge pecan trees! If you're a veteran, closing costs is all it takes on a 100% G. I. loan.

1007 SOUTH 3RD

1047 SQ. FEET of living area and only $600 down (that's all!) buys it all as well as these: 2 roomy bedrooms (one 13x15 with two walk-in closets); oak floors; floor furnace; attic fan; has a 10x14 kitchen with nice cabinet space and a large pantry; asbestos siding and a 75' lot. We'll gladly show today!

1610 SOUTH 1ST

ONLY $7400 buys a heckuva' lotta' house here with asbestos siding; 2 bedrooms (one with double closets, the other has sliding door closet); kitchen with serving bar, washer plumbing; oak floors throughout; Venetian blinds and natural woodwork. $400 down makes the move!

2020 STUART

HERE'S ANOTHER unusual purchase in a 2-bedroom home in a splendid northside neighborhood! This one's on a 75' lot . . . has asbestos siding . . . central heating . . . carport . . . double closets in one bedroom . . . it's just been completely redecorated . . . has metal window frames and washer plumbing! It's vacant and priced at only $8500 and . . . $500 down makes the move!

3705 GRAMMONT

YOU COULD "scratch around" for weeks and not come up with a better buy than this 2-bedroom AND paneled den home that's selling for only $9500! It has 1270 sq. feet; both bedrooms are 11x15; there's a 13x20 living room; the paneled den is 12x20; has oak floors; and it's on a 75' lot! $1050 down makes the move!

1605 COLLEGE

THIS ONE has had more than it's share of lovin' attention since it was built, and it shows in all 5-rooms! Among the 1000 sq. feet of this one you'll find: roomy living room; separate dining room; 2 bedrooms; nice oak floors; kitchen has ample cabinet space, stovehood and washer plumbing; floor furnace and attic fan; new water heater; nice closet space (3 in hall alone); and it's priced at only $9700 (FHA value!) with only $650 down! It's vacant and we'll run you a race to show it to you today!

414 WILMUTH

TALK ABOUT good condition . . . there's not a blemish on this 1-year-old youngster, and for proof . . . let us show you today! And while we are at it, we'll show you also: the two nice size bedrooms; the 2 wall furnaces; the well-arranged kitchen with stovehood, washer plumbing, and nice cabinet space; the carport with storage; the 30 gallon heater and the paved street. It's vacant and priced at only $8750.

1807 MILTON

MAY BE it's a little premature but . . . the slab's there and soon the following will be there: 3 bedrooms, hardwood block floors throughout, tile bath and a half, central heat, 75' lot (with paving); carport with storage and other features too! Watch it grow, if you like!

501 FILHIOL

HERE'S AN excellent value in a 2-bedroom and den home and it's on a 70' corner lot at that! It's asbestos siding with these features: 2 bedrooms and a den; roomy living room and separate dining room; hardwood floors; 3 floor furnaces and attic fan; well-arranged kitchen and a separate breakfast room; has 8x13 side screened porch and a detached garage! It's priced at $14,294 with $2894 down FHA!

306 SLACK

$800 DOWN FHA or just closing costs on a 100 per cent G. I. loan is all it takes to make the move into this roomy (1192 sq. feet) 3-bedroom home just a half block from both the new high school in West Monroe and also Millsaps Grammar! It has hardwood floors; separate living and dining room; 8x15 front porch; attic fan; garage and a back screened porch. It's in excellent condition and we'll gladly show at your convenience!

121 VERNON

WE'D SURE be tickled to show you this splendid purchase this p.m., for it's on a 100' lot . . . has 1044 sq. feet of well-arranged floor space; hardwood floors; a 14x21 kitchen with a host of good features; 2 roomy bedrooms; front screened porch; attic fan and also a garage! It's priced at $9000 with $1150 down.

111 BANCROFT

405 PARGOUD DRIVE

FROM THE 90' lot to the double carport to the 1200 sq. feet of living area . . . it's spacious! Here's a brand new brick with 3 bedrooms (all with double sliding door closets); central heating; insulated attic; well proportioned living room facing the rear of the lot; attractive dining area; 10x19 kitchen with Formica cabinet tops; washer plumbing and breakfast area; double carport and "loads" of other features! It's already financed and $2730 down makes the move!

1313 COLLEGE

IF YOU'RE a qualified veteran, pay closing costs of approx. $300 and enjoy everyone of the following features of this good purchase: 923 sq. feet of living area; hardwood floors; asbestos siding; attached garage with overhead door; 48" attic fan; floor furnace; 30 gallon heater and paved street! $8100 is the price and we'll show "at the drop of a hat"!

118 SHORT NORTH 5TH

HERE'S THAT 3-bedroom home within a "stone's throw" of the West Monroe High school and Millsaps Grammar that possibly you've been yearning for! It's roomy (1174 sq. feet) and . . . ever so livable with the following features: 3 nice size bedrooms; asbestos siding; 4 wall furnaces; attic fan; 12x21 kitchen with huge breakfast area; carport with storage; 75' lot on paved street (well-landscaped); washer plumbing! $1700 down makes the move on FHA financing! We'll gladly show today!

HALSELL DRIVE

IF YOU'RE "hankerin" for country living and a splendid home with all conveniences not too far from West Monroe . . . listen to this! Here's a large (1496 sq. feet of living area) home only a year and a half old with every one of the following features and then some "to boot"! 3 bedrooms (the smallest is 14x14); bath and a half; 14x22 living room; wall furnaces; 42" attic fan; textone walls; natural woodwork throughout 30" dug water well, 60' deep; situated on a spacious lot with nice trees and it's just a half a block off the White's Ferry Road. There's also a carport and breezeway! $13,650 is the price!

1612 MILTON

IT'S A "problem solver" if you've a large family but so far you haven't found a well - located home to fit it! It's spacious (1800 sq. feet of living area) with 3 unusually large bedrooms and two tile baths; central hearing; beautiful living room and dining area both have wall-to-wall carpeting and there's a Roman brick fireplace; the 14x18 kitchen has an abundance of cabinet space as well as . . . GE dishwasher, and disposal, washer plumbing and roomy breakfast area; has a 12x14' den with a closet; it's on a 100' lot with paving and just two blocks to Lexington Grammar! It's priced at $21,500 with $3800 down!

107 STANDIFER

HERE's A 6-month old "youngster" that's as pleasing a sight and loaded with livable features as any new home you've seen lately, I'll betcha! It's on a 100' corner lot with an abundance of stately pecan trees; among the 1200 sq. feet of living area you'll find: 3 unusually large bedrooms; a tremendous amount of closet space; central heat; roomy living room with separate dining area; copper plumbing and carport with storage! It's sensibly priced at only $11,350 and it's already financed!

1001 EMERSON

PRICE IT ($13,500) and then try to beat this value in a 3-bedroom, 2-bath home on the northside! It possesses 1452 sq. feet of living area; 75' lot (corner); all bedrooms have sliding door closets; wall furnaces; attic fan; there's a wonderful covered patio adjoining the living room; there's also a huge storage room on rear of lot and a carport! Only $2200 down makes this happy move!

705 JOSEPH

IT'S ON a big (100'x150') lot, but it's got a small price ($8500-FHA value!). And, it boasts the following features: 2 comfortable bedrooms; kitchen has breakfast area, washer plumbing and Vent-A-Hood; there's a detached garage; attic fan; floor furnace; gleaming oak floors; and . . . only $450 down (that's all!) turns the key. It's vacant! Would you like to take a "peek"?

408 SPEED

HERE'S 1751 sq. feet of good livin' in spacious rooms! It's brick with oak floors; separate living and dining room; tile bath; 3 bedrooms and den; double garage; copper plumbing; and . . . it's just a coupla' blocks to Neville High School. It's priced at $16,500 and shown by appointment only!

3410 POLK

IF YOU'VE a "bashful budget" . . . we've a home tailored to fit it! It's a 3-year-old beauty on a beautifully landscaped 52' corner lot (just 2 blocks from Lida Benton Grammar school) that's truly unique! It possesses: asbestos siding; the interior is completely pine-paneled; copper plumbing; 2 bedrooms; attic fan; spacious 13x14 kitchen; and one 12x16 bedroom! $500 down (including everything) makes the move with monthly notes of only $48. It's vacant and we'll gladly show today!

502 McGUIRE

HERE'S THE neatest 2-bedroom and den home in the college area . . . and man whata' den! It's 17x16, pine-paneled, completely enclosed with glass jalousie windows. There are also 2 nice size bedrooms; oak floors; pine - paneled kitchen; carport; floor furnace and attic fan; 70x160' lot and . . . it's just 2 blocks to the college! $1275 down makes the move!

Louisiana Senator Blasts 'Waste'

Ellender Criticizes Investigators

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today that "professional investigators are selling some senators a bill of goods that is wasting too much of the taxpayers' money."

"These job hunters are like mice around a corncrib," he said. "If you cut off one investigation to save a few thousand dollars, they scurry around and set up a new one.

"Some senators — not all of them — go along because they are anxious to get in the headlines or on the television screens."

Last night Ellender forced the Senate to stay in session more than an hour past dinner time as he fought against appropriating $1,100,000 for 10 different investigations. He succeeded in whittling about $85,000 from the funds.

"Actually I believe I saved a great deal more than that," Ellender said. "The fact that I have been trying to reduce these huge special investigating funds for several years now acts as a deterrent.

"They hesitate to come in here seeking fifty, a hundred or two hundred thousand dollars."

Ellender pointed out that in 1950 the Senate spent only $170,000 for special investigations. Five years later it was more than $400,000 and last year it was just under two million dollars.

"Senators used to do their own investigating with a small staff of clerks and attorneys," he said. "Now they go out and hire these professional job hunters in herds.

"If this thing is not halted before long, the voters and taxpayers will be investigating the investigators."

Texas Negro To Die April 1 For Slaying Deputy

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 19 (AP)—Robert Lee Sauls, 29-year-old Negro of Corpus Christi, Tex., is scheduled to die here April 1 in the state's portable electric chair.

Sauls was convicted of the 1953 slaying of Calcasieu Parish deputy sheriff Albert Bell Goss. It will be the first execution here since 1944.

Sheriff Henry A. Reed said he received an order today from Gov. Robert Kennon. The order calls for the electrocution to be held between midnight and 3 a.m.

Sauls was found guilty of shooting Goss to death when the deputy went to investigate a report of cattle rustling on his farm 17 miles northeast of here.

He was convicted twice. He appealed the first conviction to the state supreme court and the high court ordered a new trial.

Canadian production of tobacco in 1954 was 78,000 tons, a 30 per cent increase over 1953.

Jewish Women Holding Session

NEW ORLEANS, March 19 (AP)—Delegates to the 200th anniversary convention of the National Council of Jewish Women began registering today.

Eight hundred were expected to register between today and Tuesday for the meeting.

Pre-convention activities included meetings of the nominating committee meeting and the national board of directors.

Mrs. Irving Engel, national president, will open the six-day convention tomorrow. Delegates will determine the organization's policies and programs for the next two years.

Speakers tomorrow will include Mrs. Benjamin Robinson, president of the National Council of Jewish Women of Canada and Mrs. Joseph Willen of New York, president of the International Council.

Reaction Halted By Stock Market During Last Week

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—The stock market choked off a major reaction this week and launched a recovery drive.

The reaction, great as it was, still made only a dent in the sustained bull market rise that started 18 months ago.

The recovery hit giant strides but petered out as it progressed. The Associated Press aver gained 70 cents on the week and closed at $156.10.

Two weeks ago today, the average stood at an historic high. Then it fell away around seven per cent in a six-session reaction. The recovery drive in the final four days of this week retraced 41 per cent of that loss.

What caused it all?

In Washington, Fulbright (D—Ark) made a detailed effort to show that his study of stock market conditions had nothing to do with it.

Harry Comer of the New York Stock Exchange member firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, commented:

"This month's steep drop in the stock market seems bound to be dubbed 'the Fulbright break' by market historians".

More and more brokers are inclining to the theory that the fall was a technical reaction long due in the booming rise of the last year and a half, although many excuses for the fall were presented.

Most Brokers felt that the market on Monday was due for a breather. They were fooled. The market broke sharply in the heaviest fall in five years.

There as an immediate rebound Tuesday. The advance continued Wednesday with diminished vigor and then kept on rolling ahead Thursday. Friday's market was quiet affair with trading the slowest in 4½ months.

The five most active issues were General Dynamics up 5⅛, Remington Rand off ¼, Pennsylvania Railroad off ⅛, Sperry Corp. up 16⅛ and Curtiss-Wright up 1⅜.

The corporate bond market slipped sharply on Monday, then spent the rest of the week making up lost ground.

U. S. government bonds, on the other hand, were strong Monday and Tuesday but lost most of their gains as the week progressed.

Grain Prices In Continuation Of Downward Plunge

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP)—Grains were back on the downward trail this week after a one week deviation.

Prices of all cereals at the week's close on the Board of Trade were lower. Old crop soybean futures suffered most, largely because of a steep plunge on Friday.

The day-to-day run of news was not particularly depressing on the rest of the list.

Wheat closed the week ⅝ - ¾ lower, corn 1½-2¼ lower, oats 1⅛ to 3 cents lower, rye 1⅛-2¼ lower, soybeans 3½-9½ lower and lard 7 cents lower to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Reaction Halted By Stock Market During Last Week

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—The stock market choked off a major reaction this week and launched a recovery drive.

The reaction, great as it was, still made only a dent in the sustained bull market rise that started 18 months ago.

The recovery hit giant strides but petered out as it progressed. The Associated Press aver gained 70 cents on the week and closed at $156.10.

Two weeks ago today, the average stood at an historic high. Then it fell away around seven per cent in a six-session reaction. The recovery drive in the final four days of this week retraced 41 per cent of that loss.

What caused it all?

In Washington, Fulbright (D—Ark) made a detailed effort to show that his study of stock market conditions had nothing to do with it.

Harry Comer of the New York Stock Exchange member firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, commented:

"This month's steep drop in the stock market seems bound to be dubbed 'the Fulbright break' by market historians".

More and more brokers are inclining to the theory that the fall was a technical reaction long due in the booming rise of the last year and a half, although many excuses for the fall were presented.

Most Brokers felt that the market on Monday was due for a breather. They were fooled. The market broke sharply in the heaviest fall in five years.

There as an immediate rebound Tuesday. The advance continued Wednesday with diminished vigor and then kept on rolling ahead Thursday. Friday's market was quiet affair with trading the slowest in 4½ months.

The five most active issues were General Dynamics up 5⅛, Remington Rand off ¼, Pennsylvania Railroad off ⅛, Sperry Corp. up 16⅛ and Curtiss-Wright up 1⅜.

The corporate bond market slipped sharply on Monday, then spent the rest of the week making up lost ground.

U. S. government bonds, on the other hand, were strong Monday and Tuesday but lost most of their gains as the week progressed.

Grain Prices In Continuation Of Downward Plunge

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP)—Grains were back on the downward trail this week after a one week deviation.

Prices of all cereals at the week's close on the Board of Trade were lower. Old crop soybean futures suffered most, largely because of a steep plunge on Friday.

The day-to-day run of news was not particularly depressing on the rest of the list.

Wheat closed the week ⅝ - ¾ lower, corn 1½-2¼ lower, oats 1⅛ to 3 cents lower, rye 1½-2¼ lower, soybeans 3½-9½ lower and lard 7 cents lower to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Society Calendar Filled With Farewell Parties Honoring Mrs. McWilliams

Society has centered about Mrs. B. E. McWilliams for the past few weeks before her departure for Jefferson, O., where she will make her home in the future. Sharing honors, has been her aunt, Mrs. Ella Weigel of Hamilton, Ohio who is her house guest at this time.

Among the many hostesses who have entertained for Mrs. McWilliams and Mrs. Weigel informally are Mrs. H. E. Milligan, Miss Eve Bradford, Mrs. Thomas Youngblood, Mrs. C. W. Dodgen, Mrs. Thomas Inskeep, Mrs. William Mintz, Mrs. Meyer Greenwald and Mrs. E. J. Blake.

They were luncheon guests of Mrs. A. P. Kimmig in Sterlington and Mrs. Harry Schroeder entertained for them at luncheon in her home in Crossett, Ark.

The Country Club was the setting this past week for a luncheon given in their honor by Mrs. Duncan Smith, Mrs. Charles Price and Mrs. J. P. McDonald as hostesses.

Mrs. H. W. Kight and Mrs. Bobby Pappas were hostesses at a dessert card party at the Rendezvous recently with Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Meyer Greenwald winning the bridge prizes for the afternoon and Mrs. Merle Stone and Mrs. John White, high at canasta.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bewick and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Black were hosts in the Bewick home on Downey Lane at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams. Bridge was enjoyed after dinner, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kight were also guests.

Members of Mrs. McWilliams duplicate club surprised her at the last meeting with a gift that said goodbye and expressed their sincere regrets in her leaving Monroe, where she has made so many friends in the comparative short time of living here. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams plan to leave for Ohio later this month.

MRS. B. E. M'WILLIAMS, right, and her aunt, Mrs. Ella Weigel of Hamilton, O., have been the inspiration of many parties during Mrs. Wiegel's visit and before the McWilliams' departure for Jefferson, O., later this month where they will make their future home.

Annual D. A. R. Conference Is Held In Baton Rouge

The Forty-Sixth Annual State Conference of the Louisiana Daughters of The American Revolution was held March 9, 10 and 11 at the Heidelberg Hotel, Baton Rouge.

After registration on Wednesday morning the delegates took a tour to St. Francisville and enjoyed a lovely tea held at Oakley Plantation with Mrs. R. E. Barrow, a past regent of Alexander Stirling Chapter of D. A. R., as hostess. Oakley Plantation has been made into the Audubon Memorial State Park and is being restored with funds appropriated by the state legislature and patriotic societies in the state. So great has been the interest in this project that the Garden Club of America donated its 1952 Founders Day fund for the restoration of the garden which was done under the supervision of the New Orleans Garden Study Club. The Shreveport Iris Society has made extensive plantings of native Louisiana iris around the small lake and ponds. The New Orleans chapter of the Colonial Dames in America has furnished the library in beautifully appropriate pieces.

This site was selected for it was here that Audubon painted the majority of his famous bird pictures, while acting as tutor to the Miss Eliza Pirrie. The home was built in 1799 and is a three story home of true colonial architecture. It predates the classic revival in southern plantation architecture.

On Wednesday night the conference was formally called to order by the state regent, Mrs. William Edward Hicks of Shreveport. An outstanding address, "I Remember Washington" was given by Rabbi Walter Gilbert Peiser.

Thursday morning a very impressive memorial service for departed members was presided over by Mrs. Arthur T. Loving, state chaplain.

Mrs. Camilla Mays Frank, state chairman of national defense gave a most inspiring address on "National Defense." Mrs. Frank served in the Women's Army Corps during World War II and has remained very active in defense matters. She solemnly warned of our complacency and urged each that each American overcome his lethargy. She warned that it is entirely possible and probable for the United States to suffer terrific disaster from enemies.

A formal tea was held in the executive mansion on Thursday afternoon; honoring Mrs. W. E. Hicks, state regent, Mrs. Edward R. Barrow, Mrs. Walter S. Welch and Mrs. Herman A. Knorr, past state regent of Arkansas.

The annual banquet was held in the Skyline Room of the Hotel Heidelberg on Thursday night. The presentation of the C. A. R. bouquets to Mrs. Herman A. Knorr by "Martha Washington," Linda Marie Gibbens, of the Pierre Josef de Favrot Society C. A. R. and "George Washington," Ebert Lyons Bennett, of the Thomas Jefferson Society C. A. R. added much to the evening's festivities.

At the business session on Friday morning many worthwhile resolutions were passed. The ever necessity of alertness to the enemy of American freedom was stressed. The state organization voted to furnish the dining room of Oakley Plantation which will be a patriotic shrine nd enjoyed by the general public.

An invitation by the Galvez chapter of Daughters of American Revolution to hold the 1956 convention in Lafayette was unanimously accepted.

What was probably the first formal plan initiated by an employer in the United States for pensioning employees after the age of 60, was launched in 1875.

Miss McAdams And Fiance Plan Early Summer Wedding

Miss Sandra Jane McAdams' engagement to Arthur Bernardo Johnson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Johnson of this city, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McAdams.

An early summer wedding is being planned for June at the First Christian Church.

Miss McAdams has chosen as her matron of honor Mrs. J. W. McClain. Miss Helen Johnson and Miss Joanne Genung will be bridesmaids.

Mr. Johnson's brother, Carl D. Johnson, will serve as best man. Charles McAdams and Edward Johnson, brothers of the bride-elect and prospective bridegroom will be groomsmen.

Serving as candlelighters will be Misses Lorna Montgomery and Alice Montgomery.

Miss McAdams is the granddaughter of Mrs. William Bates of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. and Mr. T. C. Huebner of Burlington, Ia., and Mrs. B. O. McAdams and the late Mr. McAdams of Burlington, Iowa. She is a graduate of Neville High School and attended Cottey College in Nevada, Mo., where she held membership in Magnaperium. She is studying at Northeast State College where she is pledged to Phi Lambda Tau sorority. She also holds membership in Delta Kappa Pi.

Mr. Johnson is the grandson of Mrs. O. H. Johnson and the late Mr. Johnson of Everett, Wash., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tuberson of Philadelphia, Pa.

He graduated from Warren Easton High in New Orleans, attended Tulane and received his degree from the University of Mississippi. He is a member of Delta Sigma Pi fraternity.

The couple plan to make their home in Monroe.

Garden Club Studies Design In Landscaping

The Monroe Garden Club met Monday, March 14 at Northeast Louisiana State College auditorium.

Mrs. H. B. Hargrove, club president, presided over a brief business meeting and welcomed the new members.

Mrs. C. E. McKenzie made an appeal for each member to contribute a small donation towards the building fund for the permanent home for the National Council of State Garden Clubs in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Hargrove introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Robert S. Reich, L. S. U. College of Agriculture, Baton Rouge. Dr. Reich spoke on "Plants in Landscape Design" opening with the statement "the origin of outdoor spaces is to produce a maximum of satisfaction to people who are to live there."

Dr. Reich brought out the importance of practical needs with organized needs and mentioned art elements built on art lines — structural elements and color, by stressing lineal effects as being more important than color. He also brought out the principle of design with balance, sense of feeling of equilibrium and scale most important. He accentuated the importance of texture in plants used in landscape with more emphasis on unity. According to Dr. Reich, there should be unity of whole outdoor spaces. He named four basic principles to be considered in landscape — site, space, materials and people. Dr. Reich closed in saying that a satisfying garden relates man to his environment.

Dr. Reich used color slides to illustrate many of the fine points brought out in his lecture.

Hostesses were Mrs. Kennedy Abington, chairman and Mrs. Wharton Brown, co-chairman. Serving with them were Mrs. David Garrett, H. F. Madison Jr., W. R. Gates, Christine Moore and Mrs. O. M. Grisham.

League Members Thank Patrons For Support

The Junior Charity League members are in the process of bringing about the finale to their practicing, selling tickets, selling advertisements for the program, and consolidated efforts which have been directed towards their sponsored benefit project for the Fifth District. The Follies, scheduled to be produced Saturday, March 26, at 8:00 p.m. at the Neville High School Auditorium, is in its final week of preparation. Behind the hours spent on the various phases of this musical production by League members, there have been the main and supporting citizens which should be given credit for making the current project possible—the patrons. Without the patrons, with their financial and cooperating assistance, the funds would not have been possible which have underwritten the main expenses of the Follies. By these patrons' basic help, the profit realized from the Follies will be responsible for equipping the Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children and Adults.

MISS MARILYN SUE SPRINGER'S engagement to Lt. James Thomas Harris, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. James Thomas Harris of Monroe, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart Springer of Texarkana, Tex. The wedding will be an event of June 5.

He also brought out the principle of design with balance, sense of feeling of equilibrium and scale most important. He accentuated the importance of texture in plants used in landscape with more emphasis on unity. According to Dr. Reich, there should be unity of whole outdoor spaces. He named four basic principles to be considered in landscape — site, space, materials and people. Dr. Reich closed in saying that a satisfying garden relates man to his environment.

Dr. Reich used color slides to illustrate many of the fine points brought out in his lecture.

Hostesses were Mrs. Kennedy Abington, chairman and Mrs. Wharton Brown, co - chairman. Serving with them were Mrs. David Garrett, H. F. Madison Jr., W. R. Gates, Christine Moore and Mrs. O. M. Grisham.

League Members Thank Patrons For Support

The Junior Charity League members are in the process of bringing about the finale to their practicing, selling tickets, selling advertisements for the program, and consolidated efforts which have been directed towards their sponsored benefit project for the Fifth District. The Follies, scheduled to be produced Saturday, March 26, at 8:00 p.m. at the Neville High School Auditorium, is in its final week of preparation. Behind the hours spent on the various phases of this musical production by League members, there have been the main and supporting citizens which should be given credit for making the current project possible—the patrons. Without the patrons, with their financial and cooperating assistance, the funds would not have been possible which have underwritten the main expenses of the Follies. By these patrons' basic help, the profit realized from the Follies will be responsible for equipping the Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children and Adults.

MISS MARILYN SUE SPRINGER'S engagement to Lt. James Thomas Harris, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. James Thomas Harris of Monroe, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart Springer of Texarkana, Tex. The wedding will be an event of June 5.

MRS. MARK WILLIAM STROUD WHITFIELD

Carolyn Graham Becomes Bride Of Mark Whitfield

On Saturday evening in an impressive ceremony by candle light in the First Baptist Church in Monroe, Miss Carolyn La Verne Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Laverne Graham and Mark W. S. Whitfield, son of Mrs. Eva Stroud Whitfield and the late Louis Whitfield of this city were united in marriage.

The double - ring ceremony, marked by simplicity and beauty was read by Rev. James T. Horton, pastor of the church.

White gladiola and white stock mixed with greenery in tall floor baskets formed a background which was illuminated by a myriad of white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Patricia Hudson at the organ. She also accompanied Miss Pat Patterson who sang "Because," "Always," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candles were lighted by Monte Brown and David Greer, who also served as ushers.

Mrs. J. C. Liner III served as matron of honor. She wore a dress of mauve satin ballerina length with bouffant skirt and portrait neckline. Her matching Juliet cap was studded with pearls and she carried a bouquet of blue daisies.

Miss Marilyn Nectoux and Miss Jo Ann Walsworth served as bridesmaids. They were dressed identical to the matron of honor and also carried bouquets of blue daisies.

Louis Whitfield, brother of the groom, served as best man. J. E. Wood and B. J. Wallace were groomsmen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white ballerina length bridal dress, with a very full skirt of parchment taffeta. The bodice sparkled with pearls and had a dainty snug jacket. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a Juliet cap with seeded pearls. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations with streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Whitfield, mother of the groom, wore a black dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Greer, aunt and uncle of the bride. The guests were received by the bridal couple, their mothers and attendants. White and pink camellias were used throughout the reception rooms.

The bridal table was covered with a white lace cloth. The wedding cake was decorated in white and green and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Harry Graham presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. B. L. Graham served the wedding cake, and Mrs. C. L. Greer had charge of the guest book. All are aunts of the bride.

For traveling, Mrs. Whitfield wore a navy and white linen suit with red accessories. Her corsage was from her wedding bouquet. Mrs. Whitfield is a graduate of Neville High school and at present is attending Northeast State College where she is a member of Gamma Zeta sorority.

Mr. Whitfield attended Neville High school and spent five years in the United States Navy.

Mrs. Adams Is PEO President

Chapter V PEO held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Wayne Gray with Mrs. Carter Ackel, co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president and the monthly reports of the treasurer and secretary were made.

Mrs. Henry Tete's Visit Is Highlighted By Parties

Several informal social affairs this week have centered around Mrs. Henry Tete of New Orleans who is the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Arthur Genung.

On Tuesday Mrs. M. W. Ward had Mrs. Tete, Mrs. Genung and Mrs. Paul Goldman as her guest for lunch.

Another courtesy for Mrs. Tete on Wednesday was a luncheon at Bayou DeSiard Country Club with Mrs. Roy Fisher hostess.

Mrs. F. W. Dawson's compliment to Mrs. Tete was a coffee at four o'clock Thursday afternoon in her home on North Seventh street.

White camellias were used throughout the party rooms.

Miss Dottie Dawson and Miss Ann Youngblood assisted in serving.

Invited to meet Mrs. Tete were: Mrs. Herschel Gentry; Mrs William Buckley; Mrs. Ray Cammoch; Mrs. C. D. McAdams; Mrs. Robert Ledbetter; Mr. James Hudson; Mrs. Sue Hamlin; Mrs. Thomas Youngblood; Mrs. E. G. Brown; Mrs F. Easterling; Mrs. May Marston; and Mrs. Willis Hopkins.

At noon Thursday, Mrs. Bobby Pappas was hostess at an informal luncheon for Mrs. Tete.

Climaxing the week of informal parties for Mrs. Tete was an afternoon tea Friday hosted by Mrs. James A. Noe in her home on Fairview.

A picturesque arrangement of cameo pink camellias centered the table. Bouquets of white tulips and dogwood were used at vantage points.

OVER THE THRESHOLD

A popular custom is that of the groom carrying his new wife over the threshold of their new home. This should be done the first night the couple spend under their own roof.

Prenuptial Parties Fete Miss Norman

Prenuptial parties began this week for Miss Jo Ann Norman, bride-elect of Ronald Stratton, whose wedding will be an event of April 12. Entertaining for Miss Norman were Mrs. Newton Moore and Mrs. Amos Smelser who hosted a luncheon Wednesday, Mrs. E. P. Jencrein, Mrs. J. A. Maggio and Miss Maria Maggio whose compliment was an informal coke hour, and Mrs. L. McCarthy and Mrs. Ed Lohan who entertained at a miscellaneous shower.

Lilies of the valley, pink wedding bells and white tapers formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon given by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Smelser. White and pink camellias extended the length of the table.

The honoree chose for the occasion a white and blue trousseau model which featured a flared skirt. Both the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Ralph Norman were presented corsages.

Sharing the party with the hostesses and bride-to-be were: Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Mary Louise Russo, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Marie Maggio, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Betty Jane Shipp, Miss Martha Jane McKinney.

Coke Hour

The Maggio home was the setting for an informal afternoon party honoring Miss Norman with Mrs. Jenerein, Mrs. Maggio and Miss Maggio hostesses.

Camellias were used throughout the receptiom rooms.

Invited to join the hostesses and honoree were: Mrs. L. McCarthy, Mrs. Tom H. Mulhearn, Mrs. J. J. Spatafora, Mrs. Ed Lohan, Mrs. George Tonore, Mrs. Ed Pohlman, Mrs. Ralph Norman, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Evy Lee Ritter, Miss Yvonne Mansour.

Bridal Shower

On Tuesday Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Lohan were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower in the McCarthy home on Auburn.

Spring flowers were used through out the party rooms. In keeping with the theme was an artistic centerpiece of yellow lilies and jonquils.

Miss Norman was attired in a green cotton model complemented by a white camellia.

Presiding at the service was Mrs. D. E. Bivins, Jr.

Also, Mrs. J. A. Maggio, Mrs. O'Dell Wood, Miss Katie Stroud, Mrs. Leo Ritter, Mrs. J. F. Gaudin, Mrs. Ralph Norman, Mrs. Bess Biggar, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Betty Jane Shipp, Miss Polly Riley, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Anna Marie Danna, Miss Leona Biggar.

Mrs. Morehead Party Honoree

Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Sandifer of Oak Grove honored Mrs. Sandifer's mother, Mrs. Mattie Morehead of Morton, Miss. with a party last Sunday afternoon. The occasion celebrated Mrs. Morehead's 85th birthday.

Friends invited for the afternoon included Mrs. R. A. Everette, Mrs. M. Butler, Mrs. J. Wayland Smith, Mrs. D. A. Rankin, Mrs. W. S. Bassette, Mrs. Hattie Grubbs, Mrs. May Bumgardner, Mrs. A. G. Heflin, Mrs. Lois Sandifer and Mrs. Floy Schrock.

The distance driven by cars scrapped in 1925 averaged less than 22,000 miles; in 1945 the average was 81,000 miles.

MISS GAY SHLENKER, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Shlenker of Houston, Texas are the guests of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Masur in their home on North 3rd Street. The Shlenkers leave today for a visit in New Orleans before returning to Houston.

Mrs. Henry Tete's Visit Is Highlighted By Parties

Several informal social affairs this week have centered around Mrs. Henry Tete of New Orleans who is the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Arthur Genung.

On Tuesday Mrs. M. W. Ward had Mrs. Tete, Mrs. Genung and Mrs. Paul Goldman as her guest for lunch.

Another courtesy for Mrs. Tete on Wednesday was a luncheon at Bayou DeSiard Country Club with Mrs. Roy Fisher hostess.

Mrs. F. W. Dawson's compliment to Mrs. Tete was a coffee at four o'clock Thursday afternoon in her home on North Seventh street.

White camellias were used throughout the party rooms.

Miss Dottie Dawson and Miss Ann Youngblood assisted in serving.

Invited to meet Mrs. Tete were: Mrs. Herschel Gentry; Mrs William Buckley; Mrs. Ray Cammoch; Mrs. C. D. McAdams; Mrs. Robert Ledbetter; Mr. James Hudson; Mrs. Sue Hamlin; Mrs. Thomas Youngblood; Mrs. E. G. Brown; Mrs F. Easterling; Mrs. May Marston; and Mrs. Willis Hopkins.

At noon Thursday, Mrs. Bobby Pappas was hostess at an informal luncheon for Mrs. Tete.

Climaxing the week of informal parties for Mrs. Tete was an afternoon tea Friday hosted by Mrs. James A. Noe in her home on Fairview.

A picturesque arrangement of cameo pink camellias centered the table. Bouquets of white tulips and dogwood were used at vantage points.

OVER THE THRESHOLD

A popular custom is that of the groom carrying his new wife over the threshold of their new home. This should be done the first night the couple spend under their own roof.

Prenuptial Parties Fete Miss Norman

Prenuptial parties began this week for Miss Jo Ann Norman, bride-elect of Ronald Stratton, whose wedding will be an event of April 12. Entertaining for Miss Norman were Mrs. Newton Moore and Mrs. Amos Smelser who hosted a luncheon Wednesday, Mrs. E. P. Jenerein, Mrs. J. A. Maggio and Miss Maria Maggio whose compliment was an informal coke hour, and Mrs. L. McCarthy and Mrs. Ed Lohan who entertained at a miscellaneous shower.

Lilies of the valley, pink wedding bells and white tapers formed an attractive centerpiece for the luncheon given by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Smelser. White and pink camellias extended the length of the table.

The honoree chose for the occasion a white and blue trousseau model which featured a flared skirt. Both the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Ralph Norman were presented corsages.

Sharing the party with the hostesses and bride-to-be were: Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Mary Louise Russo, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Marie Maggio, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Betty Jane Shipp, Miss Martha Jane McKinney.

Coke Hour

The Maggio home was the setting for an informal afternoon party honoring Miss Norman with Mrs. Jenerein, Mrs. Maggio and Miss Maggio hostesses.

Camellias were used throughout the receptiom rooms.

Invited to join the hostesses and honoree were: Mrs. L. McCarthy, Mrs. Tom H. Mulhearn, Mrs. J. J. Spatafora, Mrs. Ed Lohan, Mrs. George Tonore, Mrs. Ed Pohlman, Mrs. Ralph Norman, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Evy Lee Ritter, Miss Yvonne Mansour.

Bridal Shower

On Tuesday Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Lohan were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower in the McCarthy home on Auburn.

Spring flowers were used through out the party rooms. In keeping with the theme was an artistic centerpiece of yellow lilies and jonquils.

Miss Norman was attired in a green cotton model complemented by a white camellia.

Presiding at the service was Mrs. D. E. Bivins, Jr.

Also, Mrs. J. A. Maggio, Mrs. O'Dell Wood, Miss Katie Stroud, Mrs. Leo Ritter, Mrs. J. F. Gaudin, Mrs. Ralph Norman, Mrs. Bess Biggar, Miss Marietta Spatafora, Miss Betty Jane Shipp, Miss Polly Riley, Miss Frances Fontana, Miss Betty Britt, Miss Anna Marie Danna, Miss Leona Biggar.

Mrs. Morehead Party Honoree

Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Sandifer of Oak Grove honored Mrs. Sandifer's mother, Mrs. Mattie Morehead of Morton, Miss. with a party last Sunday afternoon. The occasion celebrated Mrs. Morehead's 85th birthday.

Friends invited for the afternoon included Mrs. R. A. Everette, Mrs. M. Butler, Mrs. J. Wayland Smith, Mrs. D. A. Rankin, Mrs. W. S. Bassette, Mrs. Hattie Grubbs, Mrs. May Bumgardner, Mrs. A. G. Heflin, Mrs. Lois Sandifer and Mrs. Floy Schrock.

The distance driven by cars scrapped in 1925 averaged less than 22,000 miles; in 1945 the average was 81,000 miles.

Sullivan-Camp Vows Said In Candlelight Ceremony

The Ridge Avenue Baptist Church, West Monroe, was the setting for an impressive candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Eunice Augusta Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Newton Camp, and Danny Jim Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mart W. Sullivan, Monroe, on Saturday evening, March 12 at seven o'clock. The Rev. R. T. Watson, pastor of First Christian Church, Monroe, officiated at the double ring nuptials.

A blue and white theme was effected in the decorations. Candelabra supported slender blue tapers entwined with white foliage. Spotlighted in the baptistry was a blue satin bell with streamers of matching satin ribbon. Blue tapers also burned in the window recesses in the sanctuary.

Miss Anna Camp, the organist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert, using favorite selections of the bride, and during the rendition, Mark W. Boatwright and Clyde B. Fulton, Jr. lighted the tapers, and guests were seated by the ushers, Donald Stewart, Charles Stratford, Jr., Johnny Stevens and Mark Boatwright.

To Miss Camp's accompaniment, Miss Bettye Spurlock sang "Through the Years," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Spurlock also served the bride as maid of honor and wore nylon net over blue taffeta with matching satin bolero.

Bridesmaids were Misses Mary Lou Trawick, Martha Nell Chappell, Ione Hill and Lila Camp, wearing waltz-length gowns of nylon and tulle over blue taffeta. Their gowns featured cumberbunds. They carried bouquets of blue chrysanthemums tied with shimmering satin ribbon. Their mitts and tiaras were identical in shade.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ice blue satin gown appliqued with blue lace. The yoke of illusion was fastened to the molded bodice with applique, and the skirt featured bands of applique to below the hipline and ended in a chapel-length train.

Mrs. Camp chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece model of pink lace, with blue accessories and a corsage of blue carnations.

Mrs. Sullivan, the mother of the bridegroom, wore blue lace with a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the banquet hall of the church which was decorated with flowers in the chosen colors.

The wedding party and the mothers of the bride and bridegroom received the numerous guests.

The bride's table was laid with white lace over blue and was centered with an arrangement of blue and white flowers flanked with blue tapers in crystal holders. At one end, the crystal punch bowl, fringed with blue flowers, was placed and at the opposite end, the tiered wedding confection embossed in white with pink roses was of focal interest.

Mrs. T. O. Trawick welcomed guests at the door and alternating at the punch service were Miss Janis Dyar and Mrs. Elaine Bruce.

Mrs. M. R. Coon served the cake and tea girls were Misses Bettye Ruth Fisher, Sylvia Perkins and Donzal McMain, all wearing ankle-length formals with corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. Jennings Wilkins registered the guests and Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. P. H. Camp and Mrs. Blanche Taylor also assisted in the courtesies.

For traveling the bride changed to a blue and white tweed suit with white linen collar. She wore navy accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will be at home in Helena, Ark., where Mr. Sullivan is a member of the faculty of junior high school.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Batman, Rayville; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stephens, Beaumont, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Stephens, Baskin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stratford, Helena, Ark.; Lt. Mark Boatwright, Camp Gordon, Augusta, Ga.; and Miss Beverly Arrant of Bastrop.

Mrs. Irene Pyburn and Mrs. Susie Welch of Shreveport have been guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Fensky Terzia, Jr., who recently moved into their new home on Pargoud boulevard.

Smith-Rabby

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Agnes Rabby to Lt. James Smith of Oak Grove was made known by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos J. Rabby at a tea in their home in Baton Rouge.

The wedding will be solemnized on April 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Baton Rouge.

Miss Rabby is a [illegible]uate of L. S. U. and Lt. Smith attended college in Monroe and received his degree from L. S. U. in Baton Rouge. He is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., with the air force.

The groom is always the first to kiss the bride after the ceremony. Find out if your clergyman will permit a kiss at the altar since some churches frown on such a custom.

Smith-Rabby

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Agnes Rabby to Lt. James Smith of Oak Grove was made known by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos J. Rabby at a tea in their home in Baton Rouge.

The wedding will be solemnized on April 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Baton Rouge.

Miss Rabby is a [illegible]uate of L. S. U. and Lt. Smith attended college in Monroe and received his degree from L. S. U. in Baton Rouge. He is now stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., with the air force.

The groom is always the first to kiss the bride after the ceremony. Find out if your clergyman will permit a kiss at the altar since some churches frown on such a custom.

News From The Public Library

One of the outstanding ways in which the Ouachita Parish Public Library is observing the Louisiana reading festival is by the purchase of as many new books as possible for the patrons of the library to read. In the weeks since the first of March there have been a number of fascinating books of nonfiction added to the collection. I have told you before about the religious books purchased especially for Lenten reading, so I won't discuss them again, but let's take a look at some of the others.

A fascinating new magazine published in the form of a book, six times a year is called "American Heritage." It is beautifully illustrated and should be most popular. "The Better Homes and Gardens Diet Book" contains a great deal of information for those interested in diets of various kinds. "Melbourne" by Lord David Cecil is a fascinating biography of an interesting figure of the 19th century in England. "Two Minutes Till Midnight" is a collection of some of the best recent broadcasts of Elmer Davis. Whether you agree with him or not, it is a provocative and interesting book to read.

People who take extension courses in geography are always asking for "Elements of Geography" by Finch and "Essentials of Geography" by Freeman. We borrowed them from the state library so many times that we were embarassed to write for them again, so we purchased them and they are now in the library collection and will be greatly used.

In the field of purely practical books, there are several new titles "The Electrical Appliance Service Manual" by William Lee Gabbert is most valuable. "Supplemental Irrigation for Eastern U. S." by Parry Rubey is a book which farmers will find most important. The library has two copies of this book, so be sure to ask for it if you are interested in irrigation.

People of Ouachita Parish travel so much that guide books are always in demand. This month we added four new titles to this group: "Mackay's Guide to Bermuda, the Bahamas and the Caribbean" by Eleanor Gellhorn, "The Yukon" by Arthur Hinton; "Aboard and Abroad" by Harvey Stuart Olson, which is the newest and best book on European travel, and "The South American Handbook, 1954-55. Two other interesting biographies are "Lewis Carroll" by Derek Hudson and "Sir Walter Scott" by Hesketh Pearson.

"He Was Not My Son" by Madeleine Joy is a tender story of a mother, whose child was mixed in the hospital with another child and how she was torn two ways in her efforts to straighten out the mistake. Money is a subject in which every one is interested to a certain extent. Two new books on this subject are "Planning Your Financial Independence" by John Leibenderfer and "Fund Raising Made Easy" by Edwin S. Newman.

Two light and entertaining personal narratives are "Bottoms Up" by Cornelia Otis Skinner and "Innocence Under the Elms" by Louise Dickinson Rich. Reading is a pleasurable and profitable activity. If you are not taking advantage of the resources of your parish library, do not hesitate another day to come and enroll as a member.

MISS EARLENE PATRICK'S betrothal to Thomas Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleto Yates of Delhi is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patrick of Holly Ridge. The wedding will be solemnized May 21 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Holly Ridge Baptist Church. No invitations are being sent. All friends are invited.

Evans-Jones

The marriage of John David Evans of Gilbert to Miss Dolores Jones of Baytown, Tex., is announced today. The ceremony was solemnized on March 5 in San Antonio, Tex., where Mr. Evans is stationed at Lackland Field with the air force.

When you are making a meringue for a lemon pie, start beating in the sugar gradually as soon as the egg whites are frothy. If you add the sugar at this frothy stage, instead of waiting until the whites form stiff peaks, the sugar will dissolve well and help prevent the meringue from "weeping" when the pie comes from the oven.

Opera Club Uses Study Theme Of Opera, 'Carmen'

The opera, "Carmen," was the study theme when the Opera Club met for the March meeting in the home of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell with Mrs. Duncan M. Smith, co-hostess.

Upon arrival the members were invited into the dining room where Mrs. B. B. Martin presided at the silver coffee service.

A beautiful arrangement of camellias formed the center piece.

After the social hour a short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. John Sholars.

Mrs. R. O. Ware, program chairman, presented the following program: Story of Carmen by Mrs. T. V. Tarver; trio, "My Home in Yonder Vale," Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. P. J. Newman and Mrs. P.A. Colvin; vocal solo, "This Flower That Once to Me You Gave," Mrs. R. W. Cretney; trio, "If You Love Me," Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Colvin and Mrs. Newman. The accompanist was Mrs. P. A. Poag, who, also, played the piano selection, "March of the Toreadors."

Members present were: Mrs. C. W. Caraway, Mrs. P. A. Colvin, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. Merl Padgett, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. John Sholars, Mrs. Duncan M. Smith, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. J. S. Meek, Mrs. E. C. Gibson.

THE Nettleton ALGONQUIN*

The secret of the Algonquin's popularity is its incredible comfort. The distinctive seam is patiently sewn by hand to make the shoe smooth as skin inside and almost as flexible. Such hand-work means Algonquins take four times longer to make than ordinary shoes. Yet they cost so little more, it's extravagant to pay less.

Sewing Workshop

Sixty-five women will participate in sewing workshops. These women will work in six groups. This training is helpful to those who do home sewing or plan to take tailoring. The following itinerary gives the time and place for each workshop. The first group will work March 21, 22, and 23 at the Agricultural Building. The second group will work at the Agricultural Building March 17, 24, and 25 — all from Claiborne community. The third group, Sterlington, will work March 28, 30, 31 at Dixie Acres Club House. Lenwil and Lakeview will work April 4, 5, 6 in Lakeview community. Bosco will work April 18, 19, and 21 at Mrs. Sam Taylor's. Lamkin and club members from various communities will work at the Agricultural Building April 25, 26, and 28th. All workshops will begin at 8:30 a. m. and work all day. Those attending will bring lunch.

Make Old Hats New Workshop

Miss Margaret Brumby, clothing specialist of LSU, will supervise a workshop March 29th. Bring with you a hat and be ready to work at 9:00 a. m. If you have a hat mold, bring it.

Be Safe When Cleaning Clothes

These hot days brings the job of getting winter woolens ready to store. If you're planning to dry clean some of your winter clothing at home before putting them away for the season, heed the safety rules. When you use flammable and explosive cleaning chemicals and solvents, you automatically close the door on safety. Make sure the cleaner you use is nonflammable and nonexplosive. Under any circumstances when using cleaning fluids, do your cleaning out of doors so vapors can't accumulate, catch fire or explode. Better still, let experts do cleaning jobs for you. It's much safer for you.

Wash Home Furnishings In Machine

With wonderful laundry equipment you can now do a family wash even while dressed in your Sunday clothes, but household cleaning was one of grandma's most despicable chores. With your faithful laundry equipment helper, do spring cleaning of your home furnishings such as bedding, rugs, draperies, mattress pads, quilts and others. For example, Miss Rupert Perry, associate home management specialist with the LSU agricultural extension service, suggests some techniques for laundrying items such as slip covers. First, look at labels and seals to see whether the fabric is washable. If you are not sure slip covers are washable and preshrunk, test a small inconspicuous portion in suds and warm water. Do mending before laundering so as to prevent more extensive damage. Since slip covers are not washed as frequently as your Monday wash, allow them to move freely in the machine by not overloading. Whether you dry on the clothesline or in a clothes dryer, some materials that don't require ironing may be shaped on the chairs at the final stages of drying, then air dried with an electric fan. So, plan to make your laundry equipment help you do spring cleaning.

Control Nematodes

If you have trouble growing tomatoes, beans, cucumbers, squash, carrots, beets and okra in your garden, it may be your soil is infested with nematodes. Kirby Cockerham, LSU entomologist, states that it is safe to say that nearly all gardens in Louisiana are infested with these tiny roundworms that live in the soil and feed on plant roots. To keep nematodes under control, chemicals have been designed for fumigating the soil. Some of these fumigants are especially practical for home garden application. The entomologist says prepare seedbed well to receive fumigant, and put it into the soil about two weeks before planting the seeds or setting plants. Leaflets are obtainable from extension service.

Mom Top Subject In Art Study

Just in case mothers had any doubts, they are the lights of their small children's lives.

Dr. Sina Mott, director of Southern Illinois University's University school kindergarten and nursery school, has checked up on how 4 and 5-year-olds feel about mama.

When mothers were shown alone or with one other member of the family, they were colored cold blue or purple. However, the little artists always placed themselves right next to mother in their pictures.

"He wants to make sure of absorbing a generous share of the warmth she radiates," Dr. Mott explained.

Sewing Workshop

Sixty-five women will participate in sewing workshops. These women will work in six groups. This training is helpful to those who do home sewing or plan to take tailoring. The following itinerary gives the time and place for each workshop. The first group will work March 21, 22, and 23 at the Agricultural Building. The second group will work at the Agricultural Building March 17, 24, and 25 — all from Claiborne community. The third group, Sterlington, will work March 28, 30, 31 at Dixie Acres Club House. Lenwil and Lakeview will work April 4, 5, 6 in Lakeview community. Bosco will work April 18, 19, and 21 at Mrs. Sam Taylor's. Lamkin and club members from various communities will work at the Agricultural Building April 25, 26, and 28th. All workshops will begin at 8:30 a. m. and work all day. Those attending will bring lunch.

Make Old Hats New Workshop

Miss Margaret Brumby, clothing specialist of LSU, will supervise a workshop March 29th. Bring with you a hat and be ready to work at 9:00 a. m. If you have a hat mold, bring it.

Be Safe When Cleaning Clothes

These hot days brings the job of getting winter woolens ready to store. If you're planning to dry clean some of your winter clothing at home before putting them away for the season, heed the safety rules. When you use flammable and explosive cleaning chemicals and solvents, you automatically close the door on safety. Make sure the cleaner you use is nonflammable and nonexplosive. Under any circumstances when using cleaning fluids, do your cleaning out of doors so vapors can't accumulate, catch fire or explode. Better still, let experts do cleaning jobs for you. It's much safer for you.

Wash Home Furnishings In Machine

With wonderful laundry equipment you can now do a family wash even while dressed in your Sunday clothes, but household cleaning was one of grandma's most despicable chores. With your faithful laundry equipment helper, do spring cleaning of your home furnishings such as bedding, rugs, draperies, mattress pads, quilts and others. For example, Miss Rupert Perry, associate home management specialist with the LSU agricultural extension service, suggests some techniques for laundrying items such as slip covers. First, look at labels and seals to see whether the fabric is washable. If you are not sure slip covers are washable and preshrunk, test a small inconspicuous portion in suds and warm water. Do mending before laundering so as to prevent more extensive damage. Since slip covers are not washed as frequently as your Monday wash, allow them to move freely in the machine by not overloading. Whether you dry on the clothesline or in a clothes dryer, some materials that don't require ironing may be shaped on the chairs at the final stages of drying, then air dried with an electric fan. So, plan to make your laundry equipment help you do spring cleaning.

Control Nematodes

If you have trouble growing tomatoes, beans, cucumbers, squash, carrots, beets and okra in your garden, it may be your soil is infested with nematodes. Kirby Cockerham, LSU entomologist, states that it is safe to say that nearly all gardens in Louisiana are infested with these tiny roundworms that live in the soil and feed on plant roots. To keep nematodes under control, chemicals have been designed for fumigating the soil. Some of these fumigants are especially practical for home garden application. The entomologist says prepare seedbed well to receive fumigant, and put it into the soil about two weeks before planting the seeds or setting plants. Leaflets are obtainable from extension service.

Use those scraps left from slip covering or re - upholstery. They can be made into storage bags for the closet or as containers for small cleaning items and for small parts of the vacuum cleaner.

THE Nettleton ALGONQUIN*

The secret of the Algonquin's popularity is its incredible comfort. The distinctive seam is patiently sewn by hand to make the shoe smooth as skin inside and almost as flexible. Such hand-work means Algonquins take four times longer to make than ordinary shoes. Yet they cost so little more, it's extravagant to pay less.

Mom Top Subject In Art Study

Just in case mothers had any doubts, they are the lights of their small children's lives.

Dr. Sina Mott, director of Southern Illinois University's University school kindergarten and nursery school, has checked up on how 4 and 5-year-olds feel about mama.

When mothers were shown alone or with one other member of the family, they were colored cold blue or purple. However, the little artists always placed themselves right next to mother in their pictures.

"He wants to make sure of absorbing a generous share of the warmth she radiates," Dr. Mott explained.

Another evidence of the esteem Junior has for mother: The youngsters took greater pains in drawing mothers than other family members. Sometimes they left out other family members but they never omitted mom.

B M I Graduate

Miss Patsy Laird

Immediately after graduation from the West Monroe High School, Miss Laird entered B M I to begin her training in our Complete General Business Course. On February 15, 1955 she completed her course of studies and accepted employment in the Engineering Department of the Southern Bell Telephone Company of Monroe. She is very happy in her work. We know that they will find her, just as we, a very competent and dependable person.

Miss Laird says: "The letters B M I stand for Bish Mathis Institute, but to the graduate these letters stand for more than just a title.

B M I stands for hard work, the kind of work that gives you the satisfaction of accomplishment. At B M I one does not go to school just to mark time. One wants to work hard because he has a goal to fulfill.

It is not all work and no play at B M I. There is a club organized by students for social purposes. This club sponsors some mighty fine parties.

B M I stands for sympathetic understanding and advice to meet all situations. It stands for cooperation between students and faculty.

B M I is the place for the ambitious boy or girl who has a sincere desire to make a life for himself in the business world."—Adv.

Immediately after graduation from the West Monroe High School, Miss Laird entered B M I to begin her training in our Complete General Business Course. On February 15, 1955 she completed her course of studies and accepted employment in the Engineering Department of the Southern Bell Telephone Company of Monroe. She is very happy in her work. We know that they will find her, just as we, a very competent and dependable person.

Miss Laird says: "The letters B M I stand for Bish Mathis Institute, but to the graduate these letters stand for more than just a title.

B M I stands for hard work, the kind of work that gives you the satisfaction of accomplishment. At B M I one does not go to school just to mark time. One wants to work hard because he has a goal to fulfill.

It is not all work and no play at B M I. There is a club organized by students for social purposes. This club sponsors some mighty fine parties.

B M I stands for sympathetic understanding and advice to meet all situations. It stands for cooperation between students and faculty.

B M I is the place for the ambitious boy or girl who has a sincere desire to make a life for himself in the business world."—Adv.

GUESTS AT AVIATION MEETING—Two officials of the Southern Airways and the head of the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corporation were special guests at a meeting of the aviation committee of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce. New flights north and south of Monroe were announced by the Southern officials. Reading from left to right are Shelby Cage, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Louis D. Smith, chairman of the aviation committee; Ben Bowie, Southern Airways district sales manager; Casey M. Britt, vice-president of the air line; and Jack Howard, president of the MAIDC. THE FUNNY FACE PIN WHEEL

Here's a paper pin wheel you can make so that the four funny faces on it go spinning around. You see a fat, cheerful man, a sly-looking pirate, a happy girl with curls and a cross-looking, thin lady.

Color the faces and mount this picture on heavy paper. Cut along the outside dark lines of the square and also along the four heavy lines leading from the corners to the circle in the center.

Punch a hole in each corner where you see a number and then through the center circle. From the back, slip a pin through hole 1, 2, 3, 4 in that order and finally through the center. Then push the pin into the eraser top of a long pencil.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By MARION FISHER

With a special rehearsal called for this afternoon, the cast of "She Stoops to Conquer" goes into the final stages of preparation for opening night, which will be Thursday, March 31.

The large cast for this five act play was completed the past week, when Lamar Mullican filled the important role of Marlow. The high entertainment rating of this delightful comedy will certainly lose nothing from the attractive back drops that are being created by several talented workers. Two of them have already been finished, and there will be a third one to complete the three scenes that director Feuerstein has planned as his setting for this production.

Publicity pictures of all the cast members were made the past week, by John Daley, and the next important consideration for coming week will be the period costumes. Some of the wardrobes are being made by the ladies in the cast. Any one who is skilled in the art of sewing can give valuable aid in the costume department, and their services will be very welcome. The stage crew is not yet complete, so this would be a good opportunity for the combined talents of some husband and wife teams, in these two departments. All hands will be needed to put the finishing touches on, in the remaining week and a half, before the five night run of this the fourth production of the Monroe Little Theatre for the current season.

Thumbnail sketch — Gerry Kenny, who plays "Miss Neville," in "She Stoops to Conquer" has appeared in two previous Little Theatre productions. She was seen in "Be Your Age" and "No Second Chance." She is a native of Monroe, and is a senior at Ouachita Parish High School. She has studied dramatics for three years, and has participated in several productions in the drama department of O. P. High, as well as being representative for her high school at the leadership conference held at L. S. U. in June 1954. Gerry recently won second place in the state essay contest, on the subject "A Decade of Progress in Employing the Handicapped." She has been in the Kiwanis Minstrel Show the past two years, and is assistant director for her senior class play, as well as being in the cast. There seems to be no end to the versatility of this talented young lady, for she also sings. She is a member of the choir and ensemble at O. P. H. and of the 400 voice All State Chorus which sang at Ruston, and for the Teachers Convention here in Monroe.

Catahoula School Board Calls For Special Election

JONESVILLE, March 19 (Special) — The Catahoula parish school board, in its March meeting, adopted a resolution calling a special parish - wide tax election for Monday, May 2.

Parish citizens will vote on a five mill property tax to extend for five years, 1955 through 1959. The proceeds of this tax will be used in giving additional aid to the public schools in the parish.

A. L. Brooks, Catahoula superintendent of schools, emphasized that the five - mill tax is not a new tax but the renewal of one that expires this year. It was last voted in 1950 and expired with the 1955 tax collection.

Brooks said the five - mill tax is absolutely necessary to provide nine months schooling for children in the Catahoula parish area.

Give added flavor to meat pie by putting a little minced onion into the baking powder biscuit dough used for the crust.

Local Baptists Get Set For Evangelistic Crusade

2,500 Baptists To Attend N. O. Convention Friday

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19 (Special) — Dr. Robert G. Lee, internationally known Baptist preacher from Memphis, Tenn., will be the featured speaker during the sixteenth annual Baptist Training Union Convention which will be held in the Crescent City March 25.

The convention will open at 9:30 Friday morning with Rev. Fred C. Schatz, president, presiding. The welcome address will be brought by Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of the New Orleans First Baptist Church where the meeting will be held.

The convention will also hear an address by Dr. J. E. Lambdin, Southern Baptist Training Union secretary from Nashville, Tenn.

Doctor Lambdin's address will be preceeded by special music furnished by a men's chorus from the New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

Following Doctor Lambdin's address the convention will meet by departments for conferences, demonstrations and panel discussions. This period will last from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At 3:30 the groups will reassemble in the auditorium for a missionary address by Miss Virginia Wingo, Southern Baptist Missionary to Rome, Italy.

Highlights of the evening session will include the election of officers; presentation of Bible memory, "sword drill," and speaker's tournament winners, and Doctor Robert G. Lee's address, "Be Strong In the Lord."

Rev. A. L. Russell, state Training Union secretary, said in Alexandria this week that he is expecting more than 2,500 to attend the convention.

Most local Baptist churches will start preparations this week to launch the revival next Sunday. Out-of-town pastors have already been engaged by a large number of churches.

The crusade is under the general direction of Dr. C. E. Mathews, secretary of the board's department of evangelism, Dallas, Tex.

Mathews has disclosed that the revivals will be held in three sections. The southern crusade or tropical area of the United States, along with parts of Cuba, Panama, and the canal Zone, will be held March 6-20. From March 27 to April 10 in the central area will hold simultaneous revival services. The northern zone crusade is slated for April 10-24 and will include Southern Baptist churches up to Canada and Alaska.

Some 3,600 churches are represented in the tropical zone, 13,000 in the intermediate area, and about 13,000 in the northern section, Dr. Matthews notes.

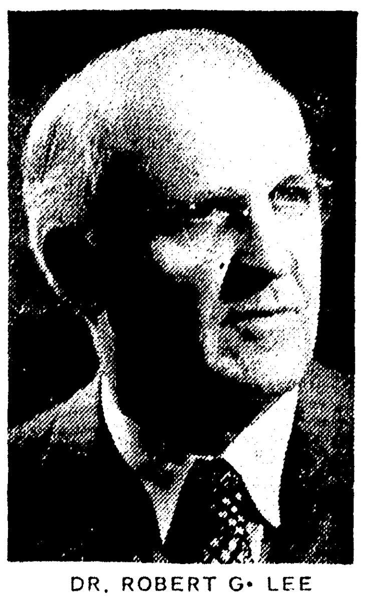
"Christ is the Answer" again will serve as the theme for the entire campaign, a two-week crusade in each church.

The 1955 Simultaneous Revival Crusade is the beginning of a "Four Year Conquest for Christ," proposed by Dr. Redford. This conquest will lay the foundation for the five-year convention-wide campaign to begin in 1959 which will celebrate the 150th anniversary of organized Baptist work in America.

Dr. Matthews indicates that a simultaneous revival crusade in individual churches "is the most effective, most productive method known to Southern Baptists."

Almost 400,000 people were baptized into Southern Baptist membership during or immediately after the 1951 campaign. "We expect to baptize close to half a million people as a result of the 1955 meetings," he continued.

Another feature of the revivals is the idea of moving church membership. This campaign is aimed at those who have moved to a new community, but who have left their church membership behind. It is anticipated that a half million of this group will be reached as a result of the campaign.



DR. ROBERT G• LEE

The coordinated efforts of all Southern Baptist Church organizations will be used to promote and follow-up the crusade. Preparation for the crusade includes a religious census, teaching of study books, visitation, and local rallies. A week of prayer will preceed two full weeks of preaching and visitation.

Southern Baptists use this media of simultaneous revivals "because there is power in concerted effort," Dr. Matthews says. Churches working together do much more than one crying in the wilderness, he concludes.

Rev. D. W. Nix is chairman of the crusade in Monroe and Rev. Leon Ivey is in charge of publicity. There will be some thirteen churches on the east side of the river in Ouachita Parish taking part in the revival March 27 to April 10th. There will be approximately eighteen churches west of the river in Ouachita Parish engaged in the crusade.

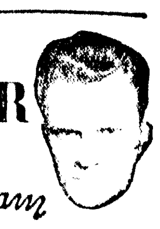
Colo. Evangelist To Lead Series At 1st Assembly

Evangelist W. M. Stevens, of Denver, Colo., will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings at the First Assembly of God Church, Cypress and Crosley, West Monroe, beginning Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Phil Johnson, announced today.

The Rev. Stevens conducted a campaign here last fall, but it was cut short due to the illness of his wife. He returns at this time "by popular demand," the pastor stated.

The Rev. Stevens is known to many as "The Walking Bible" because of the amount of scripture that he quotes during his sermons. Service will begin each evening at 7:30. Special music and singing will be featured nightly. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham



QUESTION: Is it not true that there are just as many reasons for believing that there is no God as for believing there is? In other words, is it not true that, from an intellectual point of view, the arguments for atheism are as strong as those for religion? A. N. E.

ANSWER: No, you are wrong. Even from an intellectual point of view Christianity can more than hold its own with atheism and secularism. It makes better sense of human nature and the whole pattern of life in this world, apart from its teaching about God and the world to come.

Christianity need never fear any attack from the rational side. Through century after century there have been men of the greatest intellectual power who have been humble and sincere believers in the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, and many of the world's most profound thinkers in our own day are men of Christian faith.

But the ultimate claim of Christianity is not in the intellectual sphere. It is in the spiritual and moral. Christianity is essentially an experimental religion which enable the sinner, through faith in Christ Jesus, to hold communion with God as his Father and to know God's power and presence in his life. This is what makes "religion" a vital reality in a man's soul. And once he knows God in this living, personal way, no amount of reasoning can argue him out of his faith.

At the best, atheism can offer a man an intellectual creed divorced from any moral inspiration or power. Christianity offers him a spiritual dynamic which makes possible a new quality of life and finds expression in the service of his fellowmen. The Psalmist said, "O taste and see that the Lord is good! Blessed is the man that trusteth in Him."

REVIVAL LEADER — Rev. Wayne F. Hart, pastor of Leakesville, Miss., Baptist Church, will be the evangelist for a revival beginning March 27 at Edgewood Baptist Church, according to Rev. O. P. Bazer, Edgewood pastor. Rev. Hart formerly pastored Mt. Vernon Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church of Collinston.

SMU Students To Hold Annual Meet Here Thursday

Former students of Southern Methodist University living in the Monroe area will hold their annual "Mustang Corral" in celebration of SMU's Alumni-Founders Day at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday night, John D. Mullens, president of the Monroe SMU Club, and James W. Walters, chairman of the 1955 Corral, have announced.

The meeting will open at 7 o'clock.

The local SMU Corral will be one of hundreds being held at the same time over the world, Mullens pointed out.

Views and recent expansions of the SMU campus will be presented by John Kilpatrick, SMU graduate and principal speaker. Election of officers for the forthcoming year will conclude the meeting.

The Corral Day is a tradition of 30 years' standing and is a time for SMU alumni to renew old acquaintances, reminisce and have a good time, Mullens said.

Methodist Youth Will Meet This Afternoon

The Monroe sub-district of Methodist youth will hold their monthly meeting at the First Methodist Church in Monroe today at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting will begin with a program on Christian witness, by Rev. W. D. Milton. Following will be a course in visitation.

A very important business meeting will follow with reports from the various churches. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

All young people are urged to attend because this training will be used in the Christian Witness Mission held in the local churches beginning next Sunday.

Serve ready-prepared tomato sauce — the meatless kind — over slices of hot meat loaf. This treatment perks up an old standby.

Allow at least 30 minutes for browning a pot roast. When meat is browned slowly and thoroughly this way, the color is not likely to wash away when the braising liquid is added.

LSU Alumni To Meet Monday In Urgent Session

C. D. Blaylock, president of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the LSU Alumni Association has called an alumni meeting to be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel.

In order that all L. S. U. Alumni in this area might participate in the meeting, Mike John, Jr., who is fifth district council member, has issued a joint call for all L. S. U. Alumni in this section of the state to meet with the local parish chapter.

Several items of business will be discussed. Of primary importance will be a discussion relative to the program for next years banquet. At the meeting Monday night, it will be decided which major school (law, education, engineering, agriculture, commerce, etc.) will be in charge of next year's program. There will also be a preliminary discussion on next year's slate of officers to be elected to head the local chapter.

All LSU Alumni and former students are urged to come out Monday night and take part in the affairs of the local and district organizations.

L. B. Faulk Post To Meet Monday

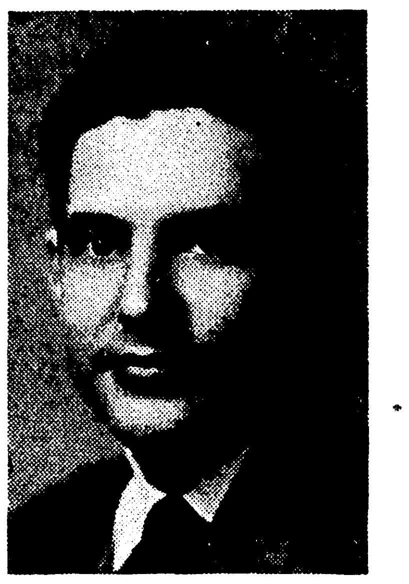
All new members who have not been formally obligated are urged to attend so that they may be initiated.



CHURCH PLANS UNIQUE SERIES OF MEETINGS

The Jackson Street Congregation of the Church of Christ will begin a unique series of services to be held nightly at 7:30 o'clock beginning March 27th, with Meredith Johnson, a well known local business man speaking each evening.

Believing that the Lord's business is the most important in existence and that a practical, workable approach is needed, the lessons will deal with the fundamental principles of a return to pure New Testament Christianity.

Friends and acquaintances of the speaker as well as the general public are invited to take part in these services.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 5:13—"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltness be restored?" (R.S.V.)

Jesus paid a wonderful compliment to His disciples in calling them the "salt of the earth." Salt is used universally. Without it humans and animals alike have dietary difficulties. Salt seasons food and makes it palatable. Salt also preserves food. Long before modern refrigeration, salt was used to keep food available. Salt purges. Many of the well known laxatives in current use are forms of salt. In addition, salt is a healing agent. It is used in solution to form compresses in combating infection.

When Jesus called His followers the "salt of the earth," He meant they must penetrate to the "uttermost parts of the earth" and make life good. They were to preserve the God-given blessings which men enjoy, to purge evil from the world and to heal the hurts to the hearts of men. I am very fond of this Bible verse. It defines our task as Christians.

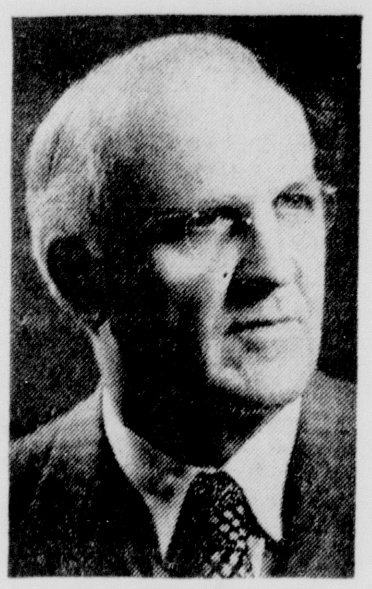
Local Baptists Get Set For Evangelistic Crusade

2,500 Baptists To Attend N. O. Convention Friday



DR. ROBERT G. LEE

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19 (Special) — Dr. Robert G. Lee, internationally known Baptist preacher from Memphis, Tenn., will be the featured speaker during the sixteenth annual Baptist Training Union Convention which will be held in the Crescent City March 25.

The convention will open at 9:30 Friday morning with Rev. Fred C. Schatz, president, presiding. The welcome address will be brought by Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of the New Orleans First Baptist Church where the meeting will be held.

The convention will also hear an address by Dr. J. E. Lambdin, Southern Baptist Training Union secretary from Nashville, Tenn.

Doctor Lambdin's address will be preceeded by special music furnished by a men's chorus from the New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

Following Doctor Lambdin's address the convention will meet by departments for conferences, demonstrations and panel discussions. This period will last from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At 3:30 the groups will reassemble in the auditorium for a missionary address by Miss Virginia Wingo, Southern Baptist Missionary to Rome, Italy.

Highlights of the evening session will include the election of officers; presentation of Bible memory, "sword drill," and speaker's tournament winners; and Doctor Robert G. Lee's address, "Be Strong In the Lord."

Rev. A. L. Russell, state Training Union secretary, said in Alexandria this week that he is expecting more than 2,500 to attend the convention.

Most local Baptist churches will start preparations this week to launch the revival next Sunday. Out-of-town pastors have already been engaged by a large number of churches.

The crusade is under the general direction of Dr. C. E. Matthews, secretary of the board's department of evangelism, Dallas, Tex.

Mathews has disclosed that the revivals will be held in three sections. The southern crusade or tropical area of the United States, along with parts of Cuba, Panama, and the canal Zone, will be held March 6-20. From March 27 to April 10 in the central area will hold simultaneous revival services. The northern zone crusade is slated for April 10-24 and will include Southern Baptist churches up to Canada and Alaska.

Some 3,600 churches are represented in the tropical zone, 13,000 in the intermediate area, and about 13,000 in the northern section, Dr. Matthews notes.

"Christ is the Answer" again will serve as the theme for the entire campaign, a two-week crusade in each church.

The 1955 Simultaneous Revival Crusade is the beginning of a "Four Year Conquest for Christ," proposed by Dr. Redford. This conquest will lay the foundation for the five-year convention-wide campaign to begin in 1959 which will celebrate the 150th anniversary of organized Baptist work in America.

Dr. Matthews indicates that a simultaneous revival crusade in individual churches "is the most effective, most productive method known to Southern Baptists."

Almost 400,000 people were baptized into Southern Baptist membership during or immediately after the 1951 campaign. "We expect to baptize close to half a million people as a result of the 1955 meetings," he continued.

Another feature of the revivals is the idea of moving church membership. This campaign is aimed at those who have moved to a new community, but who have left their church membership behind. It is anticipated that a half million of this group will be reached as a result of the campaign.

The coordinated efforts of all Southern Baptist Church organizations will be used to promote and follow-up the crusade. Preparation for the crusade includes a religious census, teaching of study books, visitation, and local rallies. A week of prayer will precede two full weeks of preaching and visitation.

Southern Baptists use this media of simultaneous revivals "because there is power in concerted effort," Dr. Matthews says. Churches working together do much more than one crying in the wilderness, he concludes.

Rev. D. W. Nix is chairman of the crusade in Monroe and Rev. Leon Ivey is in charge of publicity. There will be some thirteen churches on the east side of the river in Ouachita Parish taking part in the revival March 27 to April 10th. There will be approximately eighteen churches west of the river in Ouachita Parish engaged in the crusade.

Colo. Evangelist To Lead Series At 1st Assembly

Evangelist W. M. Stevens, of Denver, Colo., will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings at the First Assembly of God Church, Cypress and Crosley, West Monroe, beginning Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Phil Johnson, announced today.

The Rev. Stevens conducted a campaign here last fall, but it was cut short due to the illness of his wife. He returns at this time "by popular demand," the pastor stated.

The Rev. Stevens is known to many as "The Walking Bible" because of the amount of scripture that he quotes during his sermons. Service will begin each evening at 7:30. Special music and singing will be featured nightly. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MY ANSWER
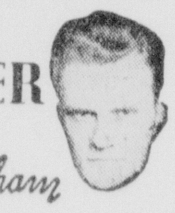
Billy Graham



QUESTION: Is it not true that there are just as many reasons for believing that there is no God as for believing there is? In other words, is it not true that, from an intellectual point of view, the arguments for atheism are as strong as those for religion? A. N. E.

ANSWER: No, you are wrong. Even from an intellectual point of view Christianity can more than hold its own with atheism and secularism. It makes better sense of human nature and the whole pattern of life in this world, apart from its teaching about God and the world to come.

Christianity need never fear any attack from the rational side. Through century after century there have been men of the greatest intellectual power who have been humble and sincere believers in the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, and many of the world's most profound thinkers in our own day are men of Christian faith.

But the ultimate claim of Christianity is not in the intellectual sphere. It is in the spiritual and moral. Christianity is essentially an experimental religion which enable the sinner, through faith in Christ Jesus, to hold communion with God as his Father and to know God's power and presence in his life. This is what makes "religion" a vital reality in a man's soul. And once he knows God in this living, personal way, no amount of reasoning can argue him out of his faith.

At the best, atheism can offer a man an intellectual creed divorced from any moral inspiration or power. Christianity offers him a spiritual dynamic which makes possible a new quality of life and finds expression in the service of his fellowmen. The Psalmist said, "O taste and see that the Lord is good! Blessed is the man that trusteth in Him."

SMU Students To Hold Annual Meet Here Thursday

Former students of Southern Methodist University living in the Monroe area will hold their annual "Mustang Corral" in celebration of SMU's Alumni-Founders Day at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday night, John D. Mullens, president of the Monroe SMU Club, and James W. Walters, chairman of the 1955 Corral, have announced.

The meeting will open at 7 o'clock.

The local SMU Corral will be one of hundreds being held at the same time over the world, Mullens pointed out.

Views and recent expansions of the SMU campus will be presented by John Kilpatrick, SMU graduate and principal speaker. Election of officers for the forthcoming year will conclude the meeting.

The Corral Day is a tradition of 30 years' standing and is a time for SMU alumni to renew old acquaintances, reminisce and have a good time, Mullens said.

Methodist Youth Will Meet This Afternoon

The Monroe sub-district of Methodist youth will hold their monthly meeting at the First Methodist Church in Monroe today at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting will begin with a program on Christian witness, by Rev. W. D. Milton. Following will be a course in visitation.

A very important business meeting will follow with reports from the various churches. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

All young people are urged to attend because this training will be used in the Christian Witness Mission held in the local churches beginning next Sunday.

Serve ready-prepared tomato sauce — the meatless kind — over slices of hot meat loaf. This treatment perks up an old standby.

Allow at least 30 minutes for browning a pot roast. When meat is browned slowly and thoroughly this way, the color is not likely to wash away when the braising liquid is added.

LSU Alumni To Meet Monday In Urgent Session

C. D. Blaylock, president of the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the LSU Alumni Association has called an alumni meeting to be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel.

In order that all L. S. U. Alumni in this area might participate in the meeting, Mike John, Jr., who is fifth district council member, has issued a joint call for all L. S. U. Alumni in this section of the state to meet with the local parish chapter.

Several items of business will be discussed. Of primary importance will be a discussion relative to the program for next years banquet. At the meeting Monday night, it will be decided which major school (law, education, engineering, agriculture, commerce, etc.) will be in charge of next year's program. There will also be a preliminary discussion on next year's slate of officers to be elected to head the local chapter.

All LSU Alumni and former students are urged to come out Monday night and take part in the affairs of the local and district organizations.

L. B. Faulk Post To Meet Monday

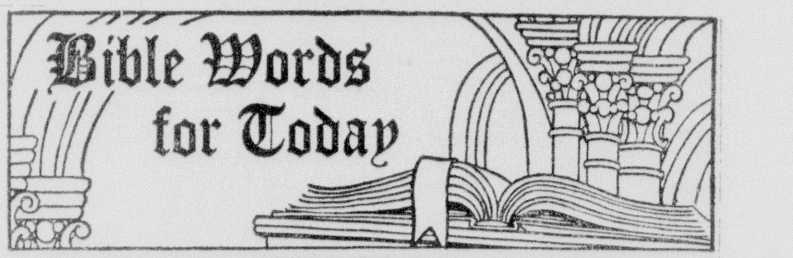
All new members who have not been formally obligated are urged to attend so that they may be initiated.

CHURCH PLANS UNIQUE SERIES OF MEETINGS

The Jackson Street Congregation of the Church of Christ will begin a unique series of services to be held nightly at 7:30 o'clock beginning March 27th, with Meredith Johnson, a well known local business man speaking each evening.

Believing that the Lord's business is the most important in existence and that a practical, workable approach is needed, the lessons will deal with the fundamental principles of a return to pure New Testament Christianity.

Friends and acquaintances of the speaker as well as the general public are invited to take part in these services.



MATTHEW 5:13—"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltness be restored?" (R.S.V.)

Jesus paid a wonderful compliment to His disciples in calling them the "salt of the earth." Salt is used universally. Without it humans and animals alike have dietary difficulties. Salt seasons food and makes it palatable. Salt also preserves food. Long before modern refrigeration, salt was used to keep food available. Salt purges. Many of the well known laxatives in current use are forms of salt. In addition, salt is a healing agent. It is used in solution to form compresses in combating infection.

When Jesus called His followers the "salt of the earth," He meant they must penetrate to the "uttermost parts of the earth" and make life good. They were to preserve the God-given blessings which men enjoy, to purge evil from the world and to heal the hurts to the hearts of men. I am very fond of this Bible verse. It defines our task as Christians.

New Blooms Seen Daily In Monroe

At this time of year we awake in a new world each morning, because every day something new blooms or puts out leaves. It's also a busy time. If you're not working in the yard, you're wishing you were there. All up and down the streets of the Twin Cities you see spading, mulching, pruning, and planting going on. Loads of shrubs pass our office every day.

Garden Talk

Last November I planted a dozen bulbs, Burgomaster, the new giant yellow. It is really the largest daffodil I've ever seen in bloom, and they're now in their prime. It's a lot like the King Alfred, maybe the cup being a little lighter shade of yellow. I'm sure you'll want to try a few of this variety next fall.

I've never seen the thrift so covered with blooms. This is the little lavender flower that's blooming now. It makes a beautiful ground cover and it's not too late to get nursery plants to put out. Don't forget the little sweet alyssum seed when you're planting. You can get white or lavender. This also makes a nice ground cover and is inexpensive. The seeds are so easy to get germinated. Don't think I've ever failed to get a good stand of this alyssum.

The pear tree is a beautiful thing isn't it? Going to Shreveport last week end I noticed an outstanding planting using a long row of pear trees with a line of red buds at right angles, crossing the pear planting. You can imagine the lavender and white together.

Since we always have a cold spell around Easter, let's put off the hibiscus planting until then. When the farmers plant cotton — that's hibiscus planting time because they belong to the same family. We usually think of planting caladium bulbs and hibiscus at the same time, but since the bulbs are put in the ground, they can be planted very soon.

There's been lots of tree purning in the Twin Cities this last week. If you're having a tree surgeon do the work, he'll take care of the open wounds. If you and the family are doing the job — don't forget to cover the place where you prune with some tree seal. An open unsealed spot on your tree is an invitation to insects and diseases.

Foods In The News

I've found long years ago that we housewives can't save dollars on the food bill, so we have to watch the pennies. There's no better way than to buy foods when they're on the plentiful foods list. Pork is given top billing for March and April along with eggs and rice. Pork is so reasonable in price, now, that it is advisable to buy extra roasts and chops for the deep freeze. Wrap carefully in laminated paper. Use the drug store wrap and seal with freezer tape. If the freezing air gets to the meat you'll have freezer burn and a very dry unpalatable product.

Other plentiful foods are canned snap beans, corn, small dried prunes and raisins. Green and wax beans are sold cut into different shapes and sizes. They are canned whole, cut French style, cut lengthwise into slender pieces, and cut into half - inch or longer lengths. When beans are to be served as a hot vegetable with the main course, the better brands are usually the best choice. If they are combined with other foods, the less expensive brands are just as good. They provide the same nutrients.

Your Sunday Drive

Dr. Kramer at Cooley Sanitarium called Tuesday and invited all who are interested to drive out this afternoon and see the five or six hundred azaleas in bloom. He says the red buds should still be blooming by that time, too, along with the white iris along the drive and the purple iris on the hillside. Doesn't that sound beautiful?

Mrs. Fred Poe's neighbor says she has a very beautiful flowering peach at 1110 South Fifth Street in Monroe.

The dogwoods on the Farmerville road were at their height Tuesday. The last two years that I've suggested you drive out to see these, Mother Nature played a trick on us. The rain poured from Thursday until Sunday and not a single blossom held up. So — if the weather is warm like today with no extremes of cold or rain I'll say the dogwoods should be blooming on the Farmerville road.

Not often we see a very large flowering peach because the borers usually get them before they get very tall. In the side yard on the corner of Glenmar and Sixth street is about the largest one in the Twin Cities.

The crabapples are in bloom in the Clyde Brown yard 1608 North Fifth street, but since they're in the back garden, you'll have to go down Sixth street to see them. There are beautiful crabapples at Margaret Downings, 1600 Island Drive in the side of the garden, just over the fence and on the corner of the Walter Kellogg's front yard, 1401 Park avenue.

For those who want to see a Lady Banksia rose in bloom, go to the McGee garden, 803 Trenton, West Monroe, turn down Vernon street and there it is.

Announcements

You're invited to tune in for open house each day at 1:00 o'clock. Monday Lola Caldwell, home agent from Caldwell parish will do cake decorating for children's birthday parties; Tuesday we'll sew; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine will bring you flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center, then we'll do some gardening; Thursday we'll market and Mammy will bring you some fine cooking; Friday is the doll kiddy show brought to you by Mrs. Margaret Newman and her pupils of the sixth grade, from Lake Providence.

See you next Sunday.

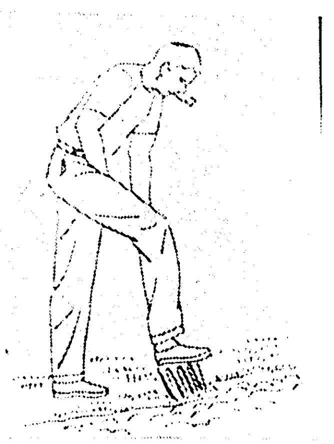
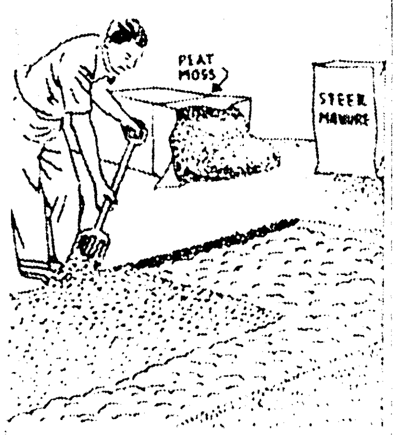
Spading Still Best Way To Prepare Soil

In spite of all the new systems tried in recent years, spading the soil remains the best way to prepare soil for planting. If you haven't stretched your muscles lately, though, don't try to spade your whole garden in one day! 150 square feet is a good hour's work and this is a good average flowerbed size. The important thing is to drive your spade straight in and turn a full shovelful of soil each time for plant roots go deep and they will grow best if the soil is loose and porous a full 12 inches deep.



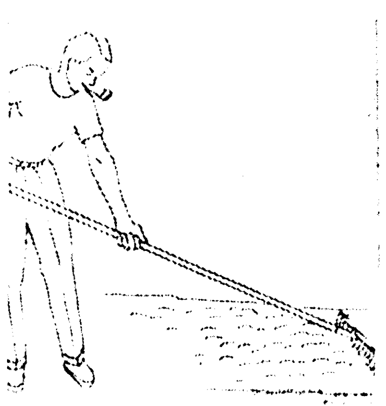
SPADE

While you are turning the soil, remember that it will probably benefit from an addition of peat moss or steer manure to fluff it up so that air can reach the bottom readily even after the bed has been soaked several times. If your soil is sandy, organic materials will help it retain more moisture; if your soil is mostly clay, organic materials will help "open it up." Adding sand to clay oftentimes just results in a cement-like mixture which is worse than clay alone.



FLUFF

After preparing your soil and adding peat moss or manure, break down the biggest clods to golfball size or smaller and let it "season for a week or ten days. Then it is ready for the smoothing process, using a steel rake to get the top three inches or so pulverized into particles the size of BB shot or smaller. This will be your seedbed.



SMOOTH

Many, many of the annual flowers benefit from being sown directly into the soil outdoors, but you had better check on the number of weeks required for various plants to bloom to see whether some had better be started indoors for early flowering in summer. Generally, the hardy annuals and the ones that love hot weather should be sown direct.

One third of the average American family budget goes into the three categories of food, liquor and tobacco, says a forthcoming study of the Twentieth Century Fund.

White Shrubs Go With Redbuds

The magenta of your redbuds will actually be heightened by the addition of white near the trees. Not many gardeners seem to realize that there is a white redbud they can get from nurseries and plant with their magenta ones. The same white shrubs we mentioned to go with the quinces are available, and then you can plant other plants that are close to the color of the redbuds. There is no prettier picture than Phlox subulata in its ordinary purplish pink varities planted near or under a redbud. Such a combination of plants with flowers all nearly the same color is always a pleasing picture to look at and a safe one to make.

Forsythia is such an easy shrub to grow that we just plant it everywhere. That is why great masses and little dabs of it dot the spring landscape at the time when redbud and quince are in bloom. Forsythia is naturally a large bush which looks silly when it is whacked down to nearly nothing. Plant the weeping kinds on a bank where it can run down and hang down in great cascades or up on a support where it can grow to the top and spill over. The great masses of yellow flowers and tender young leaves are almost enough by themselves, but the same old spireas and some daffodils that will bloom at the same time will make a telling picture for you every year. There are many fascinating spring trees and shrubs which we can combine into the breath taking pictures we all love so much in the spring, but if everybody would just separate the quinces, redbuds and Forsythias, the world would be a more beautiful place to live in. Color schemes are really worth the trouble!

The sudden burst of strong clashing colors in the spring reminds us every year to separate the red flowering quinces from the magenta redbuds. Since the redbuds are trees, it is usually easier to move the quinces. Great masses of yellow Forsythias added to the redbuds and quinces make the picture still worse, but these three common plants almost completely dominate the landscapes around houses in the first burst of spring.

There are a few very simple things you can do even if you do not feel that you are artistic enough to work out what may seem to be omplicated color schemes. The addition of white flowering trees and shrubs will always help the picture. White will "go with" any other color. "But white is not a color," you may say. Actually, white is all colors put together, and that is why white goes along with all the colors. It is best to remove the red quinces from the neighborhood of the redbuds. Plant them in another location and add white to them by planting the two spireas that bloom at the same time as the big burst of bloom on the quinces. These two spireas are Spiraea prunifolia and Spiraea thunbergi. The first one is that tall upright shrub that is common in gardens, and the second one is that feathery-leaved lowish shrub.

Dogwood Trees Are Starting To Flower

Congratulations to the Ferriday Garden Club! They won high score for the month of February. A check was presented to Mrs. U. B. Evans, president of the club.

Farmerville Garden Club presented our lovely flower show this week, with all blue ribbons in the horticulture class and two blues and a red ribbon in the arrangement section. Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. Lea Thompson served as judges. Blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. Fred Preaus for a large branch of Chinese Wisteria, Mrs. C. C. Murphy for Golden Harvest Daffodil, and Mrs. P. L. Read for Pink Flowering Almond. In the arrangement section Mrs. Guy Ludwig was awarded first place blue ribbon. In a swirled yellow container Mrs. Ludwig designed a crescent arrangement of forsythia, variegated boxwood and Golden Harvest daffodils. The arrangement was placed on a black scroll base against a chartreuse background. Mrs. Jesse Roan was awarded second place blue ribbon. For a container Mrs. Roan used a beautiful antique luster compote and created a mass arrangement of pink daffodils (variety Mrs. R.O. Backhouse) and iris foliage. Mrs. Doris Eldred was awarded third place. A lovely modern container was used and Mrs. Eldred designed a beautiful mass arrangement of white stock, blue dutch iris and acacia.

Have you noticed the sassafras blooms along the roadsides? These are wonderful for arrangements and are fragrant too. The dogwoods are all coming into flower. Be sure to drive out Sterlington Road to see them. Remember the dogwood is on our conservation list, so please do not break or cut the branches and don't dig them out of the woods. Get one from your nursery-man, it will have a much better chance of survival as it will either be balled and wrapped or in a container.

Flower show chairman will find all the answers in a small book just off the press, "Flower Show Know-How" by William Thomas Wood and Marie Stevens Wood. Mr. Wood is chairman of the exhibitions and awards committee of the American Camellia Society and a judge for the All American Camellia selections. Mrs. Wood is chairman of the nationally accredited judges, on the board of the Garden Club of Georgia and is a charter member and president of the Flower Arrangers Club of Georgia. The book is a result of all the questions asked these two fine judges. The cost is one dollar and may be had at Merriewoode Press, Box 366, Macon, Ga.

We have just received word of a flower show that should be of interest to all! The Council of Nationally Accredited Flower Show Judges of the Fourth District, La. Garden Club Federation will hold their Flower Show on Tuesday, April 5 at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Shreveport. The theme is architectural "Building With Flowers." The public is cordially invited. The State Flower Show is on in New Orleans today. Let's hope Fifth District Garden Club members bring home lots of blue ribbons.

So — if the weather is warm like today with no extremes of cold or rain I'll say the dogwoods should be blooming on the Farmerville road.

Not often we see a very large flowering peach because the borers usually get them before they get very tall. In the side yard on the corner of Glenmar and Sixth street is about the largest one in the Twin Cities.

The crabapples are in bloom in the Clyde Brown yard 1608 North Fifth street, but since they're in the back garden, you'll have to go down Sixth street to see them. There are beautiful crabapples at Margaret Downings, 1600 Island Drive in the side of the garden, just over the fence and on the corner of the Walter Kellogg's front yard, 1401 Park avenue.

For those who want to see a Lady Banksia rose in bloom, go to the McGee garden, 803 Trenton, West Monroe, turn down Vernon street and there it is.

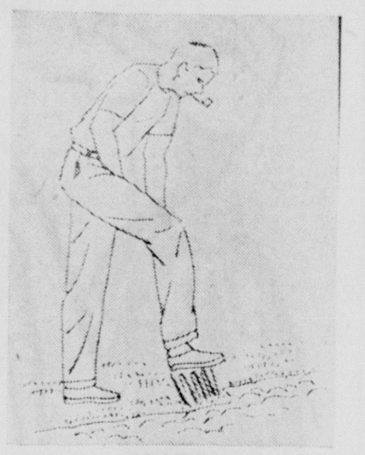
Announcements

You're invited to tune in for open house each day at 1:00 o'clock. Monday Lola Caldwell, home agent from Caldwell parish will do cake decorating for children's birthday parties; Tuesday we'll sew; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine will bring you flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center, then we'll do some gardening; Thursday we'll market and Mammy will bring you some fine cooking; Friday is the doll kiddy show brought to you by Mrs. Margaret Newman and her pupils of the sixth grade, from Lake Providence.

See you next Sunday.

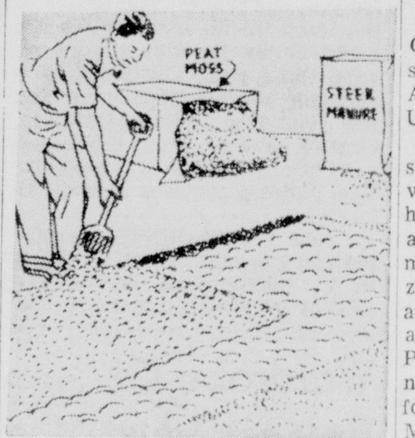
Spading Still Best Way To Prepare Soil

In spite of all the new systems tried in recent years, spading the soil remains the best way to prepare soil for planting. If you haven't stretched your muscles lately, though, don't try to spade your whole garden in one day! 150 square feet is a good hour's work and this is a good average flowerbed size. The important thing is to drive your spade straight in and turn a full shovelful of soil each time for plant roots go deep and they will grow best if the soil is loose and porous a full 12 inches deep.



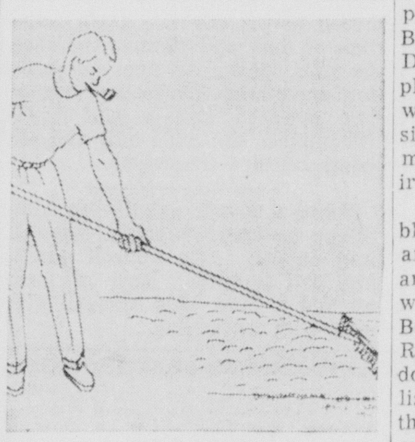
SPADE

While you are turning the soil, remember that it will probably benefit from an addition of peat moss of steer manure to fluff it up so that air can reach the bottom readily even after the bed has been soaked several times. If your soil is sandy, organic materials will help it retain more moisture; if your soil is mostly clay, organic materials will help "open it up." Adding sand to clay oftentimes just results in a cement-like mixture which is worse than clay alone.



FLUFF

After preparing your soil and adding peat moss or manure, break down the biggest clods to golfball size or smaller and let it "season for a week or ten days. Then it is ready for the smoothing process, using a steel rake to get the top three inches or so pulverized into particles the size of BB shot or smaller. This will be your seedbed.



SMOOTH

Many, many of the annual flowers benefit from being sown directly into the soil outdoors, but you had better check on the number of weeks required for various plants to bloom to see whether some had better be started indoors for early flowering in summer. Generally, the hardy annuals and the ones that love hot weather should be sown direct.

One third of the average American family budget goes into the three categories of food, liquor and tobacco, says a forthcoming study of the Twentieth Century Fund.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

White Shrubs Go With Redbuds

The magenta of your redbuds will actually be heightened by the addition of white near the trees. Not many gardeners seem to realize that there is a white redbud they can get from nurseries and plant with their magenta ones. The same white shrubs we mentioned to go with the quinces are available, and then you can plant other plants that are close to the color of the redbuds. There is no prettier picture than Phlox subulata in its ordinary purplish pink varities planted near or under a redbud. Such a combination of plants with flowers all nearly the same color is always a pleasing picture to look at and a safe one to make.

Forsythia is such an easy shrub to grow that we just plant it everywhere. That is why great masses and little dabs of it dot the spring landscape at the time when redbud and quince are in bloom. Forsythia is naturally a large bush which looks silly when it is whacked down to nearly nothing. Plant the weeping kinds on a bank where it can run down and hang down in great cascades or up on a support where it can grow to the top and spill over. The great masses of yellow flowers and tender young leaves are almost enough by themselves, but the same old spireas and some daffodils that will bloom at the same time will make a telling picture for you every year. There are many fascinating spring trees and shrubs which we can combine into the breath taking pictures we all love so much in the spring, but if everybody would just separate the quinces, redbuds and Forsythias, the world would be a more beautiful place to live in. Color schemes are really worth the trouble!

The sudden burst of strong clashing colors in the spring reminds us every year to separate the red flowering quinces from the magenta redbuds. Since the redbuds are trees, it is usually easier to move the quinces. Great masses of yellow Forsythias added to the redbuds and quinces make the picture still worse, but these three common plants almost completely dominate the landscapes around houses in the first burst of spring.

There are a few very simple things you can do even if you do not feel that you are artistic enough to work out what may seem to be omplicated color schemes. The addition of white flowering trees and shrubs will always help the picture. White will "go with" any other color. "But white is not a color," you may say. Actually, white is all colors put together, and that is why white goes along with all the colors. It is best to remove the red quinces from the neighborhood of the redbuds. Plant them in another location and add white to them by planting the two spireas that bloom at the same time as the big burst of bloom on the quinces. These two spireas are Spiraea prunifolia and Spiraea thunbergi. The first one is that tall upright shrub that is common in gardens, and the second one is that feathery-leaved lowish shrub.

Dogwood Trees Are Starting To Flower

Congratulations to the Ferriday Garden Club! They won high score for the month of February. A check was presented to Mrs. U. B. Evans, president of the club.

Farmerville Garden Club presented our lovely flower show this week, with all blue ribbons in the horticulture class and two blues and a red ribbon in the arrangement section. Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. Lea Thompson served as judges. Blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. Fred Preaus for a large branch of Chinese Wisteria, Mrs. C. C. Murphy for Golden Harvest Daffodil, and Mrs. P. L. Read for Pink Flowering Almond. In the arrangement section Mrs. Guy Ludwig was awarded first place blue ribbon. In a swirled yellow container Mrs. Ludwig designed a crescent arrangement of forsythia, variegated boxwood and Golden Harvest daffodils. The arrangement was placed on a black scroll base against a chartreuse background. Mrs. Jesse Roan was awarded second place blue ribbon. For a container Mrs. Roan used a beautiful antique luster compote and created a mass arrangement of pink daffodils (variety Mrs. R.O. Backhouse) and iris foliage. Mrs. Doris Eldred was awarded third place. A lovely modern container was used and Mrs. Eldred designed a beautiful mass arrangement of white stock, blue dutch iris and acacia.

Have you noticed the sassafras blooms along the roadsides? These are wonderful for arrangements and are fragrant too. The dogwoods are all coming into flower. Be sure to drive out Sterlington Road to see them. Remember the dogwood is on our conservation list, so please do not break or cut the branches and don't dig them out of the woods. Get one from your nursery-man, it will have a much better chance of survival as it will either be balled and wrapped or in a container.

Flower show chairman will find all the answers in a small book just off the press, "Flower Show Know-How" by William Thomas Wood and Marie Stevens Wood. Mr. Wood is chairman of the exhibitions and awards committee of the American Camellia Society and a judge for the All American Camellia selections. Mrs. Wood is chairman of the nationally accredited judges, on the board of the Garden Club of Georgia and is a charter member and president of the Flower Arrangers Club of Georgia. The book is a result of all the questions asked these two fine judges. The cost is one dollar and may be had at Merriewoode Press, Box 366, Macon, Ga.

We have just received word of a flower show that should be of interest to all! The Council of Nationally Accredited Flower Show Judges of the Fourth District, La. Garden Club Federation will hold their Flower Show on Tuesday, April 5 at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Shreveport. The theme is architectural "Building With Flowers." The public is cordially invited. The State Flower Show is on in New Orleans today. Let's hope Fifth District Garden Club members bring home lots of blue ribbons.

Disney's '20,000 Leagues Under The Sea' At Jim

Hollywood and Neptune combined to bring their most lavish treasures to the screen in Walt Disney's CinemaScope - Technicolor production, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

Cooperating in an odd and hitherto undreamed way, Hollywood's most distinguished personality and the King of the Oceans got together to make screen history. Disney brought crews of technicians, designers, cameramen, directors, divers and stars to the seat of operations. One company worked on the ocean around Montego Bay, Jamaica. Father Neptune, in turn, displayed his spectacularly lovely gold and coral realm beneath the sparkling blue - green tropical waters of these two locations. The entire object was to capture on film the vast adventures of the submarine Nautilus which Jules Verne wrote about so dramatically almost a century ago.

Starring Kirk Douglas, James Mason, Paul Mason, Paul Lukas and Peter Lorre, the entire enterprise was something which brought with it untold difficulties and triumphant results. Long known for his technical authenticity and fascinated by Verne's oceanic fantasy, Disney saw no reason for making his live - action film any place but on the floor of the ocean.

Hence the preliminary work brought with it wide inquiries and research as to how this could be done technically. The first difficulty which presented itself was the problem of how to get a camera down to where the actors were. That was solved by putting a standard Mitchell in a pressurized, water - proofed case. Then there was the business of finding divers who could handle a camera, or cameramen who were divers. This was solved by teaching the regular Disney crew how to operate in Neptune's domain.

Why Grow Old?

You Might Try Exercise To Fit Figure To Style

There is no doubt about it — the newest styles do put pressure on our middles. When skirts were full and flaring over the abdomen and hips, and nipped in at the waistline, a lot of feminine rolls were hidden. Now, with the long molded styles, a woman can't have a pad or two of fat in peace.

This fashion calls for figure molding. Of course it also calls for foundation garments. Even if you are slim you need that unbroken line. Of course, the corselet gives this from bust to thigh. If you do not like these you can combine a waist-length brassiere with a high girdle.

Exercises Indicated

In the meantime, a few exercises are indicated. The following one is simple, will flatten the stomach and is recommended by physicians as a good health measure. It is corrective to constipation and a sluggish liver.

Lie on your back on a hard bed or on the floor. Push your abdominal muscles up toward the ceiling as far as comfortable. Pull them down toward your backbone as far as is comfortable. Continue pushing up and pulling down. Do this slowly but firmly!

Here's another for that pad of fat on the abdomen. Lie on the floor on your back, arms resting on floor over your head. Raise your left leg with a stiff knee. Lower leg to floor, knee still stiff. Raise right leg. Lower leg. Continue, alternating left and right.

When your muscles are strong enough, lie on the floor on your back. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten legs toward the ceiling. Slowly lower legs to the floor, with stiff knees.

Here's first aid for your waistline. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Extend your arms over your head, one arm by each ear. Bend to the left as far as you can. Raise trunk and bend to the right as far as you can. Raise trunk. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this slowly giving time for the pull and stretch of muscles.

If you would like to have my exercises which will take a few inches from your waist in a few weeks time, send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 "Don't Go to Waist!" Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Match Your Make-up With Spring Colors."

Wardrobe Of Brushes Must For Beauty

NEW YORK — Give yourself the brush - off for beauty's sake. Proper brushing can bring out the beauty of your skin, hair, nails and eyebrows.

Most beauty experts recommend this wardrobe of brushes: A long-handled body brush to smooth back and shoulders, arms and knees; a complexion brush for cleaning the face; a sturdy hair brush to remove the day's collection of dust and restore the sheen to your locks; an eyebrow brush for smoothing brows and removing powder; and a nail brush. Cleanliness tip: suds hair and eyebrow brushes frequently.

Serve a Greek salad! To make it cup up green peppers, tomatoes and onions. Add minced parsley and salt to taste. Now add olive oil and a little wine vinegar. Garnish with anchovies.

SCS Head Takes New Job; Will Be Replaced In July

JONESVILLE, March 19 (Special) — Otis Autonberry, head of the soil conservation office in Catahoula, has resigned to accept employment with a spray company.

Autonberry, who served here about nine months, left last week for his new position in Oklahoma City. A soil conservation spokesman said his successor is due in the parish about the first of July.

It's new! It's revolutionary!

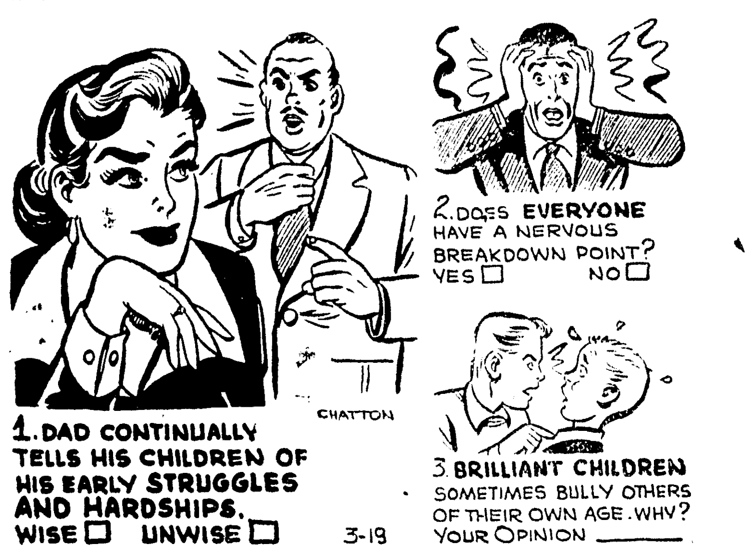
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



1. DAD CONTINUALLY TELLS HIS CHILDREN OF HIS EARLY STRUGGLES AND HARDSHIPS. WISE ☐ UNWISE ☐

2. DOES EVERYONE HAVE A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN POINT? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. BRILLIANT CHILDREN SOMETIMES BULLY OTHERS OF THEIR OWN AGE. WHY? YOUR OPINION ______

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Unwise. When he tells them of walking five miles in the snow to school, wearing patched trousers, living on bacon and beans, he is merely trying to tell them what a heroic character he was—and is. An occasional story may inspire, but when he rubs it in, they whisper, "The old duffer's blowing his horn again." I know—I've tried it.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. So Leon Saul maintains in his fine book, "Emotional Maturity." However, while some soldiers break down easily, some endure incredible hardships and severe wounds and brainwashings. It probably injures all, but some never seem to break. Depends, as Saul says, on your emotional maturity. Our booklet, "How To Be An Emotional Grownup," will help you avoid the breaking point. Non-profit, 15 cents (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Because, as Boardman and Hildreth say in their book, "Understanding the Child," they are usually bigger and stronger than their contemporaries — contrary to popular belief. They also think faster and get impatient with slower children. However, these are exceptions. Usually gifted children have finer personalities, behave better, and are better looking than average children.

Master Your Bad Habits

Don't become a slave to bad habit—master them! A new and easy way to cure yourself of unattractive traits is explained in the booklet, "Master Your Bad Habits the New and Easy Way." For a copy send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped, envelope (give name of city and state), to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Hollywood and Neptune combined to bring their most lavish treasures to the screen in Walt Disney's CinemaScope - Technicolor production, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

Cooperating in an odd and hitherto undreamed way, Hollywood's most distinguished personality and the King of the Oceans got together to make screen history. Disney brought crews of technicians, designers, cameramen, directors, divers and stars to the seat of operations. One company worked on the ocean around Montego Bay, Jamaica. Father Neptune, in turn, displayed his spectacularly lovely gold and coral realm beneath the sparkling blue - green tropical waters of these two locations. The entire object was to capture on film the vast adventures of the submarine Nautilus which Jules Verne wrote about so dramatically almost a century ago.

Starring Kirk Douglas, James Mason, Paul Mason, Paul Lukas and Peter Lorre, the entire enterprise was something which brought with it untold difficulties and triumphant results. Long known for his technical authenticity and fascinated by Verne's oceanic fantasy, Disney saw no reason for making his live - action film any place but on the floor of the ocean.

Hence the preliminary work brought with it wide inquiries and research as to how this could be done technically. The first difficulty which presented itself was the problem of how to get a camera down to where the actors were. That was solved by putting a standard Mitchell in a pressurized, water - proofed case. Then there was the business of finding divers who could handle a camera, or cameramen who were divers. This was solved by teaching the regular Disney crew how to operate in Neptune's domain.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

You Might Try Exercise To Fit Figure To Style

There is no doubt about it — the newest styles do put pressure on our middles. When skirts were full and flaring over the abdomen and hips and nipped in at the waistline, a lot of feminine rolls were hidden. Now, with the long molded styles, a woman can't have a pad or two of fat in peace.

This fashion calls for figure molding. Of course, it also calls for foundation garments. Even if you are slim you need that unbroken line. Of course, the corselet gives this from bust to thigh. If you do not like these you can combine a waist-length brassiere with a high girdle.

Exercises Indicated

In the meantime, a few exercises are indicated. The following one is simple, will flatten the stomach and is recommended by physicians as a good health measure. It is corrective to constipation and a sluggish liver.

Lie on your back on a hard bed or on the floor. Push your abdominal muscles up toward the ceiling as far as comfortable. Pull them down toward your backbone as far as is comfortable. Continue pushing up and pulling down. Do this slowly but firmly.

Here's another for that pad of fat on the abdomen. Lie on the floor on your back, arms resting on floor over your head. Raise your left leg with a stiff knee. Lower leg to floor, knee still stiff. Raise right leg. Lower leg. Continue, alternating left and right.

When your muscles are strong enough, lie on the floor on your back. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten legs toward the ceiling. Slowly lower legs to the floor, with stiff knees.

Here's first aid for your waistline. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated. Extend your arms over your head, one arm by each ear. Bend to the left as far as you can. Raise trunk and bend to the right as far as you can. Raise trunk. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this slowly giving time for the pull and stretch of muscles.

If you would like to have my exercises which will take a few inches from your waist in a few weeks time, send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 "Don't Go to Waist!" Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

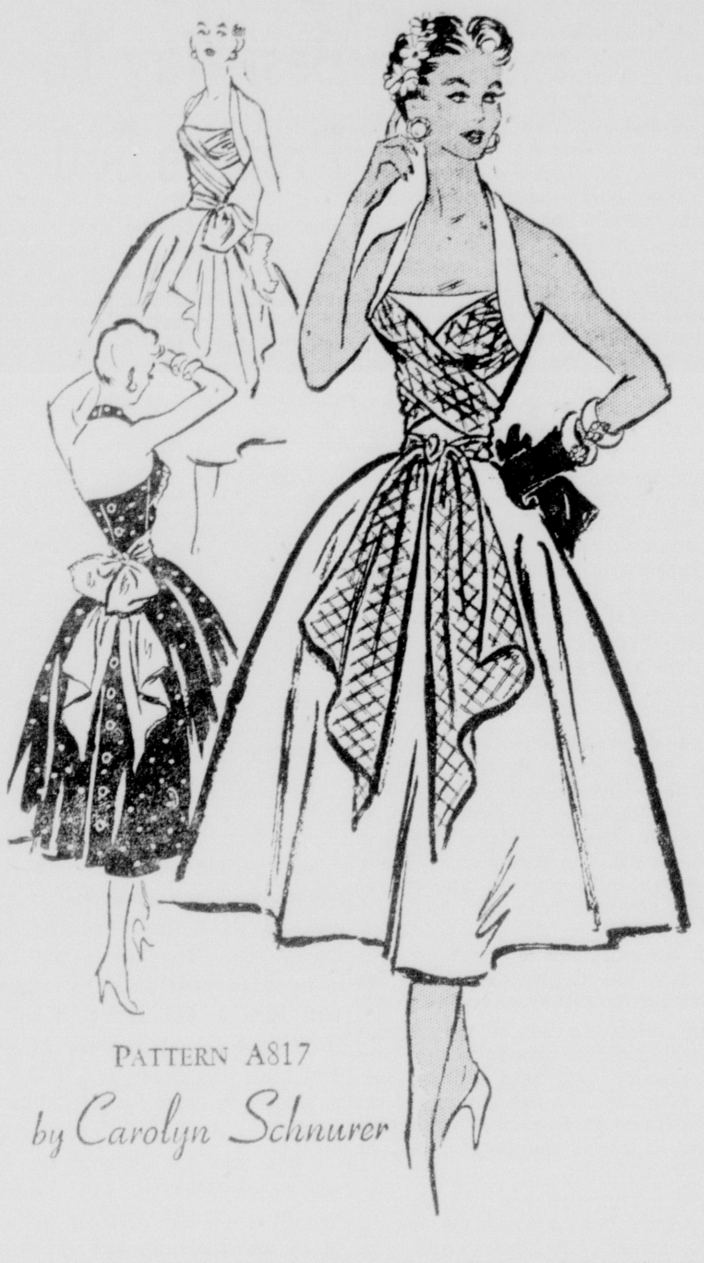
BODICE A MOLDED BEAUTY IN PATTERN BY CAROLYN SCHNURER



PATTERN A817
by Carolyn Schnurer

PROMINENT DESIGNER—It's the cut-to-you shape, the quiet, quick flash of inspired design that makes Carolyn Schnurer fashions so exciting, so beloved by those who wear them. Here, right here, is her most shapely sun dress, translated into pattern form exclusively for you, our reader. The bodice is a molded beauty, bosom accented by the wrap 'n' tie scarf. Wrap it snugly, tie it smartly, front, side, or back! Enjoy the thimble-size waist effect. The Original is made in crisp white pique sharpened by the smart contrast of black and white gingham checks. Follow the Schnurer fabric formula for success or sew your own version of A817 in your own choice of fabric! It's sew-easy to have an exact replica of this exciting Original!

Pattern A817 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 3 yards 35-inch fabric; 2 yards 35-inch contrast fabric.

Wardrobe Of Brushes Must For Beauty

NEW YORK — Give yourself the brush - off for beauty's sake. Proper brushing can bring out the beauty of your skin, hair, nails and eyebrows.

Most beauty experts recommend this wardrobe of brushes: A long-handled body brush to smooth back and shoulders, arm and knees; a complexion brush for cleaning the face; a sturdy hair brush to remove the day's collection of dust and restore the sheen to your locks; an eyebrow brush for smoothing brows and removing powder; and a nail brush. Cleanliness tip: suds hair and eyebrow brushes frequently.

Serve a Greek salad! To make it cup up green peppers, tomatoes and onions. Add minced parsley and salt to taste. Now add olive oil and a little wine vinegar. Garnish with anchovies.

SCS Head Takes New Job; Will Be Replaced In July

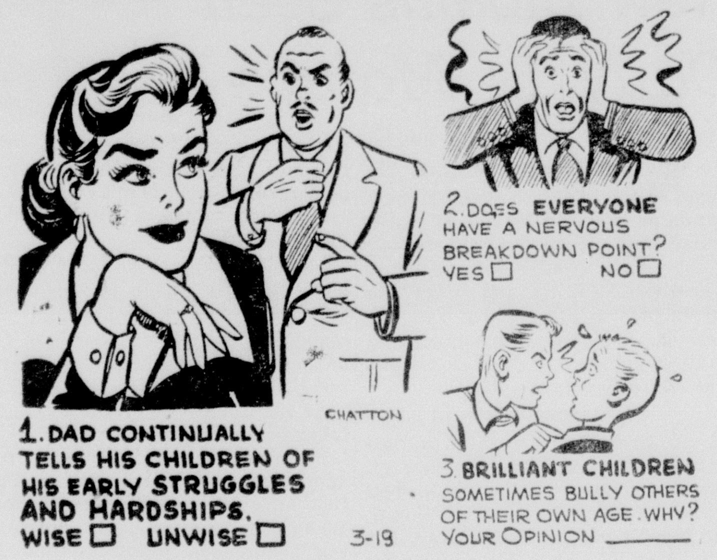
JONESVILLE, March 19 (Special) — Otis Autonberry, head of the soil conservation office in Catahoula, has resigned to accept employment with a spray company.

Autonberry, who served here about nine months, left last week for his new position in Oklahoma City. A soil conservation spokesman said his successor is due in the parish about the first of July.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



1. DAD CONTINUALLY TELLS HIS CHILDREN OF HIS EARLY STRUGGLES AND HARDSHIPS.
WISE ☐ UNWISE ☐

2. DOES EVERYONE HAVE A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN POINT?
YES ☐ NO ☐

3. BRILLIANT CHILDREN SOMETIMES BULLY OTHERS OF THEIR OWN AGE. WHY?
YOUR OPINION ______

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Unwise. When he tells them of walking five miles in the snow to school, wearing patched trousers, living on bacon and beans, he is merely trying to tell them what a heroic character he was—and is. An occasional story may inspire, but when he rubs it in, they whisper, "The old duffer's blowing his horn again." I know—I've tried it.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. So Leon Saul maintains in his fine book, "Emotional Maturity." However, while some soldiers break down easily, some endure incredible hardships and severe wounds and brainwashings. It probably injures all, but some never seem to break. Depends, as Saul says, on your emotional maturity. Our booklet, "How To Be An Emotional Grownup," will help you avoid the breaking point. Non-profit, 15 cents (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Because, as Boardman and Hildreth say in their book, "Understanding the Child," they are usually bigger and stronger than their contemporaries — contrary to popular belief. They also think faster and get impatient with slower children. However, these are exceptions. Usually gifted children have finer personalities, behave better, and are better looking than average children.

Master Your Bad Habits

Don't become a slave to bad habit—master them! A new and easy way to cure yourself of unattractive traits is explained in the booklet, "Master Your Bad Habits the New and Easy Way." For a copy send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped, envelope (give name of city and state), to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Action Underway To Incorporate In Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, March 19 (Special) — Action got underway here this week to incorporate Sicily Island, with petitions being circulated to get the required percentage of voters to sign.

The move started Monday night with an open meeting attended by more than 40 parish citizens. No opposition to incorporation was voiced at the meeting.

Persons attending the meeting voted a slate of officials to serve until a municipal election could be held. They picked Lonnie Franks for mayor and M. I. Saltzman, Bruce Edmonds, T. J. Peniston, Willind Chisum Jr., and Clark Salter as councilmen.

If the required number of voters sign the petition, and if Governor Kennon grants a charter, Kennon will also be asked to designate the officials picked at the meeting to serve until an election can be held.

It is not known whether Sicily Island will be incorporated as a village or town, depending on the population within the town limits after the boundaries are established.

Happy About Actress Roles

HOLLYWOOD, March 19 - I dig it—the most! Working in a picture, that is.

But if any of you are shedding tears because Sheree was forced to sit around a whole year before 20th Century - Fox decided to cast her in a picture, just dry those big blue eyes, honey, and listen to my tale.

For the first 12 months before they tapped me on the shoulder and said "Sheree, here's a script of 'How to be Very, Very Popular," I was on salary. Nothing to do but a few tests, but I was on salary.

Now this may mean nothing to individuals to whom the weekly paycheck has become a solid institution, but for a little blonde to whom regular salary checks were as rare as the 29th of February, it was like Columbus discovering land.

It was like this, see. I'm a chorus girl who is working from 10 a.m., until midnight in the line at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles. They're on a musical comedy kick at the time and we finish one and go right into the next, meaning you rehearse next week's show all morning and afternoon and then do this week's show at night.

Then comes word that I have a chance for "Hazel Flagg" on Broadway. So my gal friend, Chris Carter, and I spend all our dough on luggage and other stuff a gal has to have in the big city and off we go to New York.

Now what we don't know is that when you're rehearsing for a Broadway play, they don't pay you. This is conducive to going broke in a hurry — which we did.

Now comes the part called "eating", and the sub-title, "three meals a day — if possible."

In our case the three-meal bit was out of the question. So what do we do but go into one of those off-the-arm places and order a 10-cent bowl of mush? Now while Chris, a red-haired dish who could charm the stars off a General, keeps the waiter busy with a line of gab, I'm grabbing hunks of bread and stuffing them under my coat.

Back we go the room, and I'm being overly kind in referring to the broom closet we called home, we'd go. When we'd run out of dimes for bowls of mush, out would come the stale bread, under the water spigot it would go and onto the radiator to loosen it up. After that it was "dinner is served."

And was it cold in New York in February! I'm a native Californian who just loves that sunshine. But the cold did have one advantage, it jelled our jello. That's not double-talk, either, because we'd take a package of jello, mix it up in an empty yogurt jar and put it on the window sill. The thermometer dips, the jello jells and we're eating like kings.

I don't have to go on. You get the drift. The point is that being on salary and having money coming in every week to know my little girl and I have enough to eat and wear — well, if you haven't had the worry you can't appreciate what it means not to have same.

Some of the folks here were trying to tell me that the studio wasn't doing right by me, that they were just using me as a threat to force Marilyn Monroe back into some of their pictures.

Well, if paying me an entire year, and at a mighty crazy salary, and then putting me into starring roles in both "How to be Very, Very Popular" and "Pink Tights," which starts immediately afterwards, is a threat, they can "threaten" me all they want.

As to the pictures themselves, well, I couldn't have been happier about the roles if I had hand picked the screenplays myself. In "Popular" I wear a burlesque costume, witness a murder, get mixed up in a college fraternity dorm (wow,) get hypnotized, and smooch half the men on the campus before I decide on Orson Bean.

I haven't seen the script of "Pink Tights" yet but dancing with Dan Dailey is good enough for me. That's "the facts," ma'am. Things are going cool and as long as there's enough money to take care of my daughter and me you won't hear Sheree crying about anything.

If you do, just remind me about that dry bread and jello diet.

'Long Gray Line' Is Next Feature At Paramount

The United States Military Academy at West Point is little more than 150 years old, although West Point itself has been a military post since 1778. The story of West Point's recent history, half a century of it, is heart - warmingly told by four - time Academy Award director John Ford in his spectacular new film, "The Long Gray Line," starring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara in CinemaScope and color by Technicolor. Filmed almost entirely on location at West Point, the Columbia picture, starting next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, is based on the true - life drama of a retired Army sergeant, one Marty Maher, who served as athletic trainer and friend to generations of cadets.

Maher first entered West Point history as a young immigrant in 1903, when he was employed by the Military Academy as a waiter. He quickly discovered enlisted men did not have to pay for the dishes they broke, which he had to do as a civilian employee; he promptly enlisted in the Army. Maher's career at the Point embraced three wars and 10,000 "sons," the long gray line of cadets. In telling his unforgettable true - as - life story, Mr. Ford found room for such major and minor moments of history as the Army-Notre Dame game of 1913, when an unknown named Knute Rockne "bombed" the Army to defeat with his surprising new tactic, the forward pass; the graduation of the Class of 1915, which included a cadet who was to become President of the United States Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the Sunday morning chapel service at which the Corps of Cadets learned that, at that very moment, the Japanese were staging their "sneak attack" on Pearl Harbor.

When using a paint roller to apply an oil-base paint, line the roller tray with aluminum foil. The lining makes cleaning up easier once the painting is done.

SPARK SPARKS

WARWICK, R. I. — A coat caused a $700 fire in the home of John Testa, firemen said. A spark landed on Testa's coat while he was burning rubbish. The coat and the spark were hung in a closet when he came into the house.

Action Underway To Incorporate In Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, March 19 (Special) — Action got underway here this week to incorporate Sicily Island, with petitions being circulated to get the required percentage of voters to sign.

The move started Monday night with an open meeting attended by more than 40 parish citizens. No opposition to incorporation was voiced at the meeting.

Persons attending the meeting voted a slate of officials to serve until a municipal election could be held. They picked Lonnie Franks for mayor and M. I. Saltzman, Bruce Edmonds, T. J. Peniston, Willind Chisum Jr., and Clark Salter as councilmen.

If the required number of voters sign the petition, and if Governor Kennon grants a charter, Kennon will also be asked to designate the officials picked at the meeting to serve until an election can be held.

It is not known whether Sicily Island will be incorporated as a village or town, depending on the population within the town limits after the boundaries are established.

'Long Gray Line' Is Next Feature At Paramount

The United States Military Academy at West Point is little more than 150 years old, although West Point itself has been a military post since 1778. The story of West Point's recent history, half a century of it, is heart - warmingly told by four - time Academy Award director John Ford in his spectacular new film, "The Long Gray Line," starring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara in CinemaScope and color by Technicolor. Filmed almost entirely on location at West Point, the Columbia picture, starting next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, is based on the true - life drama of a retired Army sergeant, one Marty Maher, who served as athletic trainer and friend to generations of cadets.

Maher first entered West Point history as a young immigrant in 1903, when he was employed by the Military Academy as a waiter. He quickly discovered enlisted men did not have to pay for the dishes they broke, which he had to do as a civilian employee; he promptly enlisted in the Army. Maher's career at the Point embraced three wars and 10,000 "sons," the long gray line of cadets. In telling his unforgettable true - as - life story, Mr. Ford found room for such major and minor moments of history as the Army-Notre Dame game of 1913, when an unknown named Knute Rockne "bombed" the Army to defeat with his surprising new tactic, the forward pass; the graduation of the Class of 1915, which included a cadet who was to become President of the United States Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the Sunday morning chapel service at which the Corps of Cadets learned that, at that very moment, the Japanese were staging their "sneak attack" on Pearl Harbor.

When using a paint roller to apply an oil-base paint, line the roller tray with aluminum foil. The lining makes cleaning up easier once the painting is done.

The bidding.

South, 1 spade; West, Pass; North, 3 clubs; East, Pass.

South, Pass; West, Pass.

Opening lead: Ace of hearts.

That the place for the ace is on the king is a proposition I have attempted to hammer home countless number of times, but there are occasions when a discreet departure from this rule will yield gratifying results. If you fail to place your ace on the adverse king, however, you must be prepared to offer a very good reason. West might have come up with a splendid reason on this hand.

Today's North, on his second bid, was presented with an awkward problem. He held the ingredients of a sound opening bid and wished, therefore, to insist upon reaching game. A jump in his own suit was not appropriate nor was a jump in no trump without a heart stopper. He chose therefore to jump in partner's first suit. This was unorthodox, inasmuch as a jump of this character should normally be based on four assisting trumps. But it would seem like the best way out of a trying situation. When South rebid spades, announcing a five card suit, North was at liberty to raise to game.

The defense cashed two heart tricks and returned a club. Declarer won in dummy and led a low spade. When East played the seven, declarer put up the king. West won with the ace and returned a club which South took in his own hand. He led a low spade. West played low and he went up with the queen, dropping East's jack. Declarer reasoned that in the absence of a false card East's seven was either alone or accompanied by a jack. If it were alone it was pointless to finesse the nine for the jack was too well guarded to be picked up.

West could almost certainly have defeated the contract had he permitted South's king of spades to hold, and circumstances indicated that he should have done so. He could see two trump tricks must be won if the contract were to be defeated, and only if East held the jack of spades could this be accomplished.

If West ducks the king of spades, South will conclude that East has the ace and when the second spade is led, South will naturally play low from dummy hoping that East's presumed ace of spades will now fall.

Canned or home-cooked pear halves look pretty and taste good when their cavities are filled with apricot puree and they are surrounded with a soft custard sauce.

Here are general directions for using the broiler in a gas range to best advantage. Preheat the broiling compartment five minutes with full flame. If the broiler flame depends on the heat control, set the dial at the highest point—beyond 550 degrees. Allow one to 3 inches between the flame and the food when you are cooking one-inch thick lamb chops. When you broil chicken there should be at least 5 inches between the flame and the food. Allow only 2 or 3 inches between flame and food when you are broiling fish (whole, split or filleted).

Kitchen tip: add sugar and flavoring to heavy cream you are whipping after beating long enough so the cream has begun to thicken. Two to three tablespoons of confectioners' sugar is about right for one cup of cream.

JERRY SAYS THE WHOLE TEAM'S "CRAZY" ABOUT HIM. HE MUST BE ON HIS GOOD BEHAVIOR. HE SAYS HE WON A BALL GAME BY HIMSELF.
I WONDER HOW. TOO BAD HE DIDN'T DESCRIBE THE GAME.
DEAR READER ..THIS IS HOW IT HAPPENED.
DUKE'S TEAM IS PLAYIN' PEE-WEE'S TEAM. I GO IN LATER WHEN IT'S IMPORTANT.
OH, MISTER LEEMY. YOU'RE WONDERFUL!
HEY, PEE-WEE.. HOW 'BOUT LETTIN' ME PITCH... IT'S TH' THOID INNIN' ARREDDY?
NOT YET. BRING SOME EXTRA TOWELS.
THE LAST HALF OF THE NINTH INNING. PEE-WEE'S TEAM LEADS BY ONE RUN. THE DUKE'S HAS TWO OUT WITH THE TYING RUN ON THIRD AND THE POSSIBLE WINNING RUN AT BAT.
NOW? PLEASE... MY GOIL FRIEND'S WAITIN' T'SEE ME PLAY...PUH-LEEZE?
OH..OKAY...PLAY CENTER FIELD.
THAT'S AS FAR OUT OF THE WAY AS I CAN GET HIM!
AWRIGHT...AWRIGHT...LE'S GO, MEN...LE'S GIT THIS BUM...HE'S EASY!
IT'S A POP-UP OVER THE INFIELD...
I GOT IT...I GOT IT... OUTA ME WAY
I'LL TAKE IT, BOYS.
IT'S AN EASY OUT... GAME'S OVER!
POINGGGG
WHEW THAT WAS CLOSE!
NICE CATCH, PEE-WEE. WE WIN!
IF IT WASN'T FER ME... HE'D NEVER OF CAUGHT TH' BALL. I GOT CREDI. FER A AFFISHUL ASSIST. I WIN TH' GAME!

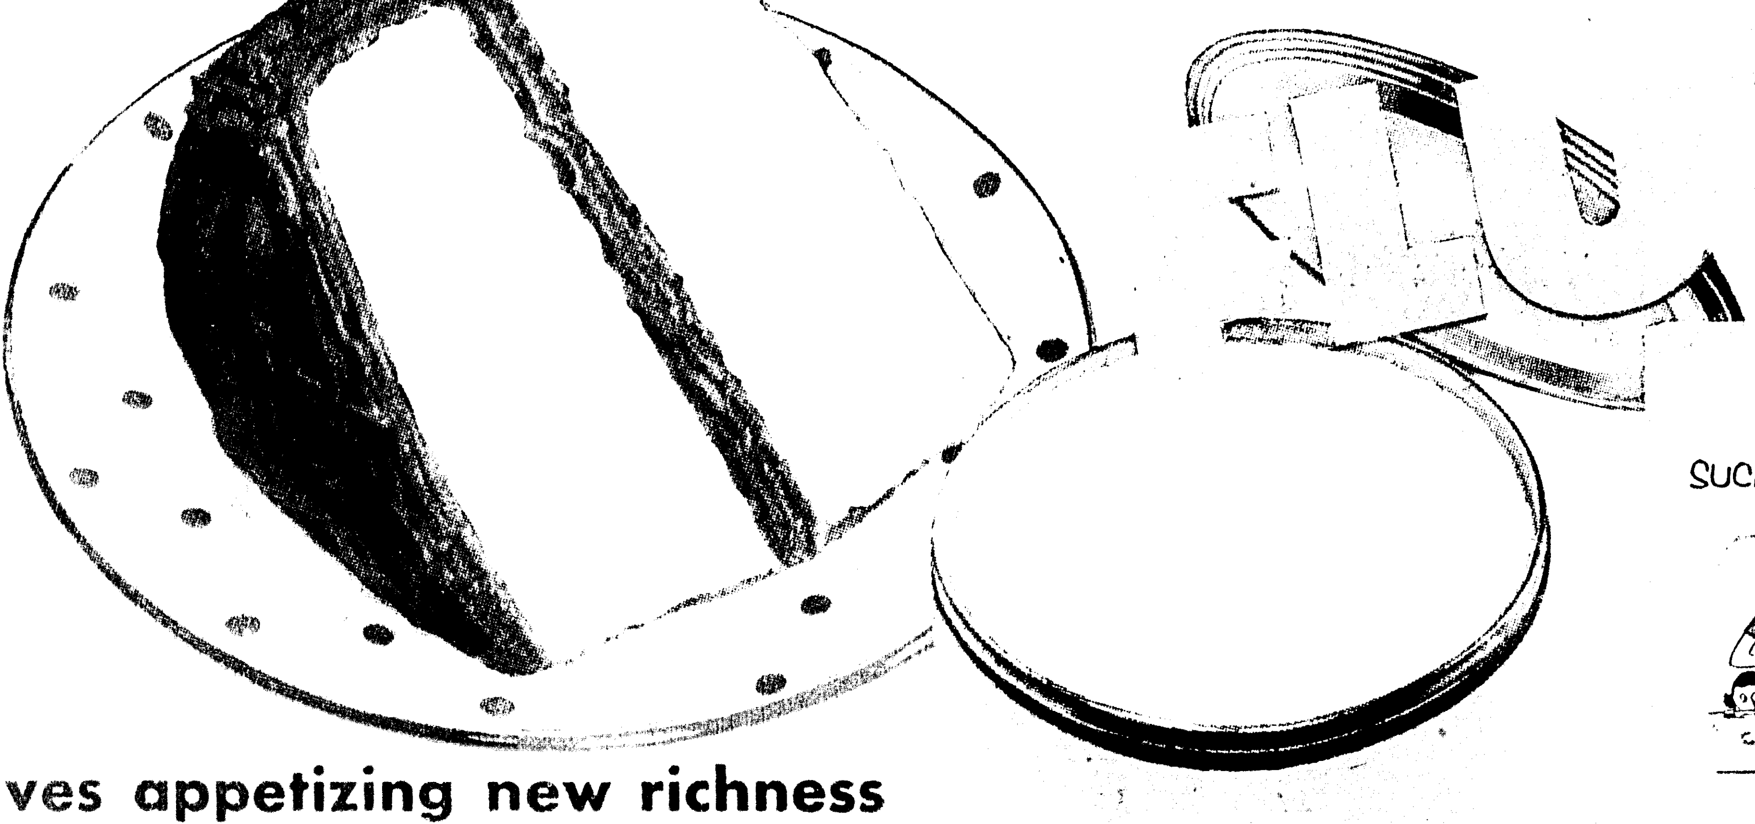
IT'S NEW! IT'S GOLDEN-YELLOW!

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S FABULOUS Golden



Gives appetizing new richness to everything you bake or fry!

NOW COMES a completely different shortening . . . Procter & Gamble's Fluffo . . . golden yellow from pure, wholesome carotene. It's a wonderfully rich shortening — made by an entirely new process! And it makes everything you cook look and taste so much better.

Look at Fluffo! How creamy it is . . . how wonderfully rich-looking!

Blend it! Feel Fluffo's creamy richness blend into velvety-smooth cake batter!

Bake with it! Never — till now — could you get such high, fine-textured, golden-rich cakes. So light and delicate. Such rich-tasting, golden-brown piecrust, too!

Fry with Fluffo! Get flavorful, golden-brown "fries" never before possible.

Fluffo is different. It does things no other shortening can do! Get a can. It's available in most areas. Discover how it gives appetizing new richness to everything you bake or fry.

such delicious, fluffy, golden-rich cakes!

Make this FLUFFO SUNBURST CAKE
this easy way

A sheer delight — when topped with creamy-rich Chocolate Frosting made with Fluffo.

2½ cups sifted cake flour 1⅔ cups sugar 1 teaspoon salt 3½ tsp. double-acting baking powder	Combine in mixing bowl.
⅔ cup Fluffo ¾ cup milk	Add and beat for 2 minutes by hand or with an electric mixer at medium speed. Scrape mixing bowl frequently during mixing.
3 eggs ½ cup milk 1 teaspoon vanilla	Add and beat for another 2 minutes by hand or with an electric mixer at medium speed.
Two 9" layer pans (1½" deep) rubbed with Fluffo or lined with paper.	Pour batter into pans and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 35 minutes.

IMPORTANT! Use golden Fluffo in all your shortening recipes—without changing a single measurement! It gives superb results to every cake—white, yellow or chocolate.

YOUR UNCLE JAKE IS COMING TO VISIT US?
THAT'S WHAT THIS TELEGRAM SAYS. I HAVEN'T SEEN HIM SINCE I WAS A LITTLE TYKE AND HE WAS A VERY WEALTHY TYCOON.
THEY'S SOME OLD GUY HERE TO SEE YOU, EMMY.
OH, MY STARS! I DIDN'T EXPECT UNCLE JAKE SO SOON.
WELL, BLESS YOUR HEART!
NOW TELL ME WHAT YOU'VE BEEN DOING ALL THESE YEARS.
TO RENT THE ROOM YOU'RE ADVERTISING, LADY, IS THAT NECESSARY?
THEN YOU AIN'T MY UNCLE JAKE? WELL, JEST WAIT A MINUTE TILL I TIDY UP THE ROOM A BIT.
SAY, STUPID! YOU KNOW BETTER'N TO BE STINKIN' UP TH' PARLOR WITH THEM PUNK CIGARS.

GEE! I THOUGHT YOU WAS MY HUSBAND. HERE, TAKE A SNORT OF THIS AND YOU'LL FEEL BETTER.
BLUB!
YOU BETTER BEAT IT, BUD. ME BRUDDER MOON SLIPPED A MICKEY FINN IN THAT BOTTLE TO CATCH WHO'S BEEN SNITCHIN' DRINKS OUTTA IT.
THAT OLD GUY? I DON'T KNOW WHERE HE WENT, EMMY. HE BEAT IT, AND SAID HE WOULDN'T LIVE IN THIS DUMP IF YOU GAVE IT TO HIM.

SURELY WE WILL GO WITH YOU TO YOUR PEOPLE.
WHY SHOULD YOU GO WITH ME? HERE, YOU HAVE WEALTHY FAMILIES... THEY WILL FIND NEW HUSBANDS FOR BOTH OF YOU.
I HAVE NO MORE SONS TO BE YOUR HUSBANDS... I HAVE CAUSED YOU ENOUGH GRIEF BECAUSE THE LORD'S HAND IS AGAINST ME... RETURN TO YOUR PARENTS' HOMES.
ALL... ALL RIGHT, NAOMI!
THAT IS A GOOD CHILD, ORPAH.
GO WITH YOUR SISTER-IN-LAW, RUTH ...BACK TO YOUR PEOPLE...
ASK ME NOT TO LEAVE YOU... NOT TO FOLLOW AFTER YOU—FOR WHERE YOU GO, I WILL GO... AND WHERE YOU LIVE, I WILL LIVE.
YOUR PEOPLE SHALL BE MY PEOPLE AND YOUR GOD MY GOD.
WHERE YOU DIE, I WILL DIE... AND THERE I WILL BE BURIED. THE LORD DO SO TO ME AND MORE ALSO, IF ANYTHING BUT DEATH PART YOU AND ME.

NEXT WEEK- A NEW STORY THE LITTLE CAPTIVE MAID...

AFTER THE TRAGIC DEATHS OF HER HUSBAND AND TWO SONS, NAOMI BEGINS HER SAD RETURN TO BETHLEHEM... BUT RUTH AND ORPAH FOLLOW AFTER HER...

Portions of this story, included to show every-day life and customs of ancient times, have been based on historical research. These portions, though unrecorded in the Bible, are not contrary to, nor do they change in any way, the biblical account which may be read in the book of RUTH, Chap. 1:1-17.

SO, WITH NO THOUGHT FOR HER OWN WELFARE, RUTH CHOOSES A STRANGE COUNTRY AND AN UNCERTAIN FUTURE — PREPARED TO DEVOTE HER YOUNG LIFE IN CARING FOR NAOMI...

... THIS PURE, UNSELFISH LOVE DISPLAYED BY RUTH.. — WHAT BETTER EMOTION COULD THE WORLD ASK FOR IN THE GIRL DESTINED TO BECOME ANCESTRESS OF THE HOUSE OF DAVID... THE WOMAN WHOM THE DISTANT FUTURE WOULD CLAIM AS THE EARTHLY ANCESTRESS OF — JESUS OF NAZARETH!

YOUR UNCLE JAKE IS COMING TO VISIT US?
THAT'S WHAT THIS TELEGRAM SAYS. I HAVEN'T SEEN HIM SINCE I WAS A LITTLE TYKE AND HE WAS A VERY WEALTHY TYCOON.
THEY'S SOME OLD GUY HERE TO SEE YOU, EMMY.
OH, MY STARS! I DIDN'T EXPECT UNCLE JAKE SO SOON.
WELL, BLESS YOUR HEART!
NOW TELL ME WHAT YOU'VE BEEN DOING ALL THESE YEARS.
TO RENT THE ROOM YOU'RE ADVERTISING, LADY, IS THAT NECESSARY?
THEN YOU AIN'T MY UNCLE JAKE? WELL, JEST WAIT A MINUTE TILL I TIDY UP THE ROOM A BIT.
SAY, STUPID! YOU KNOW BETTER'N TO BE STINKIN' UP TH' PARLOR WITH THEM PUNK CIGARS.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copr. 1955 by News Syndicate Co. Inc.
ZOP!
GEE! I THOUGHT YOU WAS MY HUSBAND. HERE, TAKE A SNORT OF THIS AND YOU'LL FEEL BETTER.
BLUB!
YOU BETTER BEAT IT, BUD. ME BRUDDER MOON SLIPPED A MICKEY FINN IN THAT BOTTLE TO CATCH WHO'S BEEN SNITCHIN' DRINKS OUTTA IT.
THAT OLD GUY? I DON'T KNOW WHERE HE WENT, EMMY. HE BEAT IT, AND SAID HE WOULDN'T LIVE IN THIS DUMP IF YOU GAVE IT TO HIM.

WHAT'S THIS?... "...IF IT TAKES 15 MEN FIVE HOURS TO PLOW A FIELD, HOW LONG WOULD IT TAKE 30 MEN TO PLOW IT?"
THAT'S SILLY! ANYBODY'D KNOW IT WOULDN'T BE ANY SENSE IN DOING THAT-
--AFTER 15 MEN HAD ALREADY PLOWED IT.

I'M GOING TO HIT THE TRAIL AND BRING BACK THAT GUN SMUGGLER — SPUD WILL TAKE CARE OF YOU, SIR —
YES — I COULDN'T SIT IN THE SADDLE VERY LONG —
I WANT YOU TO —
YESSIR, I'M ALL READY TO GO WITH TIM, SARGE !
WATCH OUT FOR ANOTHER AMBUSH — SEPARATE AND APPROACH HIM FROM TWO SIDES !
WE SHOULD CATCH UP TO OUR MAN IN A COUPLE OF HOURS, SPUD — CRACK !
WHEEL OFF ! GOTTA GET IT BACK ON — AND QUICK ! ONCE I GET BEYOND THIS ROCKY COUNTRY, I'LL MEET UP WITH SOME FRIENDLY NATIVES !
IF BURJETT GETS THOSE RIFLES TO THE KILO TRIBESMEN, THEY'LL SURELY START A REIGN OF TERROR OVER THE LAND, TIM....
